High Court To Review Ballot Case

Wallace Vs. Ohio Among First Set For New Session

WASHINGTON (AP) — The tranquil ceremony opening the Supreme Court's new term today stands in contrast to the explosive cases on its docket and the controversy over President Johnson's unsuccessful attempt to make Abe Fortas chief justice.

The high court faces a session accented by the pleas of demonstrators and dissenters, and an opportunity for the court to extend its activism into a new area—the plight of the poor.

The court also will be acting under the shadow of the scrutiny cast on its decisions during the Senate fight which killed Johnson's move to elevate Fortas from being an associated justice into the spot now held by Earl Warren.

The political campaign also has been thrust at the court, exemplified by third-party presidential candidate George C. Wallace's statement that Warren "hasn't got enough legal sense to try a chicken thief in Alabama."

Wallace Case Due

Ironically, the first case to be heard by the court centers on Wallace's bid for the White House. His lawyers are trying to compel Ohio to put Wallace's name on the ballot next month. The state counters that he did not comply with election laws.

The remainder of the week will be devoted to a series of private conferences. Next Monday the Court will begin to announce rulings and will start a round of hearings.

Bomb Or Not To Bomb?

Senators Split On Vietnam War Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — At least half the Senate favors one plan or another to halt U.S. bombing of North Vietnam.

Twenty-seven senators of the 85 who responded to an Associated Press survey said they favor an unconditional bombing halt. They are opposed by 18 senators who said there should be no further bombing reduction in the current stage of the war.

In between were 23 senators who said they would insist on some matching action by Hanoi, either in reducing the level of the fighting or in compromises at the bargaining table in Paris.

The 18 who oppose any reduction of the air predicted that a bombing halt would result in wholesale military infiltration from the North and stepped up, costly ground action in the South by Communist units taking advantage of a toothless American air dragon.

The senators who said they want the bombing halted unconditionally—at least on an experimental basis—maintained it would be an acceptable risk in an all-out attempt to end the fighting.

The AP survey was conducted after the flurry of congressional and political debate sparked by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's Sept. 30 Vietnam policy speech.

Humphrey said that as president he would consider stopping all bombing "as an acceptable risk for peace." He said that before acting he would "place key importance on evidence—direct or indirect, by deed or word—of Communist willingness to restore the demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam."

He said that should the Hanoi government "show bad faith, I would reserve the right to resume the bombing."

All senators contacted were asked: "Do you presently favor a halt in the bombing of North Vietnam, either unconditionally or predicated on Hanoi's advance assurances of a reciprocal gesture?"

Seventeen of those contacted declined to comment. Fifteen others—many of them on the campaign trail—could not be reached.

Two remarks appeared to indicate the depth of division still remaining in the Senate which, if the issue arose, might be consulted by the White House but would have no direct policy making role.

"I would favor an unconditional bombing halt with no ifs, ands or buts," said Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I. "I would also reserve the option to resume the bombing if they show any signs of taking military advantage of it."

"I think Vice President Humphrey's approach—with its ifs, ands and buts and hopefully reciprocal signs from Hanoi—will do nothing but muddy the waters, is too hypothetical for a stable response from Hanoi and really serves no useful purpose," declared Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah.

Aides to Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., referred reporters to position papers issued this summer by McCarthy when —as a candidate for his party's presidential nomination—he became the leading symbol of those determined to end the war.

McCarthy proposed then an unconditional bombing halt as part of a total program to end the fighting and bring stability to the area.

Parallel proposals, differing somewhat in emphasis and detail, have been forwarded by Sens. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and George S. McGovern, D-S.D.

On the other side of the issue in Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., who said he favors "turning the Vietnam matter over to the military and giving it a free hand."

Final Okay Of Congress Anticipated

Administration's New Program Hit By Sharp Slashes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today cut deeply from the administration's request for funds to launch its new low-income housing program, and to expand the food stamp program.

Also sharply trimmed by the committee were requests for money to enable the administration to enforce the new open housing law, and for a juvenile delinquency control program.

The cuts were made in the final appropriations bill of the year, which the committee reduced from $270 million requested by the administration to $101 million.

In a report accompanying the bill, the committee said it "is not impressed with the urgency of all the programs and has provided only for those that are most important."

Action Due Tuesday

The House, scheduled to take the bill up Tuesday, is likely to go along with nearly all the recommended cuts.

Chief casualties were the food stamp program, which Congress recently expanded, and the new housing program designed to increase home ownership among low and moderate income families and make more rental housing available to them.

President Johnson asked for $90 million in additional funds for the food stamp program, which helps poor families get more food for their money.

Congress recently authorized that much of an increase, but the committee trimmed the appropriation itself to $20 million. The funds would be in addition to $225 million already appropriated for this fiscal year.

Under the new housing program the federal government helps pay the interest costs on building low-income housing.

Johnson asked for $11.5 million, sufficient to contract for $150 million worth of such housing this year, but the committee recommended spending only $5 million, which would limit contract authority to $60 million.

For enforcing the open housing provision of the new civil rights law enacted this year, Johnson asked for $8 million for the Department of Housing and

Little Resistance Reported

New Offensive Launched By Allied Forces In Viet

SAIGON (AP) — Thousands of allied troops scoured the battle-scarred mountain valleys near Khe Sanh and the jungled foothills southwest of Da Nang today in new offensives aimed at spoiling enemy attacks.

Task forces of U.S. Marines and American and South Vietnamese infantrymen met little resistance, but continued to turn up valuable enemy munitions stockpiles.

One stockpile found two miles below the center portion of the demilitarized zone yielded 200 rounds of 152mm artillery ammunition plus 10 fuses. This indicated that the enemy may be planning to move big Russian-made guns into the South. The 152s can fire a 90-pound missile 10.5 miles.

U.S. Planes Downed

Military spokesmen, in delayed reports, announced the loss of four more American aircraft to enemy ground fire over the past three days.

They included an observation plane and a reconnaissance helicopter helping the allied ground troops search for the enemy, a Navy A7 Corsair fighter-bomber downed over North Vietnam, and an assault helicopter hit near the Cambodian border northwest of Saigon.

One of the observation planes was shot down Sunday 500 yards south of the abandoned Marine base at Khe Sanh. The pilot and artillery observer were unhurt.

Sweep Started

The Marines returned to Khe Sanh over the weekend in a new offensive sweep through the one-time fortress, three months after giving it up for what the U.S. Command said was more flexibility and mobility.

The Marines apparently acted on intelligence reports that North Vietnamese troops had moved into Khe Sanh, but the Leathernecks went in unopposed. A U.S. spokesman said they don't plan to stay.

Khe Sanh underwent a 77-day enemy siege earlier this year, but Marines held out until it was lifted early in April by a relief force.

The A7 Corsair from the carrier Constellation was downed Sunday just below the 19th parallel bombing boundary for American pilots. The pilot, Lt. George M. Biery II, of Fremont, Calif., parachuted and was picked up five miles offshore by a rescue helicopter. He suffered minor injuries.

It was the 905th American warplane announced as downed in more than 3½ years of bombing North Vietnam.

In raids over North Vietnam's southern panhandle Sunday, American pilots logged 129 missions. They reported destroying or damaging 39 supply boats and 19 trucks ferrying war material into the South. Eleven antiaircraft sites also were reported smashed.

Prison Camp Located

The U.S. Navy announced that a South Vietnamese woman led Navy commandos and government troops to a Viet Cong prison camp in the Mekong Delta where her husband and 23 other Vietnamese prisoners, including civilians and soldiers, were held.

A spokesman said the allied forces overran the camp Sunday and freed the prisoners. The camp was on Con Coc Island at the mouth of the Bassac River, 77 miles southwest of Saigon.

Commenting on the new allied offensive sweeps in the northernmost 1st Military Corps, a top U.S. officer said that's where the biggest threat now appears to exist. Up to five North Vietnamese divisions, perhaps as many as 50,000 troops, threaten South Vietnam's five northernmost provinces below the 17th parallel demilitarized zone.

The officer said two to three North Vietnamese regiments are around Da Nang, South Vietnam's second largest city and major military base north of Saigon, and Thuong Duc, the embattled Special Forces camp 30 miles southwest of Da Nang. An enemy regiment numbers anywhere from 2,500 to 3,000 troops.

Drive Started Saturday

The operation at Khe Sanh was launched Saturday but the U.S. Command did not announce it until today for security reasons.

HHH Begins Campaign In Pennsylvania

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey said today that as the presidential campaign moves along "more and more people are getting fed up" with the tactics of his two rivals.

Opening a three-city swing through Pennsylvania's industrial heartland, the Democratic presidential nominee said, "I've noticed that more and more people are getting fed up with Mr. Nixon and Mr. Wallace and their tactics to win the presidency."

He said he thinks he knows as much as the pollsters about what is on people's minds and "the people—and not the pollsters nor anybody else" will pick a president.

Talks Set On Soviet Commitments

Czechs Fear Dubcek's Regime Nearing An End

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovaks fear that the Dubcek regime's program to liberalize and reform communism is nearing an end.

Ruling bodies of the Czechoslovak Communist party today planned a series of meetings to discuss the commitments forced by the Soviet Union at talks in Moscow Thursday and Friday with party chief Alexander Dubcek and Premier Oldrich Cernik. An informal gathering of party leaders was expected to be followed by a session of the 21-member presidium and finally a meeting of the 160-member central committee.

Red Alternatives

Communists said the alternatives are:

—To continue the policy of seeking accommodation with Moscow, agree to semipermanent stationing of occupation troops in Czechoslovakia, and salvage as much as possible of the "post January" program to make communism more humane and democratic.

—To balk and give the Soviets the same choice they had after invading the country Aug. 20—21, that is, formation of a military government to rule Czechoslovakia.

Some Communists advanced a theory that it might be better for the country if the Dubcek regime resigned instead of losing its popularity by letting itself be used to carry out Soviet policy.

In the Czechoslovak-Soviet statement issued as they returned from Moscow, Dubcek and Cernik agreed to sign a treaty to legalize "temporary" stationing of part of the estimated 500,000 occupation troops in Czechoslovakia. The rest would be pulled out by stages.

The Czechoslovak defense minister, Gen. Martin Dzur, said in a weekend interview he is convinced the majority would be gone by Oct. 28. One source told of conditional plans for a pullout to start Oct. 15 and run for about two months, with up to 12 divisions—or more than 150,000 Soviet soldiers—spending the winter here.

Only Concession

The wording of the communique and the obligations it listed for Czechoslovakia brought despair over the future of the reform policy.

Suggesting that Moscow demanded measures far tougher than those already taken to restore orthodox communism, the statement talked of action to place all press, radio and TV "at the service of socialism" and to "reinforce the party and state organs with men firmly adhering to positions of Marxism, Leninism and proletarian internationalism."

Asks Jail Renovation

Chertoff Denies Motion For Release Of Prisoner

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today denied a motion for release of Gary Ice, 22, of Ravine St., serving a 60 - day term in connection with assault on an officer Sept. 8, but added that he hopes responsible city authorities will correct "deplorable" conditions at the jail cited by the prisoner's counsel, Ben H. Berman.

The judge acted after hearing arguments on a motion which Berman filed Wednesday asserting that Ice's confinement is "not according to standards of justice" because of alleged conditions at the jail.

The judge remarked that Berman was, in effect, asking for release of all prisoners, because if the condition of the jail is not proper for confining Ice then it would not be proper for any other prisoner. He commended Berman for "shedding some light on conditions that need to be corrected" and said the attorney's motion "set a fire under people who have been apathetic."

Ice was sentenced to jail Sept. 25 in connection with an alleged assault on Patrolman Ronald Brookes. He is serving concurrent 30- and 60-day sentences on charges of assault and battery on the officer and resisting arrest.

Berman's motion sought the prisoner's release on the grounds that cells lack mattresses or bedding; there are no shower facilities; the jail is heated improperly; the conditions are "generally insanitary" and the food is "non-nutritious." It pointed out the Health Board

Trailer Demolished On Barrier At Bridge

The seven-foot height barrier on the Chester Bridge claimed another victim Saturday night—demolishing a house trailer towed by an Indiana man's auto.

Dwight E. Whitmore, 68, of Decatur RD 3 was driving east in a 1965 model pickup truck, towing the trailer, when it struck the barrier on the East Liverpool approach of the span, officers said.

The trailer was written off as a total loss. Patrolman J. W. Woods investigated the crash at 8.

Viet Leader Claims Hanoi Has 'Failed'

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu declared today the enemy has failed in every attempt to bring "disastrous consequences" to South Vietnam in 1968.

But he said that for peace to be realized the Hanoi regime must acknowledge its aggression and agree to abandon its attempts to take over South Vietnam.

"The most reasonable way to end this war is for both sides to scale down the level of hostilities leading gradually to a cease-fire effectively controlled and guaranteed," Thieu said in a speech to the National Assembly on the first anniversary of the creation of the body.

Speaking in the Senate chamber with Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky and Premier Tran Van Huong in attendance, Thieu emphasized that he believes South Vietnam is militarily and politically gaining the upper hand in the war.

"I reaffirm today that we will not concede any portion of our territory to the Communist aggressors, and we will not accept any form of coalition with the Communists," he said.

He said Hanoi had agreed to

BAGLEY, Minn. (AP)—People may not believe Herbert Pooch when he explains the damage to his car by saying "a plane landed on it," but that's what happened.

The 63 - year - old man was driving along a highway near here Sunday when he heard a noise and saw a propeller and wheels.

Will Attend NATO Session

Berlin Visit Of Clifford To Stress 'Tough' Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford intends his West Berlin visit this week to be a pointed reminder to the Soviet Union of U.S. determination to protect Western rights in that encircled city.

Clifford is scheduled to attend the Oct. 10-11 meeting of the NATO nuclear planning group in Bonn. This gives him the chance to go to Berlin, where he will inspect U.S. armed forces and tour the city, which stands 100 miles inside Communist East Germany.

Tough Policy Pushed

The Clifford visit fits in with a general pattern of a tough U.S. government attitude toward the Soviets in the wake of the Russian-led invasion of Czechoslovakia and subsequent threatening statements aimed at West Germany and West Berlin.

American authorities are concerned about a heavy movement of Russian troops into Central Europe, particularly some 17 divisions into Czechoslovakia.

It is the U.S. view that the stationing of highly combat-ready Russian troops in Czechoslovakia—where there were no

Nixon Costs In Campaign 'Very High'

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon's Republican presidential campaign is said by its managers to be proving the most expensive ever waged, with a price tag expected to run well over $20 million.

Nixon associates expect spending by both parties in the White House race to reach record levels. This is in part a product of inflation and in large measure the result of escalating outlays for television.

A series of interviews with Nixon assistants and advisers produced unanimity on one point: They consider their own campaign finances more substantial that those of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democratic nominee.

"We've caught on," said Robert Ellsworth, Nixon's political director. "Humphrey hasn't."

MERIDA, Mex. (AP) — A 35-year-old woman from Argentina, who said she found life in Mexico intolerable, hijacked a twin - engine turboprop airliner with 17 persons aboard Sunday and ordered the pilot to fly to Cuba.

Mexican authorities said the woman, identified as Judith Vazquez, entered the cockpit and pulled a gun from beneath a white shawl. The pilot, Captain Ricardo Eroza Troyo, said that after ordering him to fly to Cuba the woman said hysterically, "I'd rather be killed or jailed in Cuba than return to Mexico."

The incident took place as the Aeromaya plane flew over Mexico's Isla Mujueres, the "Isle of Women," on its way to Merida.

After seven hours in Havana, the plane, which carried 14 passengers including three Americans and a crew of three, returned to Merida Sunday night.

In addition to Mrs. Vazquez and her daughter, Silvia, 12, and a two-month-old son Ernesto, two unidentified women passengers remained in Havana. It could not be learned if they

The wording of the communique and the obligations it listed for Czechoslovakia brought despair over the future of the reform policy.

Suggesting that Moscow demanded measures far tougher than those already taken to restore orthodox communism, the statement talked of action to place all press, radio and TV "at the service of socialism" and to "reinforce the party and state organs with men firmly adhering to positions of Marxism, Leninism and proletarian internationalism."

HHH Begins Campaign In Pennsylvania

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey said today that as the presidential campaign moves along "more and more people are getting fed up" with the tactics of his two rivals.

Opening a three-city swing through Pennsylvania's industrial heartland, the Democratic presidential nominee said, "I've noticed that more and more people are getting fed up with Mr. Nixon and Mr. Wallace and their tactics to win the presidency."

He said he thinks he knows as much as the pollsters about what is on people's minds and "the people—and not the pollsters nor anybody else" will pick a president.

Humphrey's remarks were prepared for delivery at a downtown rally before he heads east to Scranton and Wilkes-Barre in

Asks Jail Renovation

Chertoff Denies Motion For Release Of Prisoner

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today denied a motion for release of Gary Ice, 22, of Ravine St., serving a 60 - day term in connection with assault on an officer Sept. 8, but added that he hopes responsible city authorities will correct "deplorable" conditions at the jail cited by the prisoner's counsel, Ben H. Berman.

The judge acted after hearing arguments on a motion which Berman filed Wednesday asserting that Ice's confinement is "not according to standards of justice" because of alleged conditions at the jail.

The judge remarked that Berman was, in effect, asking for release of all prisoners, because if the condition of the jail is not proper for confining Ice then it would not be proper for any other prisoner. He commended Berman for "shedding some light on conditions that need to be corrected" and said the attorney's motion "set a fire under people who have been apathetic."

Ice was sentenced to jail Sept. 25 in connection with an alleged assault on Patrolman Ronald Brookes. He is serving concurrent 30- and 60-day sentences on charges of assault and battery on the officer and resisting arrest.

Berman's motion sought the prisoner's release on the grounds that cells lack mattresses or bedding; there are no shower facilities; the jail is heated improperly; the conditions are "generally insanitary" and the food is "non-nutritious." It pointed out the Health Board

Trailer Demolished On Barrier At Bridge

The seven-foot height barrier on the Chester Bridge claimed another victim Saturday night—demolishing a house trailer towed by an Indiana man's auto.

Dwight E. Whitmore, 68, of Decatur RD 3 was driving east in a 1965 model pickup truck, towing the trailer, when it struck the barrier on the East Liverpool approach of the span, officers said.

The trailer was written off as a total loss. Patrolman J. W. Woods investigated the crash at 8.

Viet Leader Claims Hanoi Has 'Failed'

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu declared today the enemy has failed in every attempt to bring "disastrous consequences" to South Vietnam in 1968.

But he said that for peace to be realized the Hanoi regime must acknowledge its aggression and agree to abandon its attempts to take over South Vietnam.

"The most reasonable way to end this war is for both sides to scale down the level of hostilities leading gradually to a cease-fire effectively controlled and guaranteed," Thieu said in a speech to the National Assembly on the first anniversary of the creation of the body.

Speaking in the Senate chamber with Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky and Premier Tran Van Huong in attendance, Thieu emphasized that he believes South Vietnam is militarily and politically gaining the upper hand in the war.

"I reaffirm today that we will not concede any portion of our territory to the Communist aggressors, and we will not accept any form of coalition with the Communists," he said.

He said Hanoi had agreed to

Unexpected Passenger

BAGLEY, Minn. (AP)—People may not believe Herbert Pooch when he explains the damage to his car by saying "a plane landed on it," but that's what happened.

The 63 - year - old man was driving along a highway near here Sunday when he heard a noise and saw a propeller and wheels.

George Fletcher, 35, told authorities his small airplane developed engine trouble and he decided to land on the highway. While carefully watching oncoming traffic, he said, he failed to notice Pooch's car below him.

Neither man was hurt.

Will Attend NATO Session

Berlin Visit Of Clifford To Stress 'Tough' Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford intends his West Berlin visit this week to be a pointed reminder to the Soviet Union of U.S. determination to protect Western rights in that encircled city.

Clifford is scheduled to attend the Oct. 10-11 meeting of the NATO nuclear planning group in Bonn. This gives him the chance to go to Berlin, where he will inspect U.S. armed forces and tour the city, which stands 100 miles inside Communist East Germany.

Tough Policy Pushed

The Clifford visit fits in with a general pattern of a tough U.S. government attitude toward the Soviets in the wake of the Russian-led invasion of Czechoslovakia and subsequent threatening statements aimed at West Germany and West Berlin.

American authorities are concerned about a heavy movement of Russian troops into Central Europe, particularly some 17 divisions into Czechoslovakia.

It is the U.S. view that the stationing of highly combat-ready Russian troops in Czechoslovakia—where there were no

There May Be Fog, Weatherman Warns

Warning note to district motorists: There may be fog by morning.

So says the weatherman.

The forecast calls for clearing and cool tonight, with the fog a possibility later. It will be mostly sunny and warmer Tuesday.

Temperatures are expected to average near normal through Saturday, with highs in the middle 60s and lows in the middle 40s.

Nixon Costs In Campaign 'Very High'

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon's Republican presidential campaign is said by its managers to be proving the most expensive ever waged, with a price tag expected to run well over $20 million.

Nixon associates expect spending by both parties in the White House race to reach record levels. This is in part a product of inflation and in large measure the result of escalating outlays for television.

A series of interviews with Nixon assistants and advisers produced unanimity on one point: They consider their own campaign finances more substantial that those of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democratic nominee.

"We've caught on," said Robert Ellsworth, Nixon's political director. "Humphrey hasn't."

Key Financial Sources

All the signs of plentiful campaign funds are evident as the

Woman, 35, Uses Gun To Hijack Plane

MERIDA, Mex. (AP) — A 35-year-old woman from Argentina, who said she found life in Mexico intolerable, hijacked a twin - engine turboprop airliner with 17 persons aboard Sunday and ordered the pilot to fly to Cuba.

Mexican authorities said the woman, identified as Judith Vazquez, entered the cockpit and pulled a gun from beneath a white shawl. The pilot, Captain Ricardo Eroza Troyo, said that after ordering him to fly to Cuba the woman said hysterically, "I'd rather be killed or jailed in Cuba than return to Mexico."

The incident took place as the Aeromaya plane flew over Mexico's Isla Mujueres, the "Isle of Women," on its way to Merida.

After seven hours in Havana, the plane, which carried 14 passengers including three Americans and a crew of three, returned to Merida Sunday night.

In addition to Mrs. Vazquez and her daughter, Silvia, 12, and a two-month-old son Ernesto, two unidentified women passengers remained in Havana. It could not be learned if they

Loss Of $505 Seen In Entry Of City Home

A West End man told police property valued at $505 was taken from his home in a burglary Saturday night or early Sunday.

Ralph Buchanan of 233 W. 9th St. told officers an intruder entered while he was absent between 9:33 p.m. Saturday and 2 a.m. Sunday by forcing the front door.

The loss included a television set worth $75, a radio worth $80, a wristwatch valued at $250 and a necklace comprised of a gold cross and a diamond, valued at $100.

FIVE OTHER theft and vandalism cases were reported to police over the weekend.

John Wolfe, assistant street department superintendent, told officers lumber and other items were stolen Saturday night or Sunday from the site of construction work at the Ralston's Crossing underpass. The loss included 12 2-by-6 pieces of lumber 12 feet long, three 2-by-4's 14 feet long, a detour sign and three signs showing the street was closed, he said.

David Wooley and Donald Wilson, occupants of an apartment at 519½ Market St., told police early Sunday their home was entered by an intruder who forced a door. The loss included a transistor radio valued at $39 and owned by James Bowersock of 404 Elm St., two boxes of French fried potatoes, a half-pound of bologna and a half a loaf of bread, they said.

WILLIAM Johnson of 704 Oakland Ave. told police Saturday at 12:30 p.m. his outboard-powered boat had been stolen from the dock at the foot of Broadway, but the craft was located a short time later at the Chester City Park, across the river, officers said. The boat was valued at $3,600.

Audrey Brewer of Georgetown RD 1 reported to police Saturday afternoon three tarpaulins and a chain binder were stolen from his semi-trailer while it was parked on the River Rd. near the Chester Bridge. The theft may have occurred Monday or Tuesday, he said.

Maxine Clark of 1054 St. George St. told police Sunday afternoon nine knobs were stolen from the dashboard of her convertible Saturday night or Sunday morning while it was parked in her garage.

Boy Receives Blood From Chino Inmates

One inmate wrote to an old friend, saxophonist Cannonball Adderly, who gave a special concert at the prison Sunday. The only guests were Randy, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Shepphard of nearby Montclair, and the prisoners.

The concert didn't raise any funds, but the inmates said they thought it would spur interest in a campaign to raise thousands of dollars needed for hospital bills. Randy received one of his father's kidneys in a transplant operation at UCLA Medical center.

'Old Timers' Help Observe 50th Event

Everitt, who manages an income tax service at Girard, is 92 years old and his wife, Rosa, is 90. They will observe their 72nd wedding anniversary Dec. 19.

Camille Monac was installed as president of Girl Scout Troop 60 in candlelight ceremonies last week at Regan Hall in Midland.

Patrol officers installed include Camille Monac, leader, and Marie Matteo, assistant, Chef; Victoria Selepec, leader, and Odette Francis, assistant, Hostess; Maureen McGeehan, leader, and Mary Catherine Masters, assistant, Good Groomer.

Patrol leaders were presented gold cards, and members received Water Fun and Swimmer badges from troop leader, Mrs. William Monac Jr.

Plan To Replace Coroners Pushed

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Proposed plans to substitute a medical examiner system for the present county coroner setup received a big boost during the weekend from the chairman of the State Commission on Post-Mortem Examinations.

In a letter quoted by Gov. Hulett Smith, Dr. Richard Corbitt said he would not oppose an amendment to state law which would expedite the new system "if the other members of the commission agree."

The amendment would permit a non-medical administrative officer to run the program instead of a physician-pathologist as required by law.

Kanawha County Prosecutor Charles Walker, a vocal proponent of the program, says no one can be found to accept the $25,000-a-year medical post. He proposed the amendment to get the plan moving.

The chaneg would require an act by the January, 1969, legislature.

Also included in the tentative plans is a network of state morgues to handle autopsies which hospitals are leary of accepting.

Ohioan Leads Raid

SAIGON (AP) — An Ohio pilot led a flight to Corsairs from the carrier America Saturday which bombed bridges, causeways and roads in the North Vietnamese panhandle. Lt. James A. Neubauer of North Olmsted reported the targets included one recently constructed bypass bridge.

Grants Given For Concerts

Eight cultural appreciation grants to permit students to attend Youngstown Symphony Society concerts have been announced by County Judge Barry Dickson, president of the society.

The grants provide funds for transportation and admission of school youngsters, he explained. During the 1967-68 season, some 1,500 students attended six Saturday night concerts at Stambaugh Auditorium.

Because of the success of the program, last year's donors and additional ones have granted over 400 season tickets for the 1968-69 season, enabling 2,400 students to attend the six sparkling concerts.

The grantors and the participating school districts are: Union Commercial & Savings Bank and East Palestine Savings & Loan (East Palestine City Schools); New Waterford Bank (Fairfield - New Waterford District); O. T. Beight & Sons (Unity Elementary School); Mrs. George L. Jackson Sr. and Mrs. Michael S. Schnell (Salem City Schools); Judge Dickson (Columbiana Exempted Village), and Women's Committee for Children's Concerts (Youngstown City, Parochial, and Mahoning County Schools).

Attendance at the regular concerts of the season will be in addition to the traditional "children concerts" held each spring by the orchestra and which draw over 45,000 youngsters each year.

The season's concerts will begin Saturday with Giorgio Tozzi, bass-baritone, as guest artist.

Other performances are Mischa Mischakoff, violinist, Nov. 2; Gary Graffman,, pianist, Nov. 30; Nutcracker Ballet, Dec. 14 (Extra series concert); James Oliver Buswell IV, violinist, Feb. 15; Jerome Lowenthal, pianist, March 29; King David oratorio, Milton Cross, narrator, May 3.

Two Await Hearings In Speeding Charges

SALINEVILLE — Police Chief Gordon Sweeney cited Nancy Lee Brandonisio, 25, of Maple Hill, for traveling 55 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone on Route 644 within the village Saturday.

On Sunday, Jerry E. Smith, 35, of Pleasant Valley Rd., Wellsville, was cited for driving 60 miles in a 25-mile zone on E. Main St.

Hearings on the speeding charges are scheduled for Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in Mayor Dwayne Felton's court.

Song Festival Won By Brazil Composers

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — "Sabia," composed by Brazil's Antonio Carlos Jobim and Chico Buarque, was judged the winner today of Rio de Janeiro's third annual International Song Festival. Sabia means thrush.

Second was Canada's "This Crazy World Is Coming Undone," composed and sung by Paul Anka.

Bizarre Mishap

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) — Richard Hinzo, 26, escaped serious injury in a collision Sunday in which the other motorist, Roy Stevens, 48, was killed. As ambulance attendants removed the body, Hinzo—standing beside wreckage of his car on the railroad tracks—was struck and killed by a passing freight train.

96 Injured By Fighting In Ireland

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — A weekend of bloody outbursts in Londonderry by nationalists against the government of Northern Ireland injured 96 demonstrators, police and bystanders, officials reported.

Shopkeepers in Northern Ireland's second largest city worked into the night Sunday in streets littered with stones to replace windows smashed in the clashes between police and demonstrators.

Six policemen and a fireman were hurt in the skirmishes.

Demonstrators threw stones and police in steel helmets, supported by a water cannon, broke up a crowd of 800 with a baton charge.

The violence erupted with nationalists charging discrimination against Northern Ireland's Roman Catholic minority. Most Catholics under the northern Ulster government want to unite with the Irish Republic to the south.

Demonstrators began Saturday with a civil rights march protesting alleged abuses against Catholics in housing, employment and voting regulations.

Thirty demonstrators, including a member of Parliament, were hurt in clashes Saturday afternoon. The list of injured tripled Sunday and included three children.

Charges of police brutality were raised and the government in London was asked to hold an inquiry. The British government, however, handles defense and foreign relations for Northern Ireland but leaves police matters in Irish hands.

Golden Age Club Sets Committee For Nominations

A nominating committee was named when the Golden Age Club of the Chester area met Friday afternoon in the Westminster United Presbyterian Church.

School Removes LeMay's Portrait

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — South High School removed a portrait of retired Air Force Gen. Curtis E. LeMay soon after he was named to become George C. Wallace's running mate, the principal said.

The portrait had hung for several years at South High, LeMay's alma mater.

The principal of the predominantly Negro school, Harold Washburn, said the picture was removed at the request of several students. He said the students did not want LeMay's picture hanging in the school because he was running with a man who is "an avowed racist."

Realtors Will Meet

Boy Claimed In Cleveland Rescue Try

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A 12-year-old West Side boy died early Sunday attempting to rescue other boys he thought were trapped in a burning building.

The boy, Phillip E. Johnson, had been staying with a friend, Michael J. Peak, 13, and was upstairs in the Peak home on West 54th Street when the fire broke out.

Michael said Phillip woke him up then went downstairs to alert Michael's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar J Peak, and four other children.

Michael, acting on long-standing instructions from his father, got his twin brothers, Terry and Ricky, 8, and them from an upstairs porch, then jumped to safety.

Phillip, not knowing that the others were safe, rushed back upstairs.

The elder Peak said he tried to go after him but passed out in the heat and smoke. He was treated at Lutheran Hospital for arm burns and a back sprain.

Peak's daughter, Brenda, 15, said she called for Phillip to jump, but he shouted back, "I can't, I can't."

It was the last that was heard from the youth. The body was found in an upstairs bedroom.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy G. Montgomery of 1826 W. 48th St.

The '69 Ford is the car that's creating all the talk. You ought to know the reasons.

The '69 Ford hugs the road with a track as wide as Cadillac... smooths your ride with a longer wheelbase than Chevrolet. This '69 LTD is designed to ride quieter than the LTD that was quieter than Rolls-Royce. It has more front headroom, legroom and trunk space than cars costing hundreds of dollars more. Even with a longer wheelbase, it's easier to handle, easier to park.

A West End man told police property valued at $505 was taken from his home in a burglary Saturday night or early Sunday.

Ralph Buchanan of 233 W. 9th St. told officers an intruder entered while he was absent between 9:33 p.m. Saturday and 2 a.m. Sunday by forcing the front door.

The loss included a television set worth $75, a radio worth $80, a wristwatch valued at $250 and a necklace comprised of a gold cross and a diamond, valued at $100.

FIVE OTHER theft and vandalism cases were reported to police over the weekend.

John Wolfe, assistant street department superintendent, told officers lumber and other items were stolen Saturday night or Sunday from the site of construction work at the Ralston's Crossing underpass. The loss included 12 2-by-6 pieces of lumber 12 feet long, three 2-by-4's 14 feet long, a detour sign and three signs showing the street was closed, he said.

David Wooley and Donald Wilson, occupants of an apartment at 519½ Market St., told police early Sunday their home was entered by an intruder who forced a door. The loss included a transistor radio valued at $39 and owned by James Bowersock of 404 Elm St., two boxes of French fried potatoes, a half-pound of bologna and a half a loaf of bread, they said.

WILLIAM Johnson of 704 Oakland Ave. told police Saturday at 12:30 p.m. his outboard-powered boat had been stolen from the dock at the foot of Broadway, but the craft was located a short time later at the Chester City Park, across the river, officers said. The boat was valued at $3,600.

Audrey Brewer of Georgetown RD 1 reported to police Saturday afternoon three tarpaulins and a chain binder were stolen from his semi-trailer while it was parked on the River Rd. near the Chester Bridge. The theft may have occurred Monday or Tuesday, he said.

Maxine Clark of 1054 St. George St. told police Sunday afternoon nine knobs were stolen from the dashboard of her convertible Saturday night or Sunday morning while it was parked in her garage.

Boy Receives Blood From Chino Inmates

One inmate wrote to an old friend, saxophonist Cannonball Adderly, who gave a special concert at the prison Sunday. The only guests were Randy, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Shepphard of nearby Montclair, and the prisoners.

The concert didn't raise any funds, but the inmates said they thought it would spur interest in a campaign to raise thousands of dollars needed for hospital bills. Randy received one of his father's kidneys in a transplant operation at UCLA Medical center.

'Old Timers' Help Observe 50th Event

OLATHE, Kan. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Everitt of Girard, Kan., helped their daughter, Mrs. Fred Banks, observe her 50th wedding anniversary Sunday.

Everitt, who manages an income tax service at Girard, is 92 years old and his wife, Rosa, is 90. They will observe their 72nd wedding anniversary Dec. 19.

Girl Scout News Items

Camille Monac was installed as president of Girl Scout Troop 60 in candlelight ceremonies last week at Regan Hall in Midland.

Patrol officers installed include Camille Monac, leader, and Marie Matteo, assistant, Chef; Victoria Selepec, leader, and Odette Francis, assistant, Hostess; Maureen McGeehan, leader, and Mary Catherine Masters, assistant, Good Groomer.

Patrol leaders were presented gold cards, and members received Water Fun and Swimmer badges from troop leader, Mrs. William Monac Jr.

Plan To Replace Coroners Pushed

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Proposed plans to substitute a medical examiner system for the present county coroner setup received a big boost during the weekend from the chairman of the State Commission on Post-Mortem Examinations.

In a letter quoted by Gov. Hulett Smith, Dr. Richard Corbitt said he would not oppose an amendment to state law which would expedite the new system "if the other members of the commission agree."

The amendment would permit a non-medical administrative officer to run the program instead of a physician-pathologist as required by law.

Kanawha County Prosecutor Charles Walker, a vocal proponent of the program, says no one can be found to accept the $25,000-a-year medical post. He proposed the amendment to get the plan moving.

The chaneg would require an act by the January, 1969, legislature.

Also included in the tentative plans is a network of state morgues to handle autopsies which hospitals are leary of accepting.

Ohioan Leads Raid

SAIGON (AP) — An Ohio pilot led a flight to Corsairs from the carrier America Saturday which bombed bridges, causeways and roads in the North Vietnamese panhandle. Lt. James A. Neubauer of North Olmsted reported the targets included one recently constructed bypass bridge.

Grants Given For Concerts

Eight cultural appreciation grants to permit students to attend Youngstown Symphony Society concerts have been announced by County Judge Barry Dickson, president of the society.

The grants provide funds for transportation and admission of school youngsters, he explained. During the 1967-68 season, some 1,500 students attended six Saturday night concerts at Stambaugh Auditorium.

Because of the success of the program, last year's donors and additional ones have granted over 400 season tickets for the 1968-69 season, enabling 2,400 students to attend the six sparkling concerts.

The grantors and the participating school districts are: Union Commercial & Savings Bank and East Palestine Savings & Loan (East Palestine City Schools); New Waterford Bank (Fairfield - New Waterford District); O. T. Beight & Sons (Unity Elementary School); Mrs. George L. Jackson Sr. and Mrs. Michael S. Schnell (Salem City Schools); Judge Dickson (Columbiana Exempted Village), and Women's Committee for Children's Concerts (Youngstown City, Parochial, and Mahoning County Schools).

Attendance at the regular concerts of the season will be in addition to the traditional "children concerts" held each spring by the orchestra and which draw over 45,000 youngsters each year.

The season's concerts will begin Saturday with Giorgio Tozzi, bass-baritone, as guest artist.

Other performances are Mischa Mischakoff, violinist, Nov. 2; Gary Graffman,, pianist, Nov. 30; Nutcracker Ballet, Dec. 14 (Extra series concert); James Oliver Buswell IV, violinist, Feb. 15; Jerome Lowenthal, pianist, March 29; King David oratorio, Milton Cross, narrator, May 3.

Two Await Hearings In Speeding Charges

SALINEVILLE — Police Chief Gordon Sweeney cited Nancy Lee Brandonisio, 25, of Maple Hill, for traveling 55 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone on Route 644 within the village Saturday.

On Sunday, Jerry E. Smith, 35, of Pleasant Valley Rd., Wellsville, was cited for driving 60 miles in a 25-mile zone on E. Main St.

Hearings on the speeding charges are scheduled for Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in Mayor Dwayne Felton's court.

Song Festival Won By Brazil Composers

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — "Sabia," composed by Brazil's Antonio Carlos Jobim and Chico Buarque, was judged the winner today of Rio de Janeiro's third annual International Song Festival. Sabia means thrush.

Second was Canada's "This Crazy World Is Coming Undone," composed and sung by Paul Anka.

'Mary," by the U.S. composers Nelson Riddle and Norman Guimble, was third.

Bizarre Mishap

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) — Richard Hinzo, 26, escaped serious injury in a collision Sunday in which the other motorist, Roy Stevens, 48, was killed. As ambulance attendants removed the body, Hinzo—standing beside wreckage of his car on the railroad tracks—was struck and killed by a passing freight train.

96 Injured By Fighting In Ireland

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — A weekend of bloody outbursts in Londonderry by nationalists against the government of Northern Ireland injured 96 demonstrators, police and bystanders, officials reported.

Shopkeepers in Northern Ireland's second largest city worked into the night Sunday in streets littered with stones to replace windows smashed in the clashes between police and demonstrators.

Six policemen and a fireman were hurt in the skirmishes.

Demonstrators threw stones and police in steel helmets, supported by a water cannon, broke up a crowd of 800 with a baton charge.

Crowds of teen-agers smashed windows in the central part of the city and a police car was hit by a firebomb.

The violence erupted with nationalists charging discrimination against Northern Ireland's Roman Catholic minority. Most Catholics under the northern Ulster government want to unite with the Irish Republic to the south.

Demonstrations began Saturday with a civil rights march protesting alleged abuses against Catholics in housing, employment and voting regulations.

Thirty demonstrators, including a member of Parliament, were hurt in clashes Saturday afternoon. The list of injured tripled Sunday and included three children.

Charges of police brutality were raised and the government in London was asked to hold an inquiry. The British government, however, handles defense and foreign relations for Northern Ireland but leaves police matters in Irish hands.

Golden Age Club Sets Committee For Nominations

A nominating committee was named when the Golden Age Club of the Chester area met Friday afternoon in the Westminster United Presbyterian Church.

Harry Davis presented a reaing.

Devotions were conducted by Lester Lutton, president, who also presided.

Mrs. Anna Curry was accompanist for group singing.

Mrs. Bertha Magnone was appointed chairman of a flower fund and plans were made to attend a public dinner Wednesday at the Mt. Olivet United Presbyterian Church near Mechanicsburg, Pa.

Mrs. Ola Weaver reported $385 netted from a recent rummage sale.

Mrs. Helen Hobbs received the corsage and Mrs. Sara Weltner a bouquet of dahlias. Members observing birthdays during July, August and September were recognized.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Alta Sherry, Mrs. Marie Pugh and Mrs. Jessie Looman. The group will meet again Friday at 1:30 p. m. in the church.

Mrs. Richard Seville of the Elkton-Signal Rd. entertained her 500 club Thursday night, with prizes going to Mrs. Lillian Armson, a guest, Mrs. Lenore Huff and Mrs. Lucille Doll. Mrs. Virginia Urmson was also a guest.

School Removes LeMay's Portrait

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — South High School removed a portrait of retired Air Force Gen. Curtis E. LeMay soon after he was named to become George C. Wallace's running mate, the principal said.

The portrait had hung for several years at South High, LeMay's alma mater.

The principal of the predominantly Negro school, Harold Washburn, said the picture was removed at the request of several students. He said the students did not want LeMay's picture hanging in the school because he was running with a man who is "an avowed racist."

Realtors Will Meet

SALEM — The Columbiana County Board of Realtors will hold a dinner meeting at 6:30 Tuesday at Timberlanes. Bruce Herron of Salem, president, will preside. The program will include reports on the state convention.

Boy Claimed In Cleveland Rescue Try

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A 12-year-old West Side boy died early Sunday attempting to rescue other boys he thought were trapped in a burning building.

The boy, Phillip E. Johnson, had been staying with a friend, Michael J. Peak, 13, and was upstairs in the Peak home on West 54th Street when the fire broke out.

Michael said Phillip woke him up then went downstairs to alert Michael's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar J Peak, and four other children.

Michael, acting on long-standing instructions from his father, got his twin brothers, Terry and Ricky, 8, and them from an upstairs porch, then jumped to safety.

Phillip, not knowing that the others were safe, rushed back upstairs.

The elder Peak said he tried to go after him but passed out in the heat and smoke. He was treated at Lutheran Hospital for arm burns and a back sprain.

Peak's daughter, Brenda, 15, said she called for Phillip to jump, but he shouted back, "I can't, I can't."

It was the last that was heard from the youth. The body was found in an upstairs bedroom.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy G. Montgomery of 1826 W. 48th St.

Advice For Students

The Sept. 25 issue of The Ohio State Lantern carried some timely editorial advice for students beginning a new year.

Statements in two editorials should help correct the opinion about campuses around the nation being transformed into soapboxes for a few dissidents.

"FOR STUDENTS who are beginning their careers at Ohio State, and who see the university as merely a 'fun-on-the-farm,' beer-drinking, four-year party—forget it.

"And for those who see Ohio State (as President Fawcett said at the freshman convocation) as a cure-all for the past ills which society has devised and as an object for abuse for not having solved. . .those problems. . .take your protests elsewhere."

A second editorial, "Dissent, Si, Exhibitionists, No," also was specific in outlining the university's new direction in dealing with irresponsible dissent. It included these paragraphs:

"Few have indicated the new direction as explicity as President Fawcett, who assured the freshman class: 'We will not willingly serve as a soapbox upon which exhibitionists may pose in order to direct attention to their ludicrous and often revolting self-expression.'

"It would be appropriate to adopt Fawcett's admonition as a motto for the new year; it is obvious that little, if any, benefit can come from further chaos designed only to disrupt normal operation of the university.

"Not that anyone is outlawing dissent or even suggesting its suppression. It is simply that, a Fawcett implied, self-expression must be limited to legitimate means within the framework of the university.

"PERHAPS THESE RULES will limit the activities of some dissenters, or provide for action against them in cases where there were no previous rules but more importantly, they will allow the vast majority of the student body to pursue their academic careers without interruption."

The Lantern is making an attempt to draw a distinction between irresponsible and responsible dissent; to show that being "in" can include being respectable.

Hopefully, The Lantern will be able to set the tone of conduct for Ohio's largest campus where there is room for constructive and room for those who do not choose to protest.

You And The United Fund

No one can place a monetary value upon the true benefits the 15 agencies helped by the annual United Fund campaign provided to East Liverpool and the nearby areas.

Small children, teen-agers, young couples, the middle-aged and the elderly receive directly or indirectly some service from these organizations or are a part of the community which is a better place to live because of them.

Today marks the opening of the annual campaign in which each citizen will be called upon to provide a share of the contributions sought to aid the young, the afflicted, the needy.

The United Fund has been a continuing success in meeting the requirements of these agencies, for it is a combined once-a-year effort which simplifies the solicitation and reduces the expense and labor formerly characteristic of the multiple year-long fund drives.

Consider not only the convenience and cost-savings of the U.F. operation but the real needs of the boys and girls, the ailing and distraught, your neighbors, your friends and your own family — now or in the future — and give your full measure.

Hurdles To Longer Life

If medical scientists could just eliminate all diseases and if safety experts could prevent all accidents, everyone ought to live to be a hundred or two.

It sounds logical, but it doesn't work out that way, at least, not on paper.

Statisticians have calculated how much life expectancy would be increased if deaths from the major diseases and from accidents were reduced by 50 per cent, which does not seem to be an unreasonable or unattainable goal, if a distant one.

The largest increase would come if deaths from heart and blood vessel diseases were halved. But it would range only from three to five years, depending upon whether you are white or nonwhite, male or female and what age group you are in.

Gains in longevity from cutting cancer deaths in half would range from about one-half to 1¼ years.

The halving of deaths from accidents, including motor vehicle accidents, would increase average life expectancy at birth by more than half a year but would have little effect at ages 65 and over.

For newborns, present average life expectancy remains a shade under the Biblical three-score and 10. If by some miracle deaths from all major causes were cut in half, their lease on life would be extended by a total of about 8¾ years.

Not bad, but still somewhat short of Methuselah.

Anyway, as the Good Book teaches, it is not the length but the quality of life that is important.

A Word About Dissent

The campaign trail, winding its way for September to November, is a formidable obstacle for candidates. The speeches delivered along the way become quite a burden for a large segment of the voting public.

Turmoil frothed up by campaigning on many unpopular issues has been seized by a vocal minority as an excuse to deny the candidates their constitutional right of free speech.

ALL THE CANDIDATES have felt the helpless frustration of being pinned down by chants and shouted profanities from uncouth mobs, but Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey is the favorite target.

Mr. Humphrey, as candidate for the presidency, expects disagreement from many people when he expresses an opinion. He also expects those who disagree to let him speak his piece.

Some dissenters are making it clear they feel freedom of speech is a one-way street — their way. Malicious outbursts that disrupt proceedings and deny the speaker and the rest of the audience their rights reflect badly not only upon the shouters but also upon their cause.

A loud minority is forcing its will on the majority too often in the 1968 cmpaign.

Common courtesy and civilized behavior have been tossed aside and self-indulgence reigns supreme.

By their actions, the noisy few have demonstrated their contempt for the democratic system and are seeking to wreck its effectiveness.

VARIOUS METHODs have been used to quiet hecklers but there is no foolproof plan that applies to every situation.

They have been shouted down by the majority, shamed into silence by the speaker and offered a chance to have a spokesman relay their opinion to the audience.

For the most part, there is little a candidate can do if shouting hecklers persist in their concerted effort.

It may get around to the point where disruptive elements have to be bodily ejected from meeting places. However, until a suitable solution is found, the shouting antics do more harm to the cause of the heckler than to that of the candidate.

Odd Facts

The highest inhabited buildings in the world are those of the mining village of Aucanquilcha, in Chile, at an elevation of 17,500 feet above sea level.

The last of the famous fighting Indian leaders in the United States was Geronimo, an Apache chief, who died in 1909.

Secret HHH Vote?

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — Despite all the polls that indicate Hubert Humphrey is doing very badly in the campaign, there is a belief in some circles he'll do much better in the election.

Art Buchwald

The explanation for this by some Democratic party experts is that there is a secret Humphrey vote which hasn't been showing up in the polls.

One Humphrey campaign manager told me, "No one wants to admit he is going to vote for Humphrey. It isn't socially acceptable and when a pollster comes to the door, he automatically says he's going to vote for either Nixon or Wallace. But on election day when he's in the booth an on one is looking, he'll probably pull the lever for Humphrey."

"HOW LARGE DO YOU THINK this secret Humphrey vote could be?"

"It will probably run into the millions. There are a lot of Americans who are unhappy with the choice of Wallace and Nixon, but they aren't speaking up in fear of losing their jobs or alienating their neighbors. No one wants to admit he's a Democrat, even if he's going to vote that way."

"But how do you know there's a secret Humphrey vote out there if the polls don't show it?"

"It's obvious. You never see a Humphrey bumper sticker or anyone wearing a Humphrey button. People just don't want to declare themselves.

"Even President Johnson won't wear a Humphrey button but I wouldn't be surprised if he voted for Hubert, too."

"That would be a switch," I said.

"IT ISN'T THAT MUCH of a switch. There are a lot of people in this country who are discontented and they feel a vote for Humphrey is their way of protesting against the system."

"But won't they be wasting their vote if they go for the Democratic party?"

"No, they won't. It will be their way of saying that they're sick and tired of Wallace and Nixon and somebody better listen to them. Besides, if this vote is as big as we think it is, Humphrey could force this thing into the House of Representatives and then they'd have to listen to him."

"Then you see Humphrey's role as that of a spoiler?"

"No, I don't. Humphrey is sincere about wanting to be president of the United States. When he started out in Chicago, he might have thought of himself then as a spoiler. But the more he campaigns, the more he realizes that this country is ripe for someone like him to take over the White House.

So he's in the race now to win. They laughed when Humphrey first announced he was getting into the race but they aren't laughing any more."

"But if Humphrey got enough votes, wouldn't this be the end of the two-party system in this country?"

"IT MIGHT BE but that isn't his concern. He feels it's about time the American people had a choice and he doesn't see any difference between the policies of Wallace and Nixon."

"Then you feel that on Nov. 5 a secret Humphrey vote could change the results radically and that we're going to discover that there are far more Democrats in this country than we've been led to believe."

"I'm certain of it. Even in my own family, I haven't told my wife I'm going to vote for Humphrey, and she hasn't told me. We refuse to admit to each other that neither one of us is not a bigot."

Che Guevara In Retrospect

Editorial Research Report

Che Guevara, whose dream it was to create "two, three, many Vietnams" in Latin America, lives as a martyr in the hagiography of the New Left in the United States and other countries.

But a year after his death his guerrilla movement is going nowhere. New activities are reported in northern Tucuman Province in Argentina but none of the guerrilla groups has caused the Buenos Aires government any real difficulty.

Tre last two Cuban-inspired attempts at subversion — in 1965 in Peru and Che's campaign in Bolivia last year — failed miserably. The New York Times recently printed an estimate that 700 Cuban-backed guerrillas were fighting in three other Latin American countries.

A SMALL but well established element was reported in Guatemala. Two groups of irregulars, Cuban-trained and supplied, are working in the mountains of Venezuela. Guerrillas in Colombia are linked with mountain bandits.

The death of Guevara last Oct. 9 at La Higuera, about 8 miles from Santa Cruz de la Sierra, certainly has retarded the cause. But the whole concept of Che, of his acolyte, Regis Debray, and of his mentor, Cuba's Fidel Castro, is suspect.

"Almost all the countries of tris continent," Che wrote in his diary published in June, "are ripe for a type of struggle that, in order to achieve history, cannot be content with anything less than establishing a government of socialist tendencies." But Latin America, to some observers, is fast losing its revolutionary zeal.

As his diary discloses, Che received dwindling support from the Moscow-oriented Communist party of the Bolivian cities. Moreover, he received no help from the peasants. His last monthly analysis, under "30 Septiembre" reads in part: "The characteristics are those of last month, except that now the army is showing more effectiveness in action, and the mass of peasants does not help us at all and have (sic) become informers."

GEN. ALFREDO OVANDO CANDIA, commander in chief of the Bolivian armed forces, who directed the campaign to capture Che and his guerrillas, said recently: "Guevara chose the wrong country, the wrong terrain and the wrong friends. He was a brave man but God was not with him." Tre guerrillas eventually were surrounded in Bolivian jungle by a tough combat group of 400 rangers.

The official Bolivian version is that Che was mortally wounded when captured. A more likely story is that he was shot in captivity by Bolivian soldiers. Michele Ray, of Paris Match, reports there were nine wounds. Only five of Che's guerrillas are known to have escaped. They made their way to Cuba, where presumably they are being prepared for new forays.

VICTOR RIESEL

Strange Fighters

NEW YORK — "Poverty" is where the money is — and some madness, too. So is a coalition of black-uniformed vigilantes, anti-religious desecrators, self-avowed revolutionists, Black-Nation-ists, white street action-ists, down-with-the-establishment-ists, dedicated evangelists, and at least one chap convicted of conspiracy to murder Negro leaders Whitney Young and Roy Wilkins because they are moderates.

Victor Riesel

Through the hands of this coalition flows annually over $31 million worth of federal funds in this city alone. This does not include millions springing from the city's tax levies.

This coalition, among whom are those who pass on the distribution of such monies, moves among the ghettos, urges defiance of the police, cheers the convicted conspirator, howls down city and federal officials — and does it all in the name of the poor.

This coalition, with the abruptness of men who understand power, says that it is not only its right to lead the poor in their neighborhood uprisings, but that it is their "duty."

THEY CLAIM that the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964 gives them the legal power to call mass rallies, denounce the municipal and federal authorities, and even instigate direct physical community action.

This view is corroborated by official regional spokesmen of the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO). Thus, there are no objections to the local anti-poverty governing board officially calling a mass meeting in Manhattan Center Sept. 25, at which speakers were cheered while slashing at the government, calling for a separate Black Nation, and crying for the poor to create their own laws.

Mind you, this rally was sponsored by the city-wide Council Against Pverty, whose members were on the stage applauding while all this rocked the hall.

Mind you, the 51 members of the CAP make up the governing board of the Community Development Agency. In turn, the CDA is the official dispenser of $31.4 million (in fiscal 1968) for the OEO's Northeast Regional Office — one of seven spread across the nation.

Mind you, the OEO is disturbed by the anti-religious overtones of what has happened, including the desecration of two menorahs two weeks ago by poverty demonstrators.

BUT THE OEO FEELS that its concern is over the use of federal funds. Did the Council Against Poverty — the governing board of the subsidiary which dispenses $31.4 millions in federal money — use any of it to pay for the rally?

Reports in this column have finally moved the OEO to send in one of its inspectors.

He will find that the mass demonstration against the city's schoolteachers was financed by "private funds." But what matters that?

Question is: who ruled that it is the "duty" of the regional anti-poverty committees to call and lead demonstrations? Who decides what causes shall be championed by those who control such vast federal funds?

There are regional subcommittees and neighborhood anti-poverty corporations. At least one of these has been threatened with cutoff if it did not go along with certain causes — such as fighting the New York City teachers.

THE ANTI-POVERTY committees are authorized to fight decay, rehabilitate the souls and skills of decaying men in decaying ghettos, make jobs, tear down slums, care for mothers, service the helpless, teach the illiterate.

The Economic Opportunity Act was not intended to stir mass street action. Those on the U.S. Senate floor in '64 report that the language now being used by the anti-poverty leaders was inserted for quite a different purpose.

The language called for community participation. It called for democratic participation by the poor. It was intended to keep the anti-poverty drive from falling into the hands of professional sociologists and bureaucracy. It was not aimed at using it to fight city hall, or schoolteachers or to license anti-religious epithets, or to create a revolutionary spirit in the streets.

The money is for the poor. It is not for the creation of a new establishment around the philosophy that power is where poverty is. Let's have neither. Let's have a return to reason.

Advice For Students

The Sept. 25 issue of The Ohio State Lantern carried some timely editorial advice for students beginning a new year.

Statements in two editorials should help correct the opinion about campuses around the nation being transformed into soapboxes for a few dissidents.

"FOR STUDENTS who are beginning their careers at Ohio State, and who see the university as merely a 'fun-on-the-farm,' beer-drinking, four-year party—forget it.

"And for those who see Ohio State (as President Fawcett said at the freshman convocation) as a cure-all for the past ills which society has devised and as an object for abuse for not having solved. . .those problems. . .take your protests elsewhere."

A second editorial, "Dissent, Si, Exhibitionists, No," also was specific in outlining the university's new direction in dealing with irresponsible dissent. It included these paragraphs:

"Few have indicated the new direction as explicity as President Fawcett, who assured the freshman class: 'We will not willingly serve as a soapbox upon which exhibitionists may pose in order to direct attention to their ludicrous and often revolting self-expression.'

"It would be appropriate to adopt Fawcett's admonition as a motto for the new year; it is obvious that little, if any, benefit can come from further chaos designed only to disrupt normal operation of the university.

"Not that anyone is outlawing dissent or even suggesting its suppression. It is simply that, a Fawcett implied, self-expression must be limited to legitimate means within the framework of the university.

"PERHAPS THESE RULES will limit the activities of some dissenters, or provide for action against them in cases where there were no previous rules but more importantly, they will allow the vast majority of the student body to pursue their academic careers without interruption."

The Lantern is making an attempt to draw a distinction between irresponsible and responsible dissent; to show that being "in" can include being respectable.

Hopefully, The Lantern will be able to set the tone of conduct for Ohio's largest campus where there is room for constructive and room for those who do not choose to protest.

You And The United Fund

No one can place a monetary value upon the true benefits the 15 agencies helped by the annual United Fund campaign provided to East Liverpool and the nearby areas.

Small children, teen-agers, young couples, the middle-aged and the elderly receive directly or indirectly some service from these organizations or are a part of the community which is a better place to live because of them.

Today marks the opening of the annual campaign in which each citizen will be called upon to provide a share of the contributions sought to aid the young, the afflicted, the needy.

The United Fund has been a continuing success in meeting the requirements of these agencies, for it is a combined once-a-year effort which simplifies the solicitation and reduces the expense and labor formerly characteristic of the multiple year-long fund drives.

Consider not only the convenience and cost-savings of the U.F. operation but the real needs of the boys and girls, the ailing and distraught, your neighbors, your friends and your own family — now or in the future — and give your full measure.

Hurdles To Longer Life

If medical scientists could just eliminate all diseases and if safety experts could prevent all accidents, everyone ought to live to be a hundred or two.

It sounds logical, but it doesn't work out that way, at least, not on paper.

Statisticians have calculated how much life expectancy would be increased if deaths from the major diseases and from accidents were reduced by 50 per cent, which does not seem to be an unreasonable or unattainable goal, if a distant one.

The largest increase would come if deaths from heart and blood vessel diseases were halved. But it would range only from three to five years, depending upon whether you are white or nonwhite, male or female and what age group you are in.

Gains in longevity from cutting cancer deaths in half would range from about one-half to 1¼ years.

The halving of deaths from accidents, including motor vehicle accidents, would increase average life expectancy at birth by more than half a year but would have little effect at ages 65 and over.

For newborns, present average life expectancy remains a shade under the Biblical three-score and 10. If by some miracle deaths from all major causes were cut in half, their lease on life would be extended by a total of about 8¾ years.

Not bad, but still somewhat short of Methuselah.

Anyway, as the Good Book teaches, it is not the length but the quality of life that is important.

A Word About Dissent

The campaign trail, winding its way for September to November, is a formidable obstacle for candidates. The speeches delivered along the way become quite a burden for a large segment of the voting public.

Turmoil frothed up by campaigning on many unpopular issues has been seized by a vocal minority as an excuse to deny the candidates their constitutional right of free speech.

ALL THE CANDIDATES have felt the helpless frustration of being pinned down by chants and shouted profanities from uncouth mobs, but Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey is the favorite target.

Mr. Humphrey, as candidate for the presidency, expects disagreement from many people when he expresses an opinion. He also expects those who disagree to let him speak his piece.

Some dissenters are making it clear they feel freedom of speech is a one-way street — their way. Malicious outbursts that disrupt proceedings and deny the speaker and the rest of the audience their rights reflect badly not only upon the shouters but also upon their cause.

A loud minority is forcing its will on the majority too often in the 1968 cmpaign.

Common courtesy and civilized behavior have been tossed aside and self-indulgence reigns supreme.

By their actions, the noisy few have demonstrated their contempt for the democratic system and are seeking to wreck its effectiveness.

VARIOUS METHODS have been used to quiet hecklers but there is no foolproof plan that applies to every situation.

They have been shouted down by the majority, shamed into silence by the speaker and offered a chance to have a spokesman relay their opinion to the audience.

For the most part, there is little a candidate can do if shouting hecklers persist in their concerted effort.

It may get around to the point where disruptive elements have to be bodily ejected from meeting places. However, until a suitable solution is found, the shouting antics do more harm to the cause of the heckler than to that of the candidate.

Odd Facts

The highest inhabited buildings in the world are those of the mining village of Aucanquilcha, in Chile, at an elevation of 17,500 feet above sea level.

The last of the famous fighting Indian leaders in the United States was Geronimo, an Apache chief, who died in 1909.

Secret HHH Vote?

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — Despite all the polls that indicate Hubert Humphrey is doing very badly in the campaign, there is a belief in some circles he'll do much better in the election.

Art Buchwald

The explanation for this by some Democratic party experts is that there is a secret Humphrey vote which hasn't been showing up in the polls.

One Humphrey campaign manager told me, "No one wants to admit he is going to vote for Humphrey. It isn't socially acceptable and when a polister comes to the door, he automatically says he's going to vote for either Nixon or Wallace. But on election day when he's in the booth an on one is looking, he'll probably pull the lever for Humphrey."

"HOW LARGE DO YOU THINK this secret Humphrey vote could be?"

"It will probably run into the millions. There are a lot of Americans who are unhappy with the choice of Wallace and Nixon, but they aren't speaking up in fear of losing their jobs or alienating their neighbors. No one wants to admit he's a Democrat, even if he's going to vote that way."

"But how do you know there's a secret Humphrey vote out there if the polls don't show it?"

"It's obvious. You never see a Humphrey bumper sticker or anyone wearing a Humphrey button. People just don't want to declare themselves.

"Even President Johnson won't wear a Humphrey button but I wouldn't be surprised if he voted for Hubert, too."

"That would be a switch," I said.

"IT ISN'T THAT MUCH of a switch. There are a lot of people in this country who are discontented and they feel a vote for Humphrey is their way of protesting against the system."

"But won't they be wasting their vote if they go for the Democratic party?"

"No, they won't. It will be their way of saying that they're sick and tired of Wallace and Nixon and somebody better listen to them. Besides, if this vote is as big as we think it is, Humphrey could force this thing into the House of Representatives and then they'd have to listen to him."

"Then you see Humphrey's role as that of a spoiler?"

"No, I don't. Humphrey is sincere about wanting to be president of the United States. When he started out in Chicago, he might have thought of himself then as a spoiler. But the more he campaigns, the more he realizes that this country is ripe for someone like him to take over the White House.

So he's in the race now to win. They laughed when Humphrey first announced he was getting into the race but they aren't laughing any more."

"But if Humphrey got enough votes, wouldn't this be the end of the two-party system in this country?"

"IT MIGHT BE but that isn't his concern. He feels it's about time the American people had a choice and he doesn't see any difference between the policies of Wallace and Nixon."

"Then you feel that on Nov. 5 a secret Humphrey vote could change the results radically and that we're going to discover that there are far more Democrats in this country than we've been led to believe."

"I'm certain of it. Even in my own family, I haven't told my wife I'm going to vote for Humphrey, and she hasn't told me. We refuse to admit to each other that neither one of us is not a bigot."

Che Guevara In Retrospect

Editorial Research Report

Che Guevara, whose dream it was to create "two, three, many Vietnams" in Latin America, lives as a martyr in the hagiography of the New Left in the United States and other countries.

But a year after his death his guerrilla movement is going nowhere. New activities are reported in northern Tucuman Province in Argentina but none of the guerrilla groups has caused the Buenos Aires government any real difficulty.

Tre last two Cuban-inspired attempts at subversion — in 1965 in Peru and Che's campaign in Bolivia last year — failed miserably. The New York Times recently printed an estimate that 700 Cuban-backed guerrillas were fighting in three other Latin American countries.

A SMALL but well established element was reported in Guatemala. Two groups of irregulars, Cuban-trained and supplied, are working in the mountains of Venezuela. Guerrillas in Colombia are linked with mountain bandits.

The death of Guevara last Oct. 9 at La Higuera, about 8 miles from Santa Cruz de la Sierra, certainly has retarded the cause. But the whole concept of Che, of his acolyte, Regis Debray, and of his mentor, Cuba's Fidel Castro, is suspect.

"Almost all the countries of tris continent," Che wrote in his diary published in June, "are ripe for a type of struggle that, in order to achieve history, cannot be content with anything less than establishing a government of socialist tendencies." But Latin America, to some observers, is fast losing its revolutionary zeal.

As his diary discloses, Che received dwindling support from the Moscow-oriented Communist party of the Bolivian cities. Moreover, he received no help from the peasants. His last monthly analysis, under "30 Septiembre" reads in part: "The characteristics are those of last month, except that now the army is showing more effectiveness in action, and the mass of peasants does not help us at all and have (sic) become informers."

GEN. ALFREDO OVANDO CANDIA, commander in chief of the Bolivian armed forces, who directed the campaign to capture Che and his guerrillas, said recently: "Guevara chose the wrong country, the wrong terrain and the wrong friends. He was a brave man but God was not with him." Tre guerrillas eventually were surrounded in Bolivian jungle by a tough combat group of 400 rangers.

The official Bolivian version is that Che was mortally wounded when captured. A more likely story is that he was shot in captivity by Bolivian soldiers. Michele Ray, of Paris Match, reports there were nine wounds. Only five of Che's guerrillas are known to have escaped. They made their way to Cuba, where presumably they are being prepared for new forays.

VICTOR RIESEL

Strange Fighters

NEW YORK — "Poverty" is where the money is — and some madness, too. So is a coalition of black-uniformed vigilantes, anti-religious desecrators, self-avowed revolutionists, Black-Nation-ists, white street action-ists, down-with-the-establishment-ists, dedicated evangelists, and at least one chap convicted of conspiracy to murder Negro leaders Whitney Young and Roy Wilkins because they are moderates.

Victor Riesel

Through the hands of this coalition flows annually over $31 million worth of federal funds in this city alone. This does not include millions springing from the city's tax levies.

This coalition, among whom are those who pass on the distribution of such monies, moves among the ghettos, urges defiance of the police, cheers the convicted conspirator, howls down city and federal officials — and does it all in the name of the poor.

This coalition, with the abruptness of men who understand power, says that it is not only its right to lead the poor in their neighborhood uprisings, but that it is their "duty."

THEY CLAIM that the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964 gives them the legal power to call mass rallies, denounce the municipal and federal authorities, and even instigate direct physical community action.

This view is corroborated by official regional spokesmen of the Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO). Thus, there are no objections to the local anti-poverty governing board officially calling a mass meeting in Manhattan Center Sept. 25, at which speakers were cheered while slashing at the government, calling for a separate Black Nation, and crying for the poor to create their own laws.

Mind you, this rally was sponsored by the city-wide Council Against Pverty, whose members were on the stage applauding while all this rocked the hall.

Mind you, the 51 members of the CAP make up the governing board of the Community Development Agency. In turn, the CDA is the official dispenser of $31.4 million (in fiscal 1968) for the OEO's Northeast Regional Office — one of seven spread across the nation.

7 Weekend Mishaps

Industry Driver Cited For Crash

An Industry Borough motorist was cited by police early Sunday after his eastbound auto struck a parked car in the Oakland section of East End and shoved it into a utility pole.

Frank D. Kennedy, 38, of 1110 Avondale Dr., Industry, was charged with being in physical control of an auto while intoxicated as an aftermath of the mishap at 2:10 a.m. on Pennsylvania Ave. 70 feet east of Oakland Ave.

Kennedy's 1962 model sedan hit the rear of a parked 1967 model coupe owned by Beverly Cekovich of 927 Kent St. The collision damaged the entire front and the right side of Kennedy's car and the left rear and front of the Cekovich auto, officers reported.

Kennedy told police he did not know how the crash occurred. Patrolman H. Clyde Dillon reported his investigation showed that Kennedy's car drifted to the right-hand side of the street, hit the Cekovich auto in the left rear and pushed it into the pole. Kennedy's car traveled another 40 feet before halting, he said.

—:—

IT WAS one of seven traffic mishaps investigated by East Liverpool police over the weekend.

A collision on St. Clair Ave. near Ray St. Sunday at 2:44 a.m. damaged a halted 1967 four - door sedan driven by John L. Owen of 451 Lycia Ave., Chester, and a northbound 1966 two - door sedan operated by James M. Williamson, 25, of 1070 Oak St., officers said.

Williamson told police he saw Owen open a door of his halted car, but too late to avoid a collision.

A parked car was damaged in another mishap Sunday at 12:14 p.m. on Market St. 20 feet south of E. Church Alley.

A 1960 four - door sedan owned by Mae W. Skolny of 317 Market St. drifted from a parking place and hit another parked 1964 four - door owned by Kenneth C. Alford of 1529 Wyoming Ave. The mishap damaged the hood and both front fenders of the Alford auto.

A parked 1968 two - door sedan owned by Jean Van Meter of Shadyside Ave. was damaged in a mishap Sunday at 3 p.m. in Thompson Park. The Van Meter car was bumped on the right rear fender by a 1959 four - door sedan operated by Kimberly J. Wetzel, 20, of 506 John St., who was attempting to pull out of a parking place, officers said.

PARKED cars were damaged in two other weekend mishaps.

A collision on St. Clair Ave., 25 feet south of Ray St. Sunday at 3:24 a.m. involved a parked 1963 model car owned by Clarence Mercer of 1030 St. Clair Ave. and a 1965 convertible operated by William Gillingham Jr., 27, of 1026 St. Clair Ave. Gillingham told police he was parking when his brakes failed, causing his auto to hit Mercer's.

A parked 1964 sedan of Luther Peters, 73, of River Rd. and a 1962 sedan operated by Georgetta Cowart, 47, of 922 Kent St. were involved in a mishap Saturday at 6:30 p.m. on Mulberry St. at Fox Alley.

The woman told police she was pulling out of Fox Alley and turning north on Mulberry St. when her auto hit the rear of the Peters car.

7 Weekend Mishaps

Industry Driver Cited For Crash

An Industry Borough motorist was cited by police early Sunday after his eastbound auto struck a parked car in the Oakland section of East End and shoved it into a utility pole.

Frank D. Kennedy, 38, of 1110 Avondale Dr., Industry, was charged with being in physical control of an auto while intoxicated as an aftermath of the mishap at 2:10 a.m. on Pennsylvania Ave. 70 feet east of Oakland Ave.

Kennedy's 1962 model sedan hit the rear of a parked 1967 model coupe owned by Beverly Cekovich of 927 Kent St. The collision damaged the entire front and the right side of Kennedy's car and the left rear and front of the Cekovich auto, officers reported.

Kennedy told police he did not know how the crash occurred. Patrolman H. Clyde Dillon reported his investigation showed that Kennedy's car drifted to the right-hand side of the street, hit the Cekovich auto in the left rear and pushed it into the pole. Kennedy's car traveled another 40 feet before halting, he said.

—:—

IT WAS one of seven traffic mishaps investigated by East Liverpool police over the weekend.

A collision on St. Clair Ave. near Ray St. Sunday at 2:44 a.m. damaged a halted 1967 four - door sedan driven by John L. Owen of 451 Lycia Ave., Chester, and a northbound 1966 two - door sedan operated by James M. Williamson, 25, of 1070 Oak St., officers said.

Williamson told police he saw Owen open a door of his halted car, but too late to avoid a collision.

A parked car was damaged in another mishap Sunday at 12:14 p.m. on Market St. 20 feet south of E. Church Alley.

A 1960 four - door sedan owned by Mae W. Skolny of 317 Market St. drifted from a parking place and hit another parked 1964 four - door owned by Kenneth C. Alford of 1529 Wyoming Ave. The mishap damaged the hood and both front fenders of the Alford auto.

Church Women United Plan Coming Activities At Session

A report on the "Area D" meeting was heard when Church Women United met Friday afternoon at the First Methodist Church.

Mrs. Albert McLain, president, reviewed the recent sessions held at the Lisbon Methodist Church. Plans were made for a fall retreat Nov. 10 from 3 until 5 p.m. at the Lisbon church. The area includes units from Wellsville, Salem, East Palestine and Lisbon. The local group is to provide cookies for the gathering and will serve as hostess unit for the spring retreat.

PLANS were discussed for the "World Community Day" observance Nov. 1, with a service to be conducted at 2 p.m. at the First Church of Christ. Mrs. John Keller is chairman. Service projects will be dedicated.

Dates for the remaining two events were set, with "World Day of Prayer" services to be conducted March 7 at the Seventh Day Adventist Church and the Pennsylvania Ave. United Methodist Church and the "May Fellowship Day" to be celebrated May 2 at the First United Methodist Church.

The project theme announced for CWU is "The Americas," highlighting three phases —bringing Latin-American women here to observe the culture of America—providing a nutritional program on the Island of Haiti under the theme "the right to eat right" and the clothing phase along with layettes which will be distributed by Church World Service.

GIFT certificates may be purchased by any group from any church. Blankets, school supplies, fabric and non-fat dry milk will be bought from funds realized. It was pointed out that through the use of these certificates the organization was able to handle all blanket requests for the first time.

Mrs. Edwin Bayley discussed the "CROP" project, which was observed locally for the first time last fall. She heads the program along with the Rev. Dean McElroy, pastor of the Calvary United Methodist Church, who represents the Ministerial Association. They urged participation in the community appeal set for Nov. 10-30. The program to combat hunger is another part of the Church World Service.

Mrs. Ralph Clark outlined aid needed at the day care nursery of the Community Resource Center. The group allocated a contribution toward the program.

Volunteer therapy aid was requested for a local family. Those willing to assist may call Mrs. John Conley for information.

Miss Jessie Henry discussed the national periodical "The Church Woman" and asked subscriptions be forwarded to her.

Mrs. Carl Anderson, secretary, read the minutes and announced that 25 were present, representing 12 churches.

Milk Hearing Set

CHICAGO (AP) — A public hearing originally set for Oct. 16 to consider merging the Clarksburg, W. Va., and Eastern Ohio-Western Pennsylvania milk marketing orders has been rescheduled for Oct. 29 in Clarksburg. The U.S. Department of Agriculture announced the change Sunday.

Students Slated To Have Own UF Campaign Drive

For the first time in the history of the area United Fund campaign, a contest will be conducted in the East Liverpool schools.

All students, except those in high school — who have their own campaign under the direction of the Student council — are expected to take part.

The Golden Star Dairy has contributed 300 collection boxes which the Camp Fire Girls have prepared for the contest. Each room in the school will have its own box. Each student who contributes will receive a pin. The homeroom of each school collecting the largest amount will receive a trophy.

Letters are being circulated to all teachers. Arrangements for talks on United Fund may be made with Dick Frankel, publicity chairman for the campaign.

Come On, You Men

LOUISVILLE (AP) — The Rev. James Flynn, assistant pastor of Mother of Good Counsel Catholic Church, was teaching his flock a new hymn but the vocal response wasn't too good. "Come on, you men," he urged. "So God gave you a lousy voice—let's let Him hear it."

You And The Law

Courtrooms sometimes become supercharged with drama and anger because the issues at hand are serious. A person's life, his good name, his liberty, or his property may be at stake.

The judge has to be impartial and open-minded as to issues, evidence, parties, witnesses and lawyers. To fail in this may cause a case to be tried again or the judgment reversed on appeal to a higher court.

THIS MAKES a judge's job a difficult one. He must keep order so that the facts go to the jury in a way to lead to sound, unprejudiced verdicts. The judge also must instruct the jury on the law, and decide what testimony goes into evidence.

Lawyers on both sides are duty bound to protect their clients and to advance their cause. In this tense atmosphere some people break over the line and do things which may be termed "foul play" or show disrespect for the court.

When this happens, the judge has inherent power—power that grows out of his job — to crack down and punish violators for contempt of court. Within wide limits, he can levy fines and give jail sentences on the spot when the offense takes place before him.

THE JUDGE can sometimes do the same for events which take place outside the court, such as the disobedience of a court order. However, such indirect contempt of court calls for hearings to prove that an offense has been committed.

Judges may fine or give jail sentences to protect the due administration of justice. These include a juror or a lawyer for being tardy for court, for the impugning of the judge's honesty, for a witness to refuse to testify within the limits of the law, for improper attempts to influence the jury or the court, making personal attacks on the character and motives of the other side or its lawyer, for appealing to prejudices and for referring to facts in court not admissible in evidence.

Road Crews Set Contract Parley

LISBON — Negotiations for a work contract for employes of the Columbiana County Highway Department, who voted last week to be represented by the Teamsters Union, will begin in November, authorities have announced.

The highway workers voted Thursday, 29 to 21, to be represented by a union, then balloted on which union they would join. The vote was 34 for the Teamsters Local 92 of Canton and 16 for the Association of State, County and Municipal Employes, AFL-CIO.

Teamsters representative Russell Albright of Lisbon and County Engineer John Ursu said talks on a contract will begin following the general election.

Car Hits Another In Bridge Crash

Industry police today reported extensive damage resulted when two cars collided at the north end of the Shippingport Bridge Saturday afternoon at 2:15.

A car driven by Paul Amos, 36, of Alba Ave., Chester, driving on his way to work at Crucible Steel Co., was struck by another auto operated by Louis Gallagher, 71, of Rochester.

Gallagher said he didn't see the other vehicle, police reported. Passengers in Amos' car included his wife, June, 36, and daughters, Mary 15, and Jane, 6. No one was injured, police said.

Gallagher's wife, Grace, 71, was shaken and bruised, but did not require treatment. Patrolman Roy Hohenshell investigated.

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. — How can I improve the appearance of scuffed brown shoes?

A. — By putting iodine on these shoes before applying shoe polish. This will keep them looking polished for quite a long time. One complete section of my household - hints book is devoted to the care of shoes and other wearing apparel.

Q. — What is a good, quick repair for a loose tile in the hearth of a fireplace

A. — Lift out the loose tile, pour in hot paraffin, then quickly replace the tile, and it should remain there indefinitely.

2 Midland Clubs Plan To Raise Trip Money

Three projects are planned by the Latin and French clubs of Midland's Lincoln High School for funds to make a trip to Silver Springs Feb. 7-8.

They will sell candy Oct. 15 from 11:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m., in the old gym, and will sell caramel apples Oct. 22 at the gym.

They are also collecting papers. Anyone wishing to donate may notify Bernice Newman or Gayle Utscher. The papers will be picked up Oct. 25.

Two Cars Involved In Backing Incident

Two cars were involved in a backing incident Saturday night at 9th and Main Sts., Wellsville.

Police said Thomas E. Elliott of 615 Broadway, Wellsville, was backing his 1967 sedan from a parking space when it hit a 1965 sedan operated by David Lee Stewart of Wellsville RD 1.

Fire Causes Heavy Damage To Casino

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A fire chased gamblers, cocktail waitresses and other employes from the Flamingo Hotel casino and convention center Sunday.

Driver Charged In Lisbon Crash

LISBON — Police estimated $600 damage to a 1960 sedan driven by Adom M. Pickens, 22, of Lisbon RD 2, and $350 damage to a 1968 sedan driven by Charles J. Sebek, 23, of Greensburg RD 3, Pa., after a collision at 7:50 p.m. Sunday at the intersection of W. Lincoln Way and Beaver St. No one was injured.

Police said Sebek, driving east, went through a red light and struck the front of the northbound Pickens auto.

Sebek posted a $15 bond for an appearance Tuesday in Mayor's court, and told police he will forfeit.

Forfeiting $15 bonds Saturday were Robert L. Heiney, 23, of 1021 St. George St., East Liverpool, and John A. Carbon, 38, of Ashtabula, both charged with passing over the yellow line.

40 At Breakfast Held By K. Of C.

'69 Kingswood Estate 3-Seat Walk-In Wagon

Chevrolet introduces the walk-in wagon.

Here's a wagon that welcomes you in the back door without making you stoop over to keep from banging your head.

Now you simply walk up a step in the bumper and walk down a step inside. Then you simply turn around and sit right down. Don't worry. We've slanted the back-end to help avoid the roof from bumping your head.

Another thoughtful design is our dual-action tailgate. Its concealed door openers won't catch a sleeve like an outside handle.

And another: You can specify washers for the headlights.

Still another: Tri-Level loading in most wagons. Order a roof rack for carrying convenience on top, in addition to the load space you have inside and under the rear floor.

Our '69 wagons also are big on looks and performance. One quick example is the new 327-cubic-inch engine, standard in many models. It's the largest standard V8 in its field.

Look over both our wagon sizes, biggest and big. Even the names are new.
All at your Chevrolet dealer's now.
Just walk in.

You And The Law

Courtrooms sometimes become supercharged with drama and anger because the issues at hand are serious. A person's life, his good name, his liberty, or his property may be at stake.

The judge has to be impartial and open-minded as to issues, evidence, parties, witnesses and lawyers. To fail in this may cause a case to be tried again or the judgment reversed on appeal to a higher court.

THIS MAKES a judge's job a difficult one. He must keep order so that the facts go to the jury in a way to lead to sound, unprejudiced verdicts. The judge also must instruct the jury on the law, and decide what testimony goes into evidence.

Lawyers on both sides are duty bound to protect their clients and to advance their cause. In this tense atmosphere some people break over the line and do things which may be termed "foul play" or show disrespect for the court.

When this happens, the judge has inherent power—power that grows out of his job — to crack down and punish violators for contempt of court. Within wide limits, he can levy fines and give jail sentences on the spot when the offense takes place before him.

THE JUDGE can sometimes do the same for events which take place outside the court, such as the disobedience of a court order. However, such indirect contempt of court calls for hearings to prove that an offense has been committed.

Judges may fine or give jail sentences to protect the due administration of justice. These include a juror or a lawyer for being tardy for court, for the impugning of the judge's honesty, for a witness to refuse to testify within the limits of the law, for improper attempts to influence the jury or the court, making personal attacks on the character and motives of the other side or its lawyer, for appealing to prejudices and for referring to facts in court not admissible in evidence.

Road Crews Set Contract Parley

LISBON — Negotiations for a work contract for employes of the Columbiana County Highway Department, who voted last week to be represented by the Teamsters Union, will begin in November, authorities have announced.

The highway workers voted Thursday, 29 to 21, to be represented by a union, then balloted on which union they would join. The vote was 34 for the Teamsters Local 92 of Canton and 16 for the Association of State, County and Municipal Employes, AFL-CIO.

Teamsters representative Russell Albright of Lisbon and County Engineer John Ursu said talks on a contract will begin following the general election.

Car Hits Another In Bridge Crash

Industry police today reported extensive damage resulted when two cars collided at the north end of the Shippingport Bridge Saturday afternoon at 2:15.

A car driven by Paul Amos, 36, of Alba Ave., Chester, driving on his way to work at Crucible Steel Co., was struck by another auto operated by Louis Gallagher, 71, of Rochester.

Gallagher said he didn't see the other vehicle, police reported. Passengers in Amos' car included his wife, June, 36, and daughters, Mary 15, and Jane, 6. No one was injured, police said.

Gallagher's wife, Grace, 71, was shaken and bruised, but did not require treatment. Patrolman Roy Hohenshell investigated.

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. — How can I improve the appearance of scuffed brown shoes?

A. — By putting iodine on these shoes before applying shoe polish. This will keep them looking polished for quite a long time. One complete section of my household - hints book is devoted to the care of shoes and other wearing apparel.

Q. — What is a good, quick repair for a loose tile in the hearth of a fireplace

A. — Lift out the loose tile, pour in hot paraffin, then quickly replace the tile, and it should remain there indefinitely.

2 Midland Clubs Plan To Raise Trip Money

Three projects are planned by the Latin and French clubs of Midland's Lincoln High School for funds to make a trip to Silver Springs Feb. 7-8.

They will sell candy Oct. 15 from 11:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m., in the old gym, and will sell caramel apples Oct. 22 at the gym.

They are also collecting papers. Anyone wishing to donate may notify Bernice Newman or Gayle Utscher. The papers will be picked up Oct. 25.

Two Cars Involved In Backing Incident

Two cars were involved in a backing incident Saturday night at 9th and Main Sts., Wellsville.

Police said Thomas E. Elliott of 615 Broadway, Wellsville, was backing his 1967 sedan from a parking space when it hit a 1965 sedan operated by David Lee Stewart of Wellsville RD 1.

Fire Causes Heavy Damage To Casino

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A fire chased gamblers, cocktail waitresses and other employes from the Flamingo Hotel casino and convention center Sunday.

Driver Charged In Lisbon Crash

LISBON — Police estimated $600 damage to a 1960 sedan driven by Adom M. Pickens, 22, of Lisbon RD 2, and $350 damage to a 1968 sedan driven by Charles J. Sebek, 23, of Greensburg RD 3, Pa., after a collision at 7:50 p.m. Sunday at the intersection of W. Lincoln Way and Beaver St. No one was injured.

Police said Sebek, driving east, went through a red light and struck the front of the northbound Pickens auto.

Sebek posted a $15 bond for an appearance Tuesday in Mayor's court, and told police he will forfeit.

Forfeiting $15 bonds Saturday were Robert L. Heiney, 23, of 1021 St. George St., East Liverpool, and John A. Carbon, 38, of Ashtabula, both charged with passing over the yellow line.

40 At Breakfast Held By K. Of C.

Mayor William Daugherty reviewed the history of Columbus Day.

Guests included Fr. James Cavanaugh and Sisters Julia and Dorothy Marie.

At the K. of C. meeting Tuesday night, plans will be completed for participation in the exemplification of the district second degree at East Liverpool.

'69 Kingswood Estate 3-Seat Walk-In Wagon

Chevrolet introduces the walk-in wagon.

Here's a wagon that welcomes you in the back door without making you stoop over to keep from banging your head.

Now you simply walk up a step in the bumper and walk down a step inside. Then you simply turn around and sit right down. Don't worry. We've slanted the back-end to help avoid the roof from bumping your head.

Another thoughtful design is our dual-action tailgate. Its concealed door openers won't catch a sleeve like an outside handle.

And another: You can specify washers for the headlights.

Still another: Tri-Level loading in most wagons. Order a roof rack for carrying convenience on top, in addition to the load space you have inside and under the rear floor.

Our '69 wagons also are big on looks and performance. One quick example is the new 327-cubic-inch engine, standard in many models. It's the largest standard V8 in its field.

Look over both our wagon sizes, biggest and big. Even the names are new.

All at your Chevrolet dealer's now.

Just walk in.

CHEVROLET

Putting you first, keeps us first.

Program Honors First Newspaper Started In Ohio

Newspaper publishing in Ohio, 175 years old this year, will be honored Thursday in Cincinnati with presentation to that city of a special plaque commemorating the founding of the first newspaper in Ohio and the Northwest Territory in 1793.

The plaque, provided by the Ohio Newspaper Association, will be presented to Mayor Eugene P. Ruehlman as an historic site designation of Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalism society. It will recognize and honor "The Centinel of the Northwestern Territory" and William Maxwell as the first newspaper and first printer - publisher - editor to serve the public in the six - state area then known as the Northwest Territory.

The newspaper served only the few hundred citizens of Cincinnati residing along the Ohio River then, but 175 years of growth and development have mushroomed into 2,380 daily and weekly newspapers with nearly 21 million total circulation now serving the over 38 million readers in the states of Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

The plaque presentation will be a feature of a luncheon program jointly sponsored by the National Newspaper Association, The Cincinnati Enquirer, Cincinnati Post and Times-Star, Rotary Club of Cincinnati, Cincinnati chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, and the Ohio Newspaper Association. It will also be a special feature of National Newspaper Week which began today.

The first Ohio newspaper was issued only two years after the free press amendment to the Constitution was officially adopted by the states in 1791 and 10 years before Ohio became the first state approved from the Northwest Territory in 1803. Persons wishing a copy of "The Centinel" may write the Ohio Newspaper Association, 198 South High Street, Columbus, Ohio 432115, enclosing a large, self - addressed, stamped return envelope.

Council Meeting Set

HOOKSTOWN — Council will meet Wednesday night at 8 at the Borough Building instead of Tuesday night as originally announced, officials said.

Summitville Area News

SUMMITVILLE — Firemen from the Franklin Township Department are undergoing weeks of firefighting instruction, under the guidance of Glenn Guess and Willfred Donaldson.

The instruction is planned to improve fire prevention and protection in the township and the surrounding area.

The training is provided through a public service program of the Trade and Industrial Vocational Education Service of the Ohio Department of Education in cooperation with the Southern Local School Board, officials said.

The program conforms to standards established by the Division of State Fire Marshal, the Ohio Inspection Bureau, the education service and the organized firefighters' association.

"Christmas Lighting, Arrangements and Decorations" will be the program topic when the Women's Civic Club meets Thursday at 8:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Pete Marra.

The buffet table, covered in lace, was centered with an arrangement of orchid and pink flowers flanked by orchid tapers in crystal holders.

Meeting Reset

GLASGOW — Daniel Gallagher, president of Council, has announced a Council meeting scheduled Saturday was canceled because of lack of a quorum. The next meeting will be Saturday at 8 p.m. at the Borough Building.

Virus To Solve Riddle Of Life

While our attention is on space and its planets, science is concerned with a tiny world so small that it cannot be detected by even the most powerful optical microscope. Inhabiting this tiny world are germs called Viruses - - - organisms that have baffled science for over 50 years. Virus is the connecting link between the world of the living and the non-living. It is an ultimate substance incapable of motion, but it is attracted to other live cells that act as magnets. Under these conditions it comes alive, it penetrates the cell, it moves about, it multiplies by the hundreds . . and as the cell bursts the virus turns back to dead matter seemingly in wait for other cells.

If we could ever get to know what happens within that cell, the great riddle of life itself may be solved-onstrators—and a group of rightists, as well—are testing the power of police to limit dissenters' activities in the interest of order. They present a difficult First Amendment problem.

Demonstrations for unpopular causes are bound to attack hecklers. Heckling has the potential of touching off violence. Must the demonstrators yield?

The question is brought directly by Dick Gregory, Negro writer and comedian arrested in 1965 as he led a march on the home of Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago to protest conditions in the public schools.

Along similar lines, should officials have authority to prohibit rallies that could incite spectators to violence

The question is brought by the National States Rights party, banned in 1966 from holding public meetings in Somerset County, Maryland, after speakers referred to Negroes as "niggers" and advanced the "white power" doctrine.

A third test grows out of a demonstration against the Vietnam war held last April near Ft. Hood, Texas, when President Johnson helped dedicate Central Texas College.

The protesters waded into a crowd of soldiers just back from Vietnam, tempers flared quickly, and three demonstrators were arrested.

War Disputes

Though the justices have declined to rule on the legality of the Vietnam war, major disputes spawned by the war are before the Court.

The speeded-up draft of war protesters who turn in their draft cards is under attack in an appeal that has split the government.

The Justice Department has conceded such reclassification as draft status may be unconstitutional. The Selective Service system says the procedure is rooted in draft law.

Hundreds of Army reservists, meanwhile, are trying to upset the 1966 law that permitted President Johnson to call them to active duty without a declaration of war or national emergency.

Poor People Cases

A growing list of "poor people" cases reflect the new emphasis civil rights and civil liberties groups are putting on economic advances.

At the top is a set of challenges to laws and regulations in 41 states that prohibit welfare assistance to newly migrated poor people. If they are held unconstitutional, the states would have to yield $140 million to $200 million to more than 100,000 poor people.

The NAACP Legal Defense Fund has lodged an attack on the garnishment of workers' salaries by finance companies.

The American Civil Liberties Union has challenged the right of states to take over the property of people on welfare.

The Court has before it in other spheres a rich variety of cases.

Conviction of five men of conspiring to smuggle 209 pounds of heroin—about $100-million worth—into the country teeters on a bid to make new bugging restrictions retroactive.

Union Battle

Four Wisconsin auto workers are battling the authority of unions to fine members who exceed production quotas.

In a major newspaper industry case, publishers of The Arizona Daily Star and the Tucson Daily Citizen are fighting for the right of newspapers to merge their commercial operations.

A California woman is testing the right of states to restrict the hours women can work in certain industries.

Muhammed Ali, as former world heavyweight boxing champion Cassius Clay prefers to be known, is appealing his conviction for refusing to be drafted, and a five-year prison sentence.

Dr. Timothy J. Leary, experimenter in the use of psychedelic drugs, will get a chance to test government registration of marijuana transactions.

And a former Little Rock school-teacher is striking at a vestige of an earlier age; an Arkansas law that makes it a crime to tell school children that man is descended from the apes.

such troops before August—raises a potentially grave threat to West Germany and other NATO countries.

Last week, State Department officials reported that the regular winter meeting of NATO foreign ministers would be moved up from mid-December to mid-November in Brussels so they can consider steps to stiffen the alliance and its military forces.

Squadron Sent To Germany

Plans to send a U.S. reconnaissance squadron to Germany this week have been interpreted in some quarters as suggesting a strengthening of U.S. military power in Germany.

Ever since U.S. military forces were invited out of France, U.S. reconnaissance squadrons once based there have been rotating between the United States and West Germany on a regular basis.

There has been persistent speculation that the United States might return some of the 33,000 men withdrawn from Germasy recently.

These forces, including fighter squadrons and infantry units, were pulled back in order to relieve the balance of payments deficit. The plan was to return some of these troops periodically for maneuvers.

Both Clifford and Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff who will accompany the Pentagon chief to Germany, have made it plain they regard it as important to maintain a substantial American troop presence in West Europe.

referred to jail conditions as "deplorable" in mid - September and asked that they be corrected.

"The jail was built as part of this building 30-odd years ago," Berman said in arguing his motion. "I don't know if the walls have been washed in the meantime but they certainly have not been painted. The beds are steel straps, with no blankets or bedding. The prisoners have a choice of lying on steel or concrete.

"The sanitary facilities are either broken, leaking or not working. I am told there is one urinal which works. The shower is out of order. There is only one spigot that works and the water flows when a button is pressed, so there is no way of accumulating water. The prisoners can bathe only with the water held in a plastic cup.

"The Health Board investigated a month ago and called the conditions 'deplorable'. It said the shower should be replaced and the jail should be given a general repair and cleaning. The prisoners need mattresses and blankets and the jail needs cleaning.

"IF ANIMALS were kept under similar conditions, the Humane Society would be in here to cite the people responsible. In the time since the Health Department report was made, nothing was done. The newspaper reported the mayor and director said they were investigating the need for a new shower, but that may be a euphemism for inaction.

"No prisoner should be detained under such conditions," Berman continued. "The conditions should be rectified immediately or the jail should be closed down. The police department wants these conditions remedied and so does the court. We seem to have hit a wall of apathy.

"This condition didn't occur suddenly — it has been there for years. Since the conditions were called to my attention, I felt compelled to try to do something."

REPLYING for the city, Solicitor J. Michael Kapp told the court he expects Council will discuss conditions at the jail at its meeting tonight.

"I feel the court and the Bar Association feel that the jail should be maintained in better condition," he said. "Council will take it up tonight. I'm sure action will be taken to correct the defects.

"If this request applies to Ice, it applies to anyone who might be confined. The court cannot permit a wholesale release of prisoners. It should allow Council to act."

AFTER reviewing the history of the Ice case and the September recommendations of the Health Board, the judge commented:

"The court is heartily in accord with Mr. Berman's statements. I know the conditions in the jail firsthand. I make it a point to observe them four or five times a week. I would be the first to say conditions are deplorable. I have referred to it as 'the black hole of Calcutta.'

"I think you are addressing your motion to the wrong place," he told Berman. "The law places the responsibility for public buildings on the safety-service director. I commend you for what you have done. You've shed some light on conditions that need correcting. By your action, something may be done to correct the conditions. You've set a fire under people who have been apathetic.

"The court will not disturb the sentence, but will join you in seeking a remedy for the jail. The court will not order a wholesale release of prisoners. The court commends you for putting the full glare of the spotlight on these conditions. Between the safety - service director and Council, some of these conditions can be relieved."

Humphrey

One of the questions Americans are asking themselves, Humphrey contended, is "Which candidate and which party can you trust?"

Distrusts Opponents

"I say you can't trust a candidate like George Wallace whose only appeal is to people's fears," the vice president said, and "you can't trust a candidate like Richard Nixon who refuses to speak out on vital issues and who says one thing in the North and another thing in the South."

He attacked Nixon's position on federal enforcement of Supreme Court desegregation decisions, the nomination of Abe Fortas as chief justice and the nuclear nonproliferation treaty, adding that on Vietnam the Republican candidate has stood absolutely silent.

"But while Mr Nixon has been silent," he said, "his campaign managers have been mailing secret messages to special interests, such as the stock market traders on Wall Street, assuring them that a Nixon administration will look after their special interests—forget the public interest."

His reference was to a report that Nixon had assured securities traders he favors less federal government regulation of their activities.

Humphrey admitted that "the Democrats are running behind" but said "we are moving up fast."

Talks With Reuther

On Sunday, while watching the St. Louis Cardinals rout the Detroit Tigers in the fourth World Series game at chilly, rainy Tiger Stadium in Detroit, Humphrey gave a similar message to one of his key labor supporters, President Walter Reuther of the United Auto Workers union.

"They will get big pluralities in the midwestern (farm) states where there aren't many electoral votes," he told Reuther, adding that "we hope to squeak by in the big states like New York and Michigan by one or two percentage points."

Over the weekend, the Democratic National Committee released two more polls it had commissioned, one showing the vice president three points ahead in New York, the other putting him just two behind Nixon in Ohio.

But surveys by the New York Times and the Washington Post continued to show Nixon well ahead. The Times and the Atlanta Constitution both endorsed Humphrey for president.

The Democratic nominee is concentrating exclusively on the big states this week. He has appearances scheduled in Utica, N.Y., Tuesday and in the New York City area Wednesday, Thursday and Saturday; with trips to Boston Wednesday and Cincinnati Friday.

Republican presidential nominee enters the final month of the campaign. Two key sources:

—Maurice H. Stans, a Republican finance chairman, said some 150,000 people have sent small contributions to the GOP campaign. Their donations average $15 apiece for a total of $2.25 million. That is with a month of money raising to go.

—A network of $1,000 dinners produced an estimated $4.5 million after expenses for the GOP presidential race. Campaign moneymen now are planning a series of $100 fund-raising dinners.

One top campaign source said Nixon's treasury also is receiving substantial support from people who give $1,000 and up.

A Nixon aide said it is not possible to report just how much money will be spent and may never be because of the proliferating campaign committees involved in national and state operations for the GOP ticket.

"Twenty million is the round figures we've all been shooting at," he said. "Actually it probably will be higher."

Mullins' Counterclaim Asks For $5 Million

LISBON — Officers of the Mullins Mfg. Co. have filed in Columbiana County Common Pleas Court a counterclaim for $5 million damages from Dempsey & Associates of Cleveland for alleged malicious prosecution.

The firms entered litigation Aug. 21 when Dempsey filed a replevin action here to recover 1,600,000 pounds of steel it shipped to Mullins in June and July. Dempsey said it had not been paid and the firm also asked $5,898.64 damages, which included freight.

The petition said Mullins received the steel from the plaintiff on credit, that the defendant is presently insolvent and that misrepresentation of solvency was made by Mullins to plaintiff within three months prior to delivery of the steel.

Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan went to the Mullins Plant Aug. 21 to take the steel, but was unable to locate it.

Dempsey subsequently filed in Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court a petition for $109,868.67 for the steel and for punitive damages of $500,000.

Defendants in the Cleveland action are Richard T. Frankensteen, former president of Mullins; Matthew Melitschka, assistant to the president; Richard Winkler, chief purchasing agent, and John D. Kleon, all of Salem, and Harry D. Hirsch, president and chairman of the board of directors, and Gordon Scullion, vice president and treasurer, both of Cleveland. Kleon is assistant to Scullion.

Dempsey said these individuals were responsible for and authorized the purchase of steel for Mullins' manufacturing operations.

The Cleveland firm alleges the defendants ordered the steel knowing Mullins would not be able to pay for it.

In their answer to the replevin action and in support of their claim for $5 million, the defendants said, "Statements made in the petition in the Cleveland suit were made falsely, maliciously with intention to inflict irreparable harm on the defendants and on Mullins, and constitute actionable defamation."

were connected with the hijacking, the 19th since Jan. 30.

In Havana, Mexican Ambassador Miguel Covian, who arranged for the release of the passengers and plane, said he found the hijack difficult to explain "when there are regular commercial flights between Mexico and Cuba."

Airline officials said the woman had boarded the plane earlier in Mexico City with a round trip ticket and was on her way back.

Capt. Eroza said the woman told him she had lived in Mexico for six years. He said the woman gave no information about her husband or any of her activities.

When the plane flew over Cuban soil, Eroza said, the woman collapsed and threw away the pistol in the cabin "but it was already too late to turn back because the fuel was low."

preliminary talks in Paris, but he added "the Communist aggressors have a greater responsibility to de-escalate this war than we, the defenders. By refusing to respond to our gesture of goodwill in de-escalating this war, the Communists are obstructing the peace talks."

Hanoi is attempting "to delude international public opinion" Thieu said, by claiming the continued bombing of North Vietnam south of the 20th parallel is an obstacle to peace negotiations.

The basic issue, however, is an end to the war, not an end to the bombing, he added. To confuse the two, not only obstructs peace but also risks extending the conflict, the president said.

"We are willing and ready to take any action which can hasten the establishment of a just and honorable peace, but we cannot take any action that will prolong the war or will reward aggression. . . . It is now up to Hanoi to let us know how a total cessation of bombing over the remaining part of North Vietnam will bring both sides closer to peace."

Legal Pot Party

Fire Department Sets Open House Tuesday Night

Open house will be held Tuesday night by the Liverpool Township West Fire Department in observance of Fire Prevention Week.

Chalmer Gifford, assistant fire chief, said the event will begin at 6:30 in the station.

The equipment and trucks also will be displayed at Liverpool Township Grange 2750 Thursday night about 6 for the benefit of residents in the Oak Grove - Campground Rd. - Peterson Rd. - Kountz Ave. areas, which are covered by the department.

Gifford reminded that fire burning permits are still needed until in November. They will be issued to residents by Mrs. Lucy Cronin of LaCroft Ave., fire warden.

Membership remains open in the department for area men, Gifford said. Those interested may inquire at the station.

Two Motorists Cited In Hancock Accident

Two motorists were cited following a two - car accident at the intersection of Route 8 and the Washington School Rd. Saturday at 5 p.m.

Roy D. Freeman, 18, of New Cumberland RD 1 was cited for passing at an intersection after the car he was driving struck one operated by Oleta H. Staats, 44, of New Cumberland RD 2 as she was turning left onto the Washington School Rd.

Mrs. Staats was cited for failure to signal and for having a faulty turn signal.

Constable William Webster investigated.

The hearings have been set for tonight before Squire John D. Herron at New Cumberland.

The catbird was so named because when frightened it makes a sound like the meow of a cat.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Just over half, or 130 million, of the Soviet Union's 224 million people speak Russian. The U.S.S.R. is the largest contiguous area ruled by one government — extending west to east from Poland to the Pacific and up to 3,000 miles southward from the Arctic Ocean. Within these boundaries 148 languages in addition to Russian are spoken.

Urban Development. But the committee cut the amount to $1 million.

One Fund Eliminated

The Justice Department also requested $300,000 to carry out its role in enforcing open housing, but the entire sum was eliminated by the committee.

A $19.2 million request for a new juvenile delinquency control and prevention program was trimmed to $5 million by the committee. Grants under the program would help finance comprehensive planning by states and local agencies.

The bill would appropriate funds mainly for new programs enacted by Congress since the original budget estimates were submitted.

The committee eliminated completely 12 requests for funds for other programs under the new housing legislation.

The programs for which no money was provided include grants to provide more services for public housing tenants and for areawide planning for metropolitan development.

The committee also disallowed a $1.5 million request for launching a new program of flood insurance.

Welding Cable Stolen At Construction Site

LISBON — Some 300 feet of rubber-covered welding cable worth $1 per foot was stolen over the weekend from the Routes 11 and 154 construction site near Elkton.

William Valentine, an employe of Allied Metals of Cleveland, reported the theft to Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan this morning. He said the crew had not worked since 5 p.m. Friday.

Crash Hurts City Woman

An East Liverpool woman remained in City Hospital today with injuries received in an auto accident early Sunday morning.

Norma Burson, 29, of Erie St. was taken to City Hospital following the one - car accident in which she was a passenger.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said David R. Jackson of Box 197, East Liverpool, was driving a 1965 coach south on Parkway Ext., just north of Pennsylvania Ave., at 1:45 a.m. Sunday when the auto went off the west side of the road and struck a guardrail.

Jackson was treated at the hospital and released. The woman was in "fairly good" condition this morning.

In an accident Saturday at 4:55 p.m. Willis Dotson, 20, of 304 Caldwell St., Lisbon, was driving a 1963 coach on Lisbon Rd. about a mile north of Route 45, and as his auto crested a hill, it was sideswiped by a 1963 coach operated by Mearl R. Culler, 70, of Salem RD 5. There were no injuries. Damage to the left side of both autos was moderate.

Sweeping through the jungled foothills about 30 miles southwest of Da Nang, allied troops reported 25 North Vietnamese soldiers killed.

U.S. losses were put at one dead and 12 wounded. There have been no South Vietnamese casualties reported.

One sweep centered around the Thuong Duc Special Forces camp, which screens North Vietnamese troop movements from the rugged foothills toward Da Nang and other key cities along the coast. The camp has been shelled by strong enemy forces for more than a week.

Beaver Falls Girl Wins 'Miss' Title In Beaver County

Valerie Estermyer of Quigley High School and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Estermyer Jr. of West Mayfield near Beaver Falls, was selected as the 1968 Beaver County Junior Miss at competition Saturday night at Beaver Area High School.

Master Charles Laughlin said there will be a special meeting of the fair board to hear committee reports and recommendations for next year's fair.

The group will hold a public card party at the Grange hall Oct. 12 at 8:30 p.m.

A donation was made in answer to an appeal by the Buffalo Grange of Bedford County. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Charles Elliott. The next meeting will be Oct. 17.

RIGORS OF OPAL MINING

Some gems and mineral forms are easier to recover from the earth than others. Among the most dificult we must rank diamonds, and then certainly, opals. The mining conditions of the adventurous men who dig for opal in Australia are extremely arduous. Shafts must be sunk into the earth up to 90 feet in depth, and slanting "shelfs" of rock must be dug out over large expanses of ground. Even then, an opal formation may not be found.

In the last decade, most of the modern mining activity has occurred in the Lightning Ridge and Coober Pedy areas about 500 miles north of Sydney, Australia. Here, scores of men work for months in complete isolation much like the miners of the 1840's in California who were seeking gold. Like them, the miner or group who strikes a large opal vein may overnight realize riches beyond his dreams. To others, there is only despair. The fever that possesses these men is similar.

Without this backbreaking work, our lovely ladies and gem fanciers would not be able to enjoy the beauties of precious opal. The main color in an opal pattern may be red (the most valued), orange, green or blue. Combinations of these colors in a harlequin effect are also most attractive. It takes a well trained jeweler, however, to properly evaluate opal for several things must be taken into consideration: colors, type of patterning, and excellence of material. Some opal is cut rather flat, and occasionally, doublets and triplets are made to give the opal more body. Usually, cabochon cutting is preferred.

Opal is attractive for both men and women, and being the birthstone for the October-born is particularly favored by them. Do let us show you some of the lovely specimens from our stock.

Mullins' Counterclaim Asks For $5 Million

LISBON — Officers of the Mullins Mfg. Co. have filed in Columbiana County Common Pleas Court a counterclaim for $5 million damages from Dempsey & Associates of Cleveland for alleged malicious prosecution.

The firms entered litigation Aug. 21 when Dempsey filed a replevin action here to recover 1,600,000 pounds of steel it shipped to Mullins in June and July. Dempsey said it had not been paid and the firm also asked $5,898.64 damages, which included freight.

The petition said Mullins received the steel from the plaintiff on credit, that the defendant is presently insolvent and that misrepresentation of solvency was made by Mullins to plaintiff within three months prior to delivery of the steel.

Sheriff Russell J. Van Fossan went to the Mullins Plant Aug. 21 to take the steel, but was unable to locate it.

Dempsey subsequently filed in Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court a petition for $109,868.67 for the steel and for punitive damages of $500,000.

Defendants in the Cleveland action are Richard T. Frankensteen, former president of Mullins; Matthew Melitschka, assistant to the president; Richard Winkler, chief purchasing agent, and John D. Kleon, all of Salem, and Harry D. Hirsch, president and chairman of the board of directors, and Gordon Scullion, vice president and treasurer, both of Cleveland. Kleon is assistant to Scullion.

Dempsey said these individuals were responsible for and authorized the purchase of steel for Mullins' manufacturing operations.

The Cleveland firm alleges the defendants ordered the steel knowing Mullins would not be able to pay for it.

In their answer to the replevin action and in support of their claim for $5 million, the defendants said, "Statements made in the petition in the Cleveland suit were made falsely, maliciously with intention to inflict irreparable harm on the defendants and on Mullins, and constitute actionable defamation."

In Havana, Mexican Ambassador Miguel Covian, who arranged for the release of the passengers and plane, said he found the hijack difficult to explain "when there are regular commercial flights between Mexico and Cuba."

Capt. Eroza said the woman told him she had lived in Mexico for six years. He said the woman gave no information about her husband or any of her activities.

In Upcoming Congress

Ohio Republicans Hope To Gain Chairmenships

By DON BANDY
Associated Press Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Who was the last Ohioan to be a committee chairman in the U.S. House of Representatives?

You have to go back to the 83rd Congress, 1955-56, when the late Rep. Robert L. Crosser, Cleveland Democrat, headed the Banking and Currency Committee.

But Ohio Republicans are shooting to better this mark by five times in November.

For the upcoming Congress, five Ohioans would become committee chairmen if they are re-elected and Republicans gain control of the House.

This would be an enviable position, making the Buckeye lawmakers a powerful force in Washington. Committee chairmanships are based on seniority, and these five Ohio incumbents would be in line to become committee heads:

Mrs. Frances Bolton, Lyndhurst, Foreign Affairs; William M. McCulloch, Piqua, Judiciary; Frank Bow, Canton, Appropriations; William Ayres, Akron, Education and Labor, and John Ashbrook, Johnstown, Un-American Activities.

McCulloch is a cinch to be re-elected in the 4th District. He has no Democratic opposition. Only Mrs. Bolton faces a real tough race for re-election.

The 83-year-old widow is battling Democrat Charles A. Vanik in the 22nd District. Vanik, 54, is an incumbent from the neighboring 21st District, but decided to run in the 22nd after his old district was reapportioned, making it predominantly Negro.

Mrs. Bolton has been an institution in Congress. She's been in the House 28 years and is seeking re-election to her 15th consecutive term. Vanik has been a congressman 14 years.

Mrs. Bolton, a fiscal conservative, is said to be running scared.

A liberal, Vanik is a member of the House Ways and Means Committee and has voted for increased federal spending for urban and social problems.

Ayres, 14th District; Bow, 16th and Ashbrook, 17th, are expected to win re-election. Ayres, 52, is being challenged by State Sen. Oliver Ocasek. Bow, 67, is running against Massillon city solicitor Virgil L. Musser, while Ashbrook, 39, is opposed by Robert W. Levering, a Fredericktown farmer.

In addition to nailing down five chairmenships, other Ohio Republican incumbents could become vice chairmen on other committees. They are William H. Harsha, Portsmouth, Public Works; Samuel L. Devine, Columbus, Interstate and Foreign Commerce; Jackson E. Betts, Findlay, Standards of Official Conduct; Charles A. Mosher, Oberlin, Science and Astronautics; and Ayres, Veterans Affairs.

Republicans presently outnumber Democrats 19-5 in the Ohio Congressional delegation, and GOP leaders say chances are good to increase this in November.

This year will produce Ohio's first Negro congressman. Real estate broker Charles P. Lucas, Republican, and Attorney Louis Stokes, brother of Cleveland Mayor Carl B. Stokes are competing for the 21st District seat. Stokes, a Democrat, is favored to win and will draw a lot of voters because of his name.

Lost Battalion Members Hold Manhattan Reunion

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Fifty years ago Sunday, David Tulchin crouched in a foxhole in the Argonne Forest in France, ducking German bullets and wondering how long he would survive.

Tulchin, now 74, sat in the dining room of a Manhattan hotel Sunday, exchanging reminiscences with 25 other survivors of the World War I battle.

The 26 are among 70 men, scattered in 18 states, who were part of the so-called Lost Battalion which was trapped behind German lines, but whose members stood their ground for five days and five nights against overwhelming odds.

Out of 554 men from the First Battalion, 308th Infantry, 77th Division of the American Expeditionary Forces who began the battle only 193 survived.

Each year, the steadily dwindling number of survivors meet for a reunion.

"We were all drafted men," recalled Tulchin, who is retired now and lives with his wife of more than 30 years in an apartment on Manhattan's upper West Side. "I was just an office worker when I was drafted."

Of the battle, Tulchin said, "We advanced until we found ourselves surrounded by Germans although actually it wasn't until the morning after the siege began that we knew we were surrounded. You expected that by lunchtime the problem would be solved."

But the men of the battalion held off the Germans from the night of Oct. 2 until the night of Oct. 7 when help arrived.

"We had no food, no ammunition, no medical supplies," Tulchin said. "As people died and somebody else was wounded, there was nothing you could do but take the old bandage and reapply it."

Finally, said Tulchin, "on the evening of Oct. 7 the rest of the American troops got through."

Rescue brought no sense of relief, however, Tulchin said, "because in the Army, it might get worse the next day."

Tulchin returned to New York in May 1919, and got a job in a stationery store. Later, he went back to office work and retired several years ago.

Guilford Grange Seats Officers, Maps Activities

GUILFORD — A team from Mile Branch Grange officiated when officers of Guilford Grange were installed Saturday night.

Mrs. Bernice Arter again was inducted as master.

Others seated were: Max Houlette, overseer; Mrs. Joe Mattevi, lecturer; Rudy Falk, chaplain; Mrs. Richard Broomhall, secretary; Miss Hilda Snyder, financial secretary Emmett Caldwell, treasurer; Frederick Houlette, gatekeeper; James Wernet, steward; Mr. and Mrs. Allen Blackburn, assistant man and lady stewards; Caldwell, executive committee for three-year term and Blackburn for a one-year term; Mrs. Falk, Ceres; Miss Beulah Sell, Pomona; Mrs. Max Houlette, Flora; Frank Murray, legislative chairman; Mrs. Eldon Whinery, junior matron, and Mrs. Max Houlette, women's activity chairman.

Plans were made for a public ham supper.

Ruritans will hold a public auction at the grange in the near future. The Pomona Grange degree team will be at the Guilford Grange Oct. 19.

Five applications were received for membership.

The Bowman School reunion will be held at the grange Nov. 10; Ruritan will be served Nov. 16, and the Guilford Civic Association will meet Oct. 31.

The next regular meeting will be Nov. 2.

Wayne School Group Installs New Officers

LISBON — Officers were installed when the Wayne Home and School League met Thursday night at the school.

They are: Shirley Vincent, president; C. R. Boston, vice president; Mrs Donna Jean Vincent, treasurer, and Mrs. Charles Fogle, secretary.

The group voted to purchase a new water cooler for the school with funds from two recent gifts.

Art Expert Claimed

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Dr. Ernest T. DeWald, who devoted much of his life to saving Italy's art treasures from war and natural disaster, died Saturday after collapsing at the Columbia-Princeton football game. He was 77. During World War II, DeWald advised the U.S. Army Air Corps so that buildings of historic and artistic value could be saved from bombing. In 1967 he helped in efforts to restore art works damaged in the flooding of Florence, Italy. DeWald retired in 1960 as a professor of art at Princeton University.

2 Drivers Fined On Patrol Counts

Two motorists were fined today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on charges filed by the Ohio Highway Patrol.

James L. Shannon was fined $15 and costs on a charge of operating an auto with a defective exhaust. He was cited by the patrol Sunday at 6:20 p. m. on Route 7. Roy S. Cox, 25, of 1048 Dresden Ave. drew a fine of $15 and costs on a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. He was ordered to pay court costs on a charge of operating an auto with a defective exhaust. Cox was cited by the patrol Sept. 30 at 11:35 p. m. on Route 30.

Larry R. Jackson, 20, of 824 Pennsylvania Ave. was granted a continuance until Thursday on a charge of driving a car without a muffler. He was cited Sunday at 12:55 p.m. on Route 7.

John T. Mencini Jr. of Cleveland forfeited a $22.50 bond on a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. He was cited Friday at 4:50 p.m. on Route 30.

New Cast But The Same 'Lassie'

Following the "Lassie" series on TV is becoming almost as heart-rending an experience as keeping up with "Peyton Place." Four years ago Lassie was separated from Jon Provost and June Lockhart. Before that, Lassie's masters were Jan Clayton, Tommy Rettig and the late George "Gramps" Cleveland.

Hal Humphrey

Now, next Sunday forest ranger Corey Stuart (Robert Bray), who has had "Lassie" the past four seasons, is injured so seriously in a forest fire that "Lassie" will have to be looked after by two new forest rangers, Scott Turner (Jed Allan) and Bob Erickson (Jack DeMave).

-:-

THIS EPISODE is the first of a two-parter, and following the second one "Lassie" goes with Ranger Scott to Alaska for three shows. Ranger Stuart's name doesn't come up again. He just fades away.

Apparently Bray, who played Stuart, was getting a little long in the tooth, and series owner Jack Wrather and producer Bob Golden decided some younger blood was needed. As for "Lassie," she's like all women, ageless (the collie who started as "Lassie" 14 years ago was retired sometime ago).

"Our stories are going to be more contemporary and deal with the problems of today's youth. There'll be a whole new attitude in the series," says associate producer Bonita Granville, former actress and series owner Wrather's wife for nearly 25 years.

ONCE IN AWHILE she takes a bit part in a "Lassie" episode ("just to see if I still can act") and does some voice-over narration, too, besides keeping a busy office as associate producer.

Since Wrather bought the "Lassie" series (2½ years after it went on the air) for $3.5 million, it's become one of the most successful properties on TV. The only entertainment personalities on the air consistently longer thas "Lassie" are Ed Sullivan and Red Skelton.

In addition to the revenue from the current "Lassie" series, there's the rerun income from the old episodes, which are spilt into two series — one starring Tommy Rettig, the other Jon Provost. Twenty - two countries outside the United States also buy the new series.

WHEN CHOOSING "Lassie's" two new "godfathers," the Wrathers thought about name actors, including Robert Lansing, but decided on Allan and DeMave, because after all, Lassie is the name. Allan and DeMave had done bit parts in other Lassie episodes, so were known to the Wrathers.

The two rangers will more or less alternate as Lassie's masters, and in the three Alaska episodes there's an Eskimo boy (Mark Miranda, a Mexican) who figures prominently.

By "more contemporary" stories, Bonita says she is talking about stories on water pollution, the Job Corps and so forth. There's still going to be plenty of adventure, too, she says, but against more modern situations.

"WE'RE GOING more places to film 'Lassie' this year — Alaska, New Mexico, Oregon, and so on. We take a back seat to nobody in TV when it comes to getting around to different locations," maintains Bonita.

In most network time cities, "Lassie" this season will have tougher competition. NBC has started a combination live and animated half-hour series on "The Adventures of Huck Finn," and ABC has a new science-fiction thriller in "Land of the Giants."

This viewer, however, still will bet on "Lassie." The dog's acting ability still surpasses that of most of the bipeds seen on TV. The look of mourning on "Lassie's" face when she hears of the seriousness of Ranger Stuart's injuries is as good a piece of histrionics as I've seen on my TV screen yet this season.

NAACP Here To Fight Third Party's Drive

A firm stand against the third-party presidential campaign, "without any demonstrations or disruptive tactics," was announced in correspondence received by the East Liverpool Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People from the national organization during the chapter's meeting here Saturday.

Caesar A. Peters, president of the East Liverpool Chapter, said the local branch "will promote this policy through the news media to urge voters to go out and vote on Election Day for either of the two major parties."

The committee to compose the announcements includes Mr. and Mrs. Byron Carter, Alonzo Spencer and Caesar Peters.

The NAACP holiday seal campaign committee was appointed — Mrs. Peters, Miss Helen Maxie, Mrs. Ruby Lacey, Mrs. Paul Randall and Mrs. Jane Moss. Seals will be mailed to solicit financial support. Proceeds will be used to help support the Freedom Fund and the local branch.

Members of the nominating committee appointed by the president are the Rev. Paul Randall, chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Carter, Mrs. Spencer and Mrs. Anna Mae Jones.

The committee will meet at the home of Mrs. Spencer Oct. 15 at 7:30 p.m. to prepare the slate to be presented at the next meeting.

Miss Maxie, membership chairman, reported six new members. She reminded the group that new or renewal memberships are accepted at any time. Other committee reports were heard.

The next meeting will be Nov. 2.

By JOHN MUELLER

The Midland Leopards provided little more than a stepping stone for the Trafford Tomahawks in their hopes for a WPIAL class B title as the Leopards bowed 23-13 to the 'Hawks at Trafford Saturday afternoon.

The Leopards paid for their miscues, missed blocks and missed tackles as they made a belated attempt to halt the title war dance of the victors.

Especially evident in the Midland defeat was the ever haunting fumble of a punt, once again paving the way for the winners' first TD. The blocking was below par as the Midland offense had nowhere to go and little help in doing what it accomplished. The poor blocking was evident when the Leopards attempted to use George Green to toss the long bomb. Time is necessary on this play but for some reason not a single Leopard attempted to halt the rush of the Tomahawks' big tackle, John Bukovac. Green attempted the play three times in one series and Bukovac was the spoiler each time, causing a short wobbly pass that was nearly intercepted, throwing Green for a three-yard loss the second time and forcing him to scramble for a four-yard gain on the third attempt. Midland tried the same play in the dying moments of the game and once again Bukovac had a clear shot at the passer, forcing another wobbly attempt.

The Leopards' offense on the whole bogged down. Blocking for the backs as they attempted to turn the ends was inadequate. Cracking the center was useless as big Jackson Nunn was there to slap the runners down, so the Leopard backs were left little choice.

Midland's two Td's were startling runs by Elbert (Bub) Bynum, the Leopards' speedster. Trafford had just registered their last touchdown in the fourth period. Bynum took the ensuing kickoff on the Leopards' 19, rushed up the center, broke into the open at approximately the 35 and cut to the right side, going 81 yards for the TD with 5:24 remaining in the game.

Bynum's second scamper was more spectacular and one that is referred to in most games as the turning point but on this occasion it came too late. Greg Braund's kickoff following the Leopard TD went into the end zone and the 'Hawks put the ball in play on their 20 yard line. They picked up a first down on three plays at the 30. Steve Lenart was thrown for a seven yard loss and Vince Cortazzo was able to pick up only five yards on the next play. Lenart surprised the Leopards with a pass to Frank Raspotnik on the Trafford 43 and taking no more than three steps the big end lateralled to Vince Cortazzo, who trailed the play perfectly and rambled down the sidelines to the Leopard eight where he was forced out of bounds.

The stage was set but Lenart was overanxious and tried to hand off the pigskin before he had a firm grip. The result was a fumble that at least three Leopards pushed, grabbed or bumped all the way to the 21 before Bynum scooped up the ball and went 70 yards for the score.

Trafford is powerful. Their defense, with Frank Raspotnik and Dennis Zeravica taking care of the flanks and Nunn backing the line, will play havoc with any offense unless the blocking is there to open the way. The Tomahawk offense is not overpowering, but the opposing defense cannot let up on runners like Nunn, Jim Mastroianni and John and Vince Cortazzo. Once these backs get the impetus or the break, they manage to get their teammates up for the scoring play. This situation ocurred early in the game.

Trafford took the opening kickoff and on the first series was forced to kick. Mastroianni's punt, good for 21 yards, was fumbled on the Trafford 45 by Bynum and Zeravica recovered for the 'Hawks on their 38.

Trafford needed just 11 plays to score with Nunn going over right guard from one yard out. Nunn added the PAT by placement and Trafford led 7-0 with 5:36 to play in the opening session.

Midland had its golden opportunity to score late in the period when Roy Walker blocked Mastroianni's kick at the midfield stripe with the Leopards taking over on the Trafford 43.

The Leopards moved the ball to the Tomahawks' 20 where their threat died as they picked up just two yards in four tries.

Trafford's second TD was a quick one and it lifted the 'Hawks to greater efforts. Late in the third period the Leopards were forced to kick from the Midland 43 and Braund's punt was blocked by John Cortazzo. Burkovac picked up the loose oval in the vicinity of the Midland 38 and went in for the score. Nunn added the PAT by 14-0 with 1:10 left in the period.

Trafford moved in for their next score following the only interception of the game. The Leopard's Bynum tossed a halfback option pass on the first play following the kickoff and Rich Matulja picked it off on the Trafford 47 yard line and returned it to midfield. Trafford used 10 plays to move it to the Leopards' 21, where the drive stalled. Nunn booted a field goal from that point and it was 17-0 with 8:22 remaining to play.

Trafford came right back for its last score. The Leopards failed to make the necessary yardage following the kickoff and had to punt. Scrimmaging at the 41, Braund was under a stiff rush by Bukovac and Raspotnik and barely got the kick away. Steve Moreci picked off the oval at the Leopard 44 and returned it to the Leopard 35. Midland drew a 15 yard personal foul penalty on the tackle and Trafford had a first and 10 at the 20. Nunn picked up five on a slant over right tackle. Lenart, on a keeper, swung very wide around right end on the next play and then cut back almost parallel to the line of scrimmage to the center of the field, then headed goalward and scored standing up to make it 23-0 with 5:34 remaining to play. Nunn's PAT attempt was blocked.

The Leopards two startling touchdown runs followed but it was too little, too late.

Trafford stretched its winning streak to 12 and remained in the WPIAL Class B title chase with a better than average chance to make a playoff spot. The Leopards now sport a 3-2 record. It was their last Class B contest of the season. Midland meets Class A Burgettstown at the Midland stadium Friday night.

The insidious influence of TV creeps into sports more and more each day.

A good example was yesterday in Detroit. The fourth game of the World Series was played despite a downpour that threatened to float Tiger Stadium off its foundations. If the game had been a regular-season contest, of no special importance, it never would have been started. But because NBC did not want to miss the big Sunday TV audience, and let them view instead football on CBS or a pre-Olympic show on ABC, the game was started, and then resumed and continued through the abominable playing conditions.

The Cardinals jumped to an early lead and then made a travesty of the game by making deliberate outs to speed the contest until it became an official five-inning affair. Detroit refrained from stalling excessively, but maybe they knew who was really in charge of the game, and were resigned to playing no matter what the weather.

WOODY HAYES is widely criticized for being a conservative coach, but Saturday's game against Oregon gave the OSU mentor some ammunition to fight the critics. The Bucks beat the Ducks 21-6, but didn't look good, and will have to improve quite a bit to have a chance against Purdue next week.

Ohio State gained 456 yards, but couldn't put together a sustained scoring drive. Two scores came on long plays, and the other on a blocked punt. OSU usually passes about as frequently as the Steelers win a game, but against Oregon the Buckeyes looked like the Washington Redskins with Sonny Jurgenson, the way the footballs filled the air. The Bucks attempted 25 passes, and while 12 were completed, four were picked off by Oregon, and along with two OSU fumbles, the interceptions were enough to keep the Ohio State offense off balance.

Outmanned Oregon played an outstanding defensive game and trailed only 7-6 at halftime, without a point being scored on the defense.

On one occasion Hayes pleased the fans by gambling on a fourth and one from his own 31 right after the second-half kickoff. Rex Kern, the outstanding quarterback, made the yardage on a rollout.

Generally though, Hayes was criticized. When an OSU safetyman shied away from a punt, one leather-lunged adherent commented sarcastically: "That's right, don't take chances. You'll play a lot for Woody that way".

And that's the way Woody prefers it. Without an accurate passing attack, the Buckeyes are sure to try the ground-hugging ball-control approach against Purdue.

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Now that Bob Gibson has made another farce of his celebrated World Series confrontation with Denny McLain, the pitchers may call a cease fire and join the same team.

Gibson, who overwhelmed McLain and the rest of the Detroit Tigers with a five-hit, 17-strikeout performance in the Series opener, threw another five-hitter as St. Louis battered McLain and five other pitchers 10-1 Sunday.

That gave the Cardinals 3-1 edge in the series and left it up to Mickey Lolich, the only successful Tiger hurler, to keep the season alive in his duel with Nelson Briles today. Lolich beat Briles in the second game last Thursday.

Before gaining his seventh straight complete game Series victory, Gibson had to work and wait through four hours and 25 minutes of rain, mist and cold.

That was a lot longer than McLain was around—the 31-game winner removed himself from the game during the 74-minute, third-inning rain delay—but when the game finally had ended, the pitchers found themselves making similar post-Series plans.

The plans revolve around Vice President Hubert Humphrey, the Democratic presidential candidate who visited both clubhouses after sitting through the long afternoon.

"I'm going to back that man," McLain said, adding he would join Humphrey's campaign tour for two or three days after the Series.

"I'll probably get into Washington after the season, and I imagine we'll probably get together," Gibson said following an invitation from Humphrey to meet with him. "I'm a Democrat, but I'm not a politician. I'm a pitcher."

And McLain was the first to second that statement.

★ ★ ★ Gibson Wins 10-1 ★ ★ ★

"He's a great, great competitor, one of the greatest I've ever seen," the 24-year-old Tiger said.

McLain disclosed he asked to be taken out of the game because his right shoulder was bothering him. But he refused to use that as an alibi for a performance in which he was rocked for four runs and six hits in 2 2-3 innings.

At the same time, McLain said he doesn't think his two Series losses rub any of the luster off his 31-victory season, the first in the majors in 37 years.

"I don't think it's embarrassing to get knocked about in a World Series," he said.

"There are guys who have lost two games before. Sandy Koufax lost two a few years ago and Whitey Ford lost two before that."

"And it can't hurt me one dime financially either. I'm booked solidly all winter long. There's nothing that can hurt that. I guess my pride is the biggest thing that's hurt."

His pride started taking a bigger dip on the second pitch of Sunday's game, when Lou Brock smashed a 415-foot home run after his leadoff appearance had been delayed by rain for 37 minutes.

By the time the rain was falling heavily enough for time to be called—in the third inning—the Cardinals had rapped McLain for five more hits and three more runs.

When play resumed 74 minutes later, McLain no longer was the Detroit pitcher.

"I told Mayo I just couldn't continue and asked him to take me out," McLain explained, staring at the ground. "My shoulder has been bothering me since the Baltimore series last month, and it was real sore today.

"I didn't want to hurt my arm anymore because I have other seasons to think of."

The Tigers had the game to think of, and they did their best to delay it long enough for the rain to become unbearable.

In the top of the fourth inning, first baseman Norm Cash went to the mound to talk to relief pitcher Daryl Patterson. In the bottom of the inning, Willie Horton went to the dugout to clean his spikes and his bat and Jim

McLain Sidelined With Sore Shoulder

By LARRY PALADINO

DETROIT (AP) — Is Denny McLain washed up for the rest of the World Series?

According to Detroit Manager Mayo Smith, Denny "will be able to pitch again in the Series."

But McLain isn't sure.

"I'm finished for the Series," said McLain, who complained about a sore shoulder after the Tigers got bombed 10-1 in the fourth game Sunday as St. Louis pounded six Tiger pitchers for 13 hits including two home runs, two triples and three doubles. The Cards lead the Series, 3-1.

McLain was the starter and loser and was relieved by Joe Sparma after 2 2-3 innings with the score 4-0.

Denny said later that he wouldn't know until results of an appointment with a doctor today if he would be okay to pitch again against St. Louis.

He said he told Smith to take him out of the game because of the pain in his right shoulder.

The 31-game winner has been undergoing X-ray treatments for his ailment since the beginning of September, but he said: "Anymore X-ray treatments would be harmful to my system, so I'm not taking anymore."

"I forgot to take a pain pill before the game, and it took that much longer for me to get loose," he said of his pitching troubles Sunday.

"There are no alibis in this game either," he added, "You either win or lose."

"We'll use Joe Sparma in the sixth game in case Earl Wilson's not ready," Smith said, referring to a swollen right knee that caused him to take Wilson out of Saturday's game. "We have to wait day by day on this," he said. "If he can't pitch, Sparma will."

Wellsville Wins 74-0 In LL Play

Also yesterday, Chester edged Stanton 6-0 on a score by Bobby Davis, Saturday night, Warren crushed Toronto 40-6.

Crestview Loses To McDonald 42-6

Generally though, Hayes was criticized. When an OSU safetyman shied away from a punt, one leather-lunged adherent commented sarcastically: "That's right, don't take chances. You'll play a lot for Woody that way".

And that's the way Woody prefers it. Without an accurate passing attack, the Buckeyes are sure to try the ground-hugging ball-control approach against Purdue.

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Now that Bob Gibson has made another farce of his celebrated World Series confrontation with Denny McLain, the pitchers may call a cease fire and join the same team.

Gibson, who overwhelmed McLain and the rest of the Detroit Tigers with a five-hit, 17-strikeout performance in the Series opener, threw another five-hitter as St. Louis battered McLain and five other pitchers 10-1 Sunday.

That gave the Cardinals 3-1 edge in the series and left it up to Mickey Lolich, the only successful Tiger hurler, to keep the season alive in his duel with Nelson Briles today. Lolich beat Briles in the second game last Thursday.

Before gaining his seventh straight complete game Series victory, Gibson had to work and wait through four hours and 25 minutes of rain, mist and cold.

That was a lot longer than McLain was around—the 31-game winner removed himself from the game during the 74-minute, third-inning rain delay—but when the game finally had ended, the pitchers found themselves making similar post-Series plans.

The plans revolve around Vice President Hubert Humphrey, the Democratic presidential candidate who visited both clubhouses after sitting through the long afternoon.

"I'm going to back that man," McLain said, adding he would join Humphrey's campaign tour for two or three days after the Series.

"I'll probably get into Washington after the season, and I imagine we'll probably get together," Gibson said following an invitation from Humphrey to meet with him. "I'm a Democrat, but I'm not a politician. I'm a pitcher."

And McLain was the first to second that statement.

"He's a great, great competitor, one of the greatest I've ever seen," the 24-year-old Tiger said.

McLain disclosed he asked to be taken out of the game because his right shoulder was bothering him. But he refused to use that as an alibi for a performance in which he was rocked for four runs and six hits in 2 2-3 innings.

At the same time, McLain said he doesn't think his two Series losses rub any of the luster off his 31-victory season, the first in the majors in 37 years.

"I don't think it's embarrassing to get knocked about in a World Series," he said.

"There are guys who have lost two games before. Sandy Koufax lost two a few years ago and Whitey Ford lost two before that."

"And it can't hurt me one dime financially either. I'm booked solidly all winter long. There's nothing that can hurt that. I guess my pride is the biggest thing that's hurt."

His pride started taking a bigger dip on the second pitch of Sunday's game, when Lou Brock smashed a 415-foot home run after his leadoff appearance had been delayed by rain for 37 minutes.

By the time the rain was falling heavily enough for time to be called—in the third inning—the Cardinals had rapped McLain for five more hits and three more runs.

When play resumed 74 minutes later, McLain no longer was the Detroit pitcher.

"I told Mayo I just couldn't continue and asked him to take me out," McLain explained, staring at the ground. "My shoulder has been bothering me since the Baltimore series last month, and it was real sore today.

"I didn't want to hurt my arm anymore because I have other seasons to think of."

The Tigers had the game to think of, and they did their best to delay it long enough for the rain to become unbearable.

In the top of the fourth inning, first baseman Norm Cash went to the mound to talk to relief pitcher Daryl Patterson. In the bottom of the inning, Willie Horton went to the dugout to clean his spikes and his bat and Jim

McLain Sidelined With Sore Shoulder

By LARRY PALADINO

DETROIT (AP) — Is Denny McLain washed up for the rest of the World Series?

According to Detroit Manager Mayo Smith, Denny "will be able to pitch again in the Series."

But McLain isn't sure.

"I'm finished for the Series," said McLain, who complained about a sore shoulder after the Tigers got bombed 10-1 in the fourth game Sunday as St. Louis pounded six Tiger pitchers for 13 hits including two home runs, two triples and three doubles. The Cards lead the Series, 3-1.

McLain was the starter and loser and was relieved by Joe Sparma after 2 2-3 innings with the score 4-0.

Denny said later that he wouldn't know until results of an appointment with a doctor today if he would be okay to pitch again against St. Louis.

He said he told Smith to take him out of the game because of the pain in his right shoulder.

The 31-game winner has been undergoing X-ray treatments for his ailment since the beginning of September, but he said: "Anymore X-ray treatments would be harmful to my system, so I'm not taking anymore."

"I forgot to take a pain pill before the game, and it took that much longer for me to get loose," he said of his pitching troubles Sunday.

"There are no alibis in this game either," he added, "You either win or lose."

"We'll use Joe Sparma in the sixth game in case Earl Wilson's not ready," Smith said, referring to a swollen right knee that caused him to take Wilson out of Saturday's game. "We have to wait day by day on this," he said. "If he can't pitch, Sparma will."

Wellsville Wins 74-0 In LL Play

Also yesterday, Chester edged Stanton 6-0 on a score by Bobby Davis, Saturday night, Warren crushed Toronto 40-6.

Crestview Loses To McDonald 42-6

Beaver Local Blanks United For 3rd Straight Shutout

HANOVERTON — Beaver Local won its third straight game by a shutout here Saturday afternoon, downing United Local 12-0.

The Beavers held the Golden Eagles, 1-4, to 25 yards in total offense. Dick Bryan's team is now 3-2.

For the first time this season, the Beavers showed a semblance of a passing attack. Late in the first period Tim Mellon connected with Bruce Diddle on a 40-yard pass, then one play later hit Dave Doak for 30 yards and a TD.

But the running attack continued to be the mainstay of the Beaver offense, gaining 199 yards. Jim Bowersock led the way with 49 yards on 14 carries, while Lew Brown had 46 on 11, Mellon 39 on 12 and Diddle 28 on 7.

Bowersock returned a Jim Erb punt 55 yards for the other tally. He ran through the entire United team on his way to the score.

The Beaver linebackers, led by Scott Dubberly and Brown, repeatedly caught United quarterback Hank Loudon and his mates for losses. Defense tackle Tom Wolfe was also outstanding on defense.

Dixonville Loses First

Glenmoor Still Unbeaten In Bill Booth Grid Play

In Pee Wee games, Dixonville remained unbeaten with a 26-6 win over Northside. Mike Payne had two TDs to lead the winners and Randy Wilkinson ran 45 yards for the losers' score.

West End blanked St. Al's 20-0 as Steve Baker scored twice and Jim Olstead once, and Glenmoor blanked East End 26-0 as Mike Arthur scored twice and Greg Southall and Tim Fenton once each.

Next week Northside and East End meet at Bell Field and St. Al's faces Dixonville at Thompson Park.

Shaffer, Nuzzo Go 9-1, Yogis Trip On Massillon

The Review Grid Yogis, or at least most of them, tripped over Massillon and Trafford over the weekend, with the consensus showing an 8-2 mark.

Rose Nuzzo and Bob Shaffer, who correctly predicted Trafford's 23-13 win over Midland, posted 9-1 marks, missing only on Massillon's 16-8 win that ended Niles' 63-game home winning streak. Turk Pierce and Chuck Campbell stayed tied for the lead, as they were with the consensus all the way. So was Pete Weaver.

Bob Duffy, who missed on East Liverpool's 14-13 win over Archbishop Carroll and Ed Clutter, who was wrong on Martins Ferry's 40-8 trouncing of Wellsville, had 7-3 marks.

Everyone was right with Beaver Local, a 12-0 winner over United Local; Triadelphia, a 6-0 winner over Oak Glen; East Palestine, a 40-14 winner over Lisbon; the Browns, a 31-24 conquerer of the Steelers; Southern Cal, a 28-3 victor over Miami (Fla.); and Penn State, which downs West Virginia 31-20.

Series

Northrup exchanged his broken bat.

The Cardinals countered in the fifth inning when Julivan Javier, on base with a two-out single, tried to steal second and was out easily.

Cardinal Manager Red Schoendienst insisted Javier had the steal sign and just left first too soon. But that move, and the others, induced the umpires to call Schoendienst and Tiger boss Mayo Smith to the plate for a conference.

"We didn't want one team to be hurrying and we didn't want one team to be stalling," plate umpire Bill Kinnamon said.

After allowing a hit in each of the first four innings, Gibson struck out Jim Price and Dick McAuliffe and retired Mickey Stanley on a fly to center. That made the game official.

The Cardinals, meanwhile, amassed 13 hits, including a home run by Gibson in the fourth and three hits by Brock—a homer, a triple and a three-run double in the eighth.

Gibson's blow made him the only pitcher ever to hit two homers in Series play, and Brock stole third after his double, giving him a record-tying seventh steal in this Series and a record-tying 14th for all of his Series play.

The first mark he tied was his own; the second belonged to Eddie Collins.

What Gibson and Brock and the rest of the Cardinals did was leave the Tigers with the almost impossible task of coming back from a 3-1 deficit.

The way things look now Gibson might not have to go through a third battle with McLain. In fact there's one question as to whether McLain would pitch again in the Series if it went to the seventh game.

Lou Brock Goes After Steal Record

By CHARLIE BAROUH
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP) — There was a record. Lou Brock wanted it. He got it.

"You're darn right I wanted it," Brock said about the 14th base he has stolen in World Series play.

Brock took a shot at it in the eighth inning. The bases were loaded, and Brock rammed the ball to the center field wall. He was almost to third, then suddenly wheeled around and darted back to second. Bob Gibson turned back to third, then ran home.

Third base coach Joe Schultz had put up the stop sign, but it was for Gibson, who was in front of Brock.

So Brock had a three-run double that capped the St. Louis Cardinal scoring as they beat the Detroit Tigers 10-1 Sunday in the fourth game of the World Series.

And then Brock stole third.

"If I got a chance to break it, I would," he added.

Brock admitted the record was the reason he tried to steal third. He said the club does not advocate stealing third.

Bob Gibson Sets Four Records

DETROIT (AP) — Dear Bob Gibson:

In the St. Louis dressing room Sunday, you were asked if you realized you had added to your collection of World Series records with your five-hit, 10-strikeout victory over Detroit.

You said you weren't aware of them, and added:

"Why don't you get me a record book, so I can keep up with those things."

Well, we can't let go of the record book until the World Series is over, but everything's been researched, and here's the list of records you put in the book while beating the Tigers 10-1 for a 3-1 Cardinal lead:

—Most consecutive victories, 7.

—Most consecutive complete game victories, 7.

—Most games, 10 or more strikeouts, 5.

—Most homers, career, pitcher, 2.

You also hold the strikeout record for a single game, and 17 you struck out in the opener last Wednesday—and you might have added the record for the longest time standing in the rain without an umbrella.

Gibson stood out in a steady drizzle for about three hours against the Tigers in the rain-plagued game and, despite an aching arm, a pulled leg muscle and Detroit's delaying tactics, gained his second victory in another head-to-head duel with 31-game winning Denny McLain, and hit a home run.

And despite the rain and the pain, the fireballing 32-year-old right-hander said not one word in complaint—even about the fuss created when the Tigers protested that the white part of his undershirt was showing in the fifth inning.

"I guess," said Gibson, "it was hanging down. They probably were right."

He felt the same about the Tigers' stalling tactics, designed to force a halt before the game became official.

"No, I wasn't upset," he said. "If we were in the same position, we probably would have done the same thing."

Vikings Top Lions 24-10, Take Central Lead

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Minnesota quarterbacks might give an unhealthy appearance after a conk on the head and a crack in the shoulder, but the Vikings never had it so good.

Minnesota, with only one finish above .500 in its seven-year history, took sole possession of first place in the Central Division of the National Football League by beating Detroit 24-10 Sunday with two injured quarterbacks.

During intermission, Kapp was deemed least injured and cleared his head long enough to direct the Vikings to two touchdowns and a field goal in the final half for Minnesota's third victory in four starts.

The loss dropped Detroit from a share of the top spot into a 2-2 tie with Green Bay, which broke a two-game losing streak with a 38-7 rout over Atlanta.

Dallas, 4-0, had its troubles with St. Louis before Mike Clark's 50-yard field goal sparked a 27-10 victory over the Cardinals. But the New York Giants, 4-0, kept pace with the Cowboys in the Capitol Division with a 38-21 sweep over New Orleans.

Baltimore and Los Angeles, each also 4-0, were unable to shake each other in the Coastal Division as the Colts rode Earl Morrall's four touchdown passes past Chicago 28-7 and Roman Gabriel directed the Rams by San Francisco 24-10.

Washington held off Philadelphia 1714 in the other Sunday contest.

Kapp returned in time to set up Fred Cox' 29-yard field goal before Bill Munson's 30-yard touchdown pass to Mel Farr tied it for Detroit.

But Kapp, running 20 yards and passing for 24 on one drive and throwing 53 yards to Gene Washington on a second, took the Vikings 73 and 39 yards for touchdowns.

The Packers climbed back into the race with 21 third-quarter points that spoiled Norm Van Brocklin's debut as Atlanta coach. Leading only 10-7 at the half, Donny Anderson ran for one score and then a fumble and a pass interception set up Bart Starr's second and third touchdown passes of the day.

Clark connected on the longest field goal of his career late in the third quarter and Chuck Howley stole a Jim Hart pass to set up a touchdown as Dallas broke a 10-10 tie.

A fumble recovery, an interception, and two pass interference calls set up four touchdowns for the Giants, and a penalty on the apparent last play of the half made a field goal possible.

Morrall, still giving Baltimore little reason to miss injured Johnny Unitas, connected on scoring passes of 50, 45, 38 and 66 yards with 14 completions in 25 tries for 302 yards.

Gabriel passed 41 yards to Bernie Casey for one score, drove one yard for another and set up a third with his passing for Los Angeles.

Sonny Jurgensen built Washington a 17-0 lead, throwing for one touchdown and running for another. But the Redskins barely survived as Norm Snead, returning after an exhibition game injury, passed for a touchdown and Al Haymond returned a punt 54 yards for another for the Eagles.

Collins Lost To Browns After Win Over Steelers

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Browns may have found a new starting quarterback, but they apparently lost flanker Gary Collins for the season as a result of Saturday night's 31-24 victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Bill Nelsen made his first start at quarterback and turned in an impressive performance, hitting on 16 of 25 pass attempts for 190 yards and one touchdown.

Collins was hit and injured on the Browns' first touchdown drive after taking a 35-yard pass from Nelsen. He was operated on Sunday at Shaker Medical Center Hospital, and doctors said the shoulder separation probably will keep him out for the rest of the year.

Team physician Dr. Vic Ippolito said two pins were inserted "and they won't be removed for at least six weeks."

He is the second veteran in the offensive backfield to be sidelined by injuries. Fullback Ernie Green was injured in a pre-season exhibition and missed the first four games.

Charley Leigh started at fullback and scored the Browns' first touchdown on a 20-yard run. Leroy Kelly also had a good night, carrying 25 times for 128 yards and scoring once on a two-yard run. Kelly engineered the Browns' final touchdown in the fourth quarter, starting a run from the Pittsburgh 32 and flipping a lateral to Eppie Barney as he went down on the eight. Barney went into the end zone for the score.

Dick Shiner, former Cleveland quarterback who started for the winless Steelers in place of Kent Nix, connected on a pair of touchdown tosses to Roy Jefferson. The first, for 18 yards, came in the second period and the second was a 23-yarder that tied the score.

Dixonville Loses First

Glenmoor Still Unbeaten In Bill Booth Grid Play

In Pee Wee games, Dixonville remained unbeaten with a 26-6 win over Northside. Mike Payne had two TDs to lead the winners and Randy Wilkinson ran 45 yards for the losers' score.

West End blanked St. Al's 20-0 as Steve Baker scored twice and Jim Olstead once, and Glenmoor blanked East End 26-0 as Mike Arthur scored twice and Greg Southall and Tim Fenton once each.

Next week Northside and East End meet at Bell Field and St. Al's faces Dixonville at Thompson Park.

Shaffer, Nuzzo Go 9-1, Yogis Trip On Massillon

The Review Grid Yogis, or at least most of them, tripped over Massillon and Trafford over the weekend, with the consensus showing an 8-2 mark.

Rose Nuzzo and Bob Shaffer, who correctly predicted Trafford's 23-13 win over Midland, posted 9-1 marks, missing only on Massillon's 16-8 win that ended Niles' 63-game home winning streak. Turk Pierce and Chuck Campbell stayed tied for the lead, as they were with the consensus all the way. So was Pete Weaver.

Bob Duffy, who missed on East Liverpool's 14-13 win over Archbishop Carroll and Ed Clutter, who was wrong on Martins Ferry's 40-8 trouncing of Wellsville, had 7-3 marks.

Everyone was right with Beaver Local, a 12-0 winner over United Local; Triadelphia, a 6-0 winner over Oak Glen; East Palestine, a 40-14 winner over Lisbon; the Browns, a 31-24 conquerer of the Steelers; Southern Cal, a 28-3 victor over Miami (Fla.); and Penn State, which downs West Virginia 31-20.

Series

Northrup exchanged his broken bat.

The Cardinals countered in the fifth inning when Julivan Javier, on base with a two-out single, tried to steal second and was out easily.

Cardinal Manager Red Schoendienst insisted Javier had the steal sign and just left first too soon. But that move, and the others, induced the umpires to call Schoendienst and Tiger boss Mayo Smith to the plate for a conference.

"We didn't want one team to be hurrying and we didn't want one team to be stalling," plate umpire Bill Kinnamon said.

After allowing a hit in each of the first four innings, Gibson struck out Jim Price and Dick McAuliffe and retired Mickey Stanley on a fly to center. That made the game official.

The Cardinals, meanwhile, amassed 13 hits, including a home run by Gibson in the fourth and three hits by Brock—a homer, a triple and a three-run double in the eighth.

Gibson's blow made him the only pitcher ever to hit two homers in Series play, and Brock stole third after his double, giving him a record-tying seventh steal in this Series and a record-tying 14th for all of his Series play.

The first mark he tied was his own; the second belonged to Eddie Collins.

What Gibson and Brock and the rest of the Cardinals did was leave the Tigers with the almost impossible task of coming back from a 3-1 deficit.

The way things look now Gibson might not have to go through a third battle with McLain. In fact there's one question as to whether McLain would pitch again in the Series if it went to the seventh game.

Lou Brock Goes After Steal Record

By CHARLIE BAROUH
Associated Press Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP) — There was a record. Lou Brock wanted it. He got it.

"You're darn right I wanted it," Brock said about the 14th base he has stolen in World Series play.

Brock took a shot at it in the eighth inning. The bases were loaded, and Brock rammed the ball to the center field wall. He was almost to third, then suddenly wheeled around and darted back to second. Bob Gibson turned back to third, then ran home.

Third base coach Joe Schultz had put up the stop sign, but it was for Gibson, who was in front of Brock.

So Brock had a three-run double that capped the St. Louis Cardinal scoring as they beat the Detroit Tigers 10-1 Sunday in the fourth game of the World Series.

And then Brock stole third.

"If I got a chance to break it, I would," he added.

Brock admitted the record was the reason he tried to steal third. He said the club does not advocate stealing third.

W. Beaver Defeated By Avonworth

AVONWORTH — Western Beaver dropped its fourth game in five starts here Saturday afternoon, falling 21-6 to the host Antelopes.

Bob Gibson Sets Four Records

DETROIT (AP) — Dear Bob Gibson:

In the St. Louis dressing room Sunday, you were asked if you realized you had added to your collection of World Series records with your five-hit, 10-strikeout victory over Detroit.

You said you weren't aware of them, and added:

"Why don't you get me a record book, so I can keep up with those things."

Well, we can't let go of the record book until the World Series is over, but everything's been researched, and here's the list of records you put in the book while beating the Tigers 10-1 for a 3-1 Cardinal lead:

—Most consecutive victories, 7.

—Most consecutive complete game victories, 7.

—Most games, 10 or more strikeouts, 5.

—Most homers, career, pitcher, 2.

You also hold the strikeout record for a single game, and 17 you struck out in the opener last Wednesday—and you might have added the record for the longest time standing in the rain without an umbrella.

Gibson stood out in a steady drizzle for about three hours against the Tigers in the rain-plagued game and, despite an aching arm, a pulled leg muscle and Detroit's delaying tactics, gained his second victory in another head-to-head duel with 31-game winning Denny McLain, and hit a home run.

And despite the rain and the pain, the fireballing 32-year-old right-hander said not one word in complaint—even about the fuss created when the Tigers protested that the white part of his undershirt was showing in the fifth inning.

"I guess," said Gibson, "it was hanging down. They probably were right."

He felt the same about the Tigers' stalling tactics, designed to force a halt before the game became official.

"No, I wasn't upset," he said. "If we were in the same position, we probably would have done the same thing."

Vikings Top Lions 24-10, Take Central Lead

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Minnesota quarterbacks might give an unhealthy appearance after a conk on the head and a crack in the shoulder, but the Vikings never had it so good.

Minnesota, with only one finish above .500 in its seven-year history, took sole possession of first place in the Central Division of the National Football League by beating Detroit 24-10 Sunday with two injured quarterbacks.

During intermission, Kapp was deemed least injured and cleared his head long enough to direct the Vikings to two touchdowns and a field goal in the final half for Minnesota's third victory in four starts.

The loss dropped Detroit from a share of the top spot into a 2-2 tie with Green Bay, which broke a two-game losing streak with a 38-7 rout over Atlanta.

Dallas, 4-0, had its troubles with St. Louis before Mike Clark's 50-yard field goal sparked a 27-10 victory over the Cardinals. But the New York Giants, 4-0, kept pace with the Cowboys in the Capitol Division with a 38-21 sweep over New Orleans.

Baltimore and Los Angeles, each also 4-0, were unable to shake each other in the Coastal Division as the Colts rode Earl Morrall's four touchdown passes past Chicago 28-7 and Roman Gabriel directed the Rams by San Francisco 24-10.

Washington held off Philadelphia 1714 in the other Sunday contest.

Kapp returned in time to set up Fred Cox' 29-yard field goal before Bill Munson's 30-yard touchdown pass to Mel Farr tied it for Detroit.

But Kapp, running 20 yards and passing for 24 on one drive and throwing 53 yards to Gene Washington on a second, took the Vikings 73 and 39 yards for touchdowns.

The Packers climbed back into the race with 21 third-quarter points that spoiled Norm Van Brocklin's debut as Atlanta coach. Leading only 10-7 at the half, Donny Anderson ran for one score and then a fumble and a pass interception set up Bart Starr's second and third touchdown passes of the day.

Clark connected on the longest field goal of his career late in the third quarter and Chuck Howley stole a Jim Hart pass to set up a touchdown as Dallas broke a 10-10 tie.

A fumble recovery, an interception, and two pass interference calls set up four touchdowns for the Giants, and a penalty on the apparent last play of the half made a field goal possible.

Morrall, still giving Baltimore little reason to miss injured Johnny Unitas, connected on scoring passes of 50, 45, 38 and 66 yards with 14 completions in 25 tries for 302 yards.

Gabriel passed 41 yards to Bernie Casey for one score, drove one yard for another and set up a third with his passing for Los Angeles.

Sonny Jurgensen built Washington a 17-0 lead, throwing for one touchdown and running for another. But the Redskins barely survived as Norm Snead, returning after an exhibition game injury, passed for a touchdown and Al Haymond returned a punt 54 yards for another for the Eagles.

Collins Lost To Browns After Win Over Steelers

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Browns may have found a new starting quarterback, but they apparently lost flanker Gary Collins for the season as a result of Saturday night's 31-24 victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers.

Bill Nelsen made his first start at quarterback and turned in an impressive performance, hitting on 16 of 25 pass attempts for 190 yards and one touchdown.

Collins was hit and injured on the Browns' first touchdown drive after taking a 35-yard pass from Nelsen. He was operated on Sunday at Shaker Medical Center Hospital, and doctors said the shoulder separation probably will keep him out for the rest of the year.

Team physician Dr. Vic Ippolito said two pins were inserted "and they won't be removed for at least six weeks."

He is the second veteran in the offensive backfield to be sidelined by injuries. Fullback Ernie Green was injured in a pre - season exhibition and missed the first four games.

Charley Leigh started at fullback and scored the Browns' first touchdown on a 20-yard run. Leroy Kelly also had a good night, carrying 25 times for 128 yards and scoring once on a two-yard run. Kelly engineered the Browns' final touchdown in the fourth quarter, starting a run from the Pittsburgh 32 and flipping a lateral to Eppie Barney as he went down on the eight. Barney went into the end zone for the score.

Dick Shiner, former Cleveland quarterback who started for the winless Steelers in place of Kent Nix, connected on a pair of touchdown tosses to Roy Jefferson. The first, for 18 yards, came in the second period and the second was a 23-yarder that tied the score.

Oakland Whips Boston

Dolphins Surprise Oilers; Broncos Nip Bengals 10-7

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The end may be just around the corner for the Houston Oilers but it probably won't be anything like the end around that did in the Boston Patriots Sunday.

The Oilers, defending champs in the American Football League's Eastern Division, were stunned by Miami 24-7 and fell into a last-place tie with Buffalo. Both have 1-4 records.

Meanwhile, Boston held a 10-7 halftime lead over the AFL champion Oakland Raiders. But a 41-yard end around by Warren Wells gave Oakland the lead in the third period and when the fireworks were over the Raiders had a 41-10 triumph, their 14th straight, equaling the league record.

In the only other Sunday game, Denver turned back Cincinnati 10-7 on a fourth-period touchdown pass from Steve Tensi to Mike Heffner. Saturday night, New York edged San Diego 23-20 and Kansas City beat Buffalo 18-7.

After Wells' touchdown, Daryle Lamonica passed 17 yards to Hewritt Dixon for another score and the unbeaten Raiders got their final tally of the third period on a 20-yard pass from Lamonica to Charlie Smith, who fumbled on the Boston seven. Fred Biletnikoff, who caught six passes for 107 yards, scooped up the loose ball and ran it in.

Houston, minus hospitalized quarterback Pete Beathard, was no match for previously winless Miami despite an early touchdown by Woodie Campbell. Willie West ran 20 yards with a lateral from John Bramlett, who recovered a Houston fumble, to tie the score. Larry Csonka gave the Dolphins the lead on a two-yard plunge. Bob Griese's 50-yard scoring pass to Karl Noonan iced it.

Griese completed seven of 12 passes for 92 yards and rookies Csonka and Jim Kiick rushed for 82 and 104, respectively. Bob Davis and Don Trull, filling in for Beathard, managed only seven completions in 23 attempts.

Quarterback Tensi, back in the Denver line-up for the first time since a pre-season injury, flipped a four-yard pass to Heffner in the closing minutes to give the Broncos their first victory. Tensi replaced Marlin "The Magician" Briscoe, who failed to move the Broncos.

Emerson Boozer plunged across on fourth down from a yard out to give the Jets their Saturday night win over San Diego before a record AFL crowd of 63,786. The Chargers had taken the lead with six minutes left when Gary Garrison caught his second touchdown pass of the game.

Jan Stenerud missed an extra point but kicked field goals of 18, 12, 16 and 15 yards in Kansas City's win over Buffalo. The conversion miss was Stenerud's first as a pro after 58 successful ones.

Mississippi Nips Alabama

'Mercury' Morris Rushes 340 Yards For Record

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Past performance? It didn't mean a thing to Mississippi's Rebels and West Texas State's Mercury Morris.

Ol' Miss ended a 58-year winless streak againt arch-rival Alabama, beating the Crimson Tide 10-8 Saturday on a 44-yard field goal by Perry King.

A crowd of 47,152—largest ever to see a football game in Mississippi—was on hand for the Rebels' historic victory.

Meawhile, Eugene Morris of West Texas, whose nickname is Mercury, exploded for 340 yards in 35 carries, setting a National Collegiate record in a 35-20 victory over Montana State.

Morris' one-man show erased a 20-year-old mark of 326 yards set by Fred Wendt of Texas-El Paso against New Mexico State on Nov. 25, 1948.

Elsewhere, Purdue and Southern California, the nation's top two teams, both won easily.

Leroy Keyes raced for three touchdowns as the Boilermakers romped to a 43-6 victory over Northwestern. It was Purdue's third straight victory.

USC won its third in a row, whipping 13th-ranked Miami 28-3. O. J. Simpson scored twice and gained 163 yards on 38 carries. It was the first loss for Miami.

Among The Associated Press' Top Ten teams, only ninth-ranked UCLA lost. The Bruins were beaten at Syracuse, 20-7, with Bill Maddox, a tight end, returning a UCLA onside kick for a touchdown to wrap it up in the fourth quarter.

Third-ranked Penn State topped stubborn West Virginia 31-20. The Nittany Lions simply wore down the Mountaineers, who had led early on a pair of TD passes by Mike Sherwood.

Florida, No. 4, won its third with a 31-14 triumph over Mississippi State. Fifth ranked Notre Dame bounced back from last week's loss to Purdue by punishing Iowa 51-28 with Terry Hanratty passing for one touchdown and running for two others.

Ohio State, ranked sixth, whipped Oregon 21-6 and set the stage for next week's Big Ten showdown with Purdue. Kansas, No. 8 and Louisiana State, No. 10, both romped. The Jayhawks bombed New Mexico 68-7 while LSU walloped Baylor 48-16.

Nebraska, ranked seventh, did not play.

OSU QB Rex Kern Has No Fracture

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— An Ohio State University team physician said X-rays of OSU quarterback Rex Kern's jaw Saturday showed no signs of a fracture.

The sophomore from Lancaster was hurt in a tackle in the second quarter of Saturday's OSU-Oregon game, but returned to his dormitory after examination at University Hospital. He is expected to be ready for next week's Purdue game.

Gay Brewer Wins Alcan Golf Tourney

SOUTHPORT, England (AP) — Gay Brewer, winner of pro golf's biggest purse for the second straight year, says he won't play much the rest of 1968.

"I'm going to Australia, but I don't have many commitments and I doubt if I'll play much real golf for the rest of this year," the 36-year-old Brewer said Sunday after picking up a $55,000 check for winning the Alcan Golfer of the Year Tournament.

Mike Phipps of Purdue is the nation's only active college quarterback who gained more than 2,000 yards last season. He gained 2,020 yards, 1,800 while completing 118 passes in 243 attempts.

Oakland Whips Boston

Dolphins Surprise Oilers; Broncos Nip Bengals 10-7

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The end may be just around the corner for the Houston Oilers but it probably won't be anything like the end around that did in the Boston Patriots Sunday.

The Oilers, defending champs in the American Football League's Eastern Division, were stunned by Miami 24-7 and fell into a last-place tie with Buffalo. Both have 1-4 records.

Meanwhile, Boston held a 10-7 halftime lead over the AFL champion Oakland Raiders. But a 41-yard end around by Warren Wells gave Oakland the lead in the third period and when the fireworks were over the Raiders had a 41-10 triumph, their 14th straight, equaling the league record.

In the only other Sunday game, Denver turned back Cincinnati 10-7 on a fourth-period touchdown pass from Steve Tensi to Mike Heffner. Saturday night, New York edged San Diego 23-20 and Kansas City beat Buffalo 18-7.

After Wells' touchdown, Daryle Lamonica passed 17 yards to Hewritt Dixon for another score and the unbeaten Raiders got their final tally of the third period on a 20-yard pass from Lamonica to Charlie Smith, who fumbled on the Boston seven. Fred Biletnikoff, who caught six passes for 107 yards, scooped up the loose ball and ran it in.

Houston, minus hospitalized quarterback Pete Beathard, was no match for previously winless Miami despite an early touchdown by Woodie Campbell. Willie West ran 20 yards with a lateral from John Bramlett, who recovered a Houston fumble, to tie the score. Larry Csonka gave the Dolphins the lead on a two-yard plunge. Bob Griese's 50-yard scoring pass to Karl Noonan iced it.

Griese completed seven of 12 passes for 92 yards and rookies Csonka and Jim Kiick rushed for 82 and 104, respectively. Bob Davis and Don Trull, filling in for Beathard, managed only seven completions in 23 attempts.

Quarterback Tensi, back in the Denver line-up for the first time since a pre-season injury, flipped a four-yard pass to Heffner in the closing minutes to give the Broncos their first victory. Tensi replaced Marlin "The Magician" Briscoe, who failed to move the Broncos.

Emerson Boozer plunged across on fourth down from a yard out to give the Jets their Saturday night win over San Diego before a record AFL crowd of 63,786. The Chargers had taken the lead with six minutes left when Gary Garrison caught his second touchdown pass of the game.

Jan Stenerud missed an extra point but kicked field goals of 18, 12, 16 and 15 yards in Kansas City's win over Buffalo. The conversion miss was Stenerud's first as a pro after 58 successful ones.

Mississippi Nips Alabama

'Mercury' Morris Rushes 340 Yards For Record

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Past performance? It didn't mean a thing to Mississippi's Rebels and West Texas State's Mercury Morris.

Ol' Miss ended a 58-year winless streak againt arch-rival Alabama, beating the Crimson Tide 10-8 Saturday on a 44-yard field goal by Perry King.

A crowd of 47,152—largest ever to see a football game in Mississippi—was on hand for the Rebels' historic victory.

Meawhile, Eugene Morris of West Texas, whose nickname is Mercury, exploded for 340 yards in 35 carries, setting a National Collegiate record in a 35-20 victory over Montana State.

Morris' one-man show erased a 20-year-old mark of 326 yards set by Fred Wendt of Texas-El Paso against New Mexico State on Nov. 25, 1948.

Elsewhere, Purdue and Southern California, the nation's top two teams, both won easily.

Leroy Keyes raced for three touchdowns as the Boilermakers romped to a 43-6 victory over Northwestern. It was Purdue's third straight victory.

USC won its third in a row, whipping 13th-ranked Miami 28-3. O. J. Simpson scored twice and gained 163 yards on 38 carries. It was the first loss for Miami.

Among The Associated Press' Top Ten teams, only ninth-ranked UCLA lost. The Bruins were beaten at Syracuse, 20-7, with Bill Maddox, a tight end, returning a UCLA onside kick for a touchdown to wrap it up in the fourth quarter.

Third-ranked Penn State topped stubborn West Virginia 31-20. The Nittany Lions simply wore down the Mountaineers, who had led early on a pair of TD passes by Mike Sherwood.

Florida, No. 4, won its third with a 31-14 triumph over Mississippi State. Fifth ranked Notre Dame bounced back from last week's loss to Purdue by punishing Iowa 51-28 with Terry Hanratty passing for one touchdown and running for two others.

Ohio State, ranked sixth, whipped Oregon 21-6 and set the stage for next week's Big Ten showdown with Purdue. Kansas, No. 8 and Louisiana State, No. 10, both romped. The Jayhawks bombed New Mexico 68-7 while LSU walloped Baylor 48-16.

Nebraska, ranked seventh, did not play.

OSU QB Rex Kern Has No Fracture

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— An Ohio State University team physician said X-rays of OSU quarterback Rex Kern's jaw Saturday showed no signs of a fracture.

The sophomore from Lancaster was hurt in a tackle in the second quarter of Saturday's OSU-Oregon game, but returned to his dormitory after examination at University Hospital. He is expected to be ready for next week's Purdue game.

Gay Brewer Wins Alcan Golf Tourney

SOUTHPORT, England (AP) — Gay Brewer, winner of pro golf's biggest purse for the second straight year, says he won't play much the rest of 1968.

"I'm going to Australia, but I don't have many commitments and I doubt if I'll play much real golf for the rest of this year," the 36-year-old Brewer said Sunday after picking up a $55,000 check for winning the Alcan Golfer of the Year Tournament.

Mike Phipps of Purdue is the nation's only active college quarterback who gained more than 2,000 yards last season. He gained 2,020 yards, 1,800 while completing 118 passes in 243 attempts.

'Total Environment' Idea Spreads

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

What is envriornmental design? People hear about it, but they aren't sure how it affects them.

It is a special something you may become aware of when you enter a modern bank, an up-to-date hospital, a planned park, a restaurant, a new church, houses that produce a pleasing effect upon the senses.

It is an effort by professional designers — architects, industrial, interior designers, builders — to organize together a total environment that is right for particular situations.

The professional planners do not always agree. Interior designers object to the cube idea that would stack people in box-like homes one on the other. It gets away from the pattern of individuality in its conformity, they explain.

And the designers may win the argument — an important trend is the growing influence of less than 45,000 interior designers in many areas of the design world.

FOR EXAMPLE, architect Clint Mochon of Milwaukee pointed out in a speech to a student seminar of the National Home Fashions League that architects may dream up new ideas but interior designers may be needed to make them work.

"The underground schoolroom or auditorium would be a grim and hopeless project without the 'Daylight' ideas of interior design. The skilled interior designer brings the outdoors to this land - locked underground schoolroom with warm, bright lighting and vibrant colors. He plans glass 'windows' looking out into corridors or into laboratories, he takes advantage of the lively green of living plants and the rich accent of paintings and sculpture," he said.

In Chicago, Tom Leatherwood, young interior designer, won recognition for his traffic court interior design in a competition initiated by the Young Lawyers Division of the American Bar Association. The lawyers were anxious to update facilities of antiquated courtrooms.

BANKS RUN the gamut of design from traditional — as La Banque in New York decorated in French and other antiques by Ellen McCluskey to stark modern, perhaps with an Alexander Calder mobile.

In Cincinnati, professional interior designers are now included in city planning sessions. More interior designers are becoming involved in community and civic designs for living and working, along with architects, builders, landscapers.

Designers are planning the interiors of boats, trains, planes. Interior designer Leona Kahn designed a suite in a railroad car for the head of a national railway system.

Museum interiors are no longer dreary edifices of stone displaying art. Interior designers work with architects in creating museum interiors that are pleasing to the eye.

Although his museum design created great impact, famed designer Frank Lloyd Wright was criticized by many people for the interior planning of New York's Guggenheim museum.

THE "TOTAL environment" idea must involve a great many specialists comprising a team so that each area of design compliments the other, says Dan Acito, Cincinnati interior designer.

The whole idea of design has grown so tall and so wide, as Alice might have discovered, that last year an Environment Research Council was formed by James Hewlett, president of the National Society of Interior Designers. They plan to investigate all facets.

In a preliminary survey prepared by Walter Kleeman, member of the group, many ideas were considered from human engineering and measurement to something called Proxemics, a term originated by Dr. Edward Twitchell Hall, noted anthropologist. Proxemics attempts to assess man's use of tion of culture.

For example, do we want to control noise? What is the ideal sound factor? Some people want to shut out noise but in some offices it has had to be introduced through air conditioning systems for "background" effects so that people can work better.

Conversational distances are being studied. Does one relate to people five feet away in comfort? Three and a half feet seems to be the maximum distance, Kleeman says.

ALL SORTS of studies are being made in connection with light reflection and there are some studies being made about percepion and interaction among humans with different cultural heritages.

People who move from one section of the country to another must communicate with people living there who have been living and working at a different pace.

Overcrowding in slums has been known to sicken and prematurely age people, often causing stress and death. Dr. Hall's research and studies have shown that rats, deer and other animals are disoriented and killed off by overcrowding.

All ideas must be studied, evaluated and applied to situations by using specialists in their fields — acoustical engineers, lighting engineers, architects, management consultants, city planners, anthropologists and many others.

Kleeman's contention is that professional interior designers must act as job captains, familiarizing themselves with the behavioral sciences so that they can call upon each specialist as he is needed to fulfill his part in creating a total environment.

Various Steps Are Outlined To Prepare Pool For Winter

AP Newsfeatures

Question: The house we bought last spring had a pool which our family enjoyed all summer. But, aside from draining out the water, how do we prepare the pool for the winter?

ANSWER: Don't drain out the water. Instead, lower the water level below the skimmer and turn inlets and either drain or blow out the lines above the ground frost line; then plug all the lines with a winterizing plug.

Water ballasts the pool against surrounding ground pressure or frost heaving, reduces natural deterioration to a minimum and providse fire protection in cases where the house is beyond the city water supply.

It has the additional advantage of allowing you to use the same water next spring. However, you should vacuum the pool in the fall and chemically prepare the water with about six pounds of a chemical conditioner and five to 10 pounds of chlorine or other agent, depending on the size of the pool.

Then put on a cover and the water will be ready for the spring following the usual filtering, vacuuming and chemical treatment. All pool equipment, of course, should be removed and stored. Frankly, this advice is given after talking to an authority from the Northeast Swimming Pool Association.

Our own feeling is that, because pools and weather conditions vary so much, most pool owners should contact a good pool service company, preferably one that has been recommended, and let it make the decisions as well as do the work. It's cheaper in the long run. And don't sign any contract until you read it thoroughly and understand every bit of it.

QUESTION: I want to install a floor tile on a concrete basement floor. I have read that, as long as I get the right kind of tile and cement, I can put the tiles right on the concrete without plywood or hardboard underlayment. Our concrete floor is not painted, but it's very rough. Must it be smoothed and how is this done?

ANSWER: A power sander, which can be rented and fitted with an open - coated abrasive paper for use on concrete, will smooth most floors.

In cases where it appears that it might be an endless job to smooth an extremely rough concrete surface, you can purchase a mastic underlayment. This accomplishes the same purpose as a plywood or hardboard underlayment on wooden floors.

Recessed Radiators Help In Modernizing Of Home

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

Every year thousands of modernizing and redecorating projects are started by home owners.

According to statistics, about 50 per cent of these are repainting and repapering jobs, 35 per cent are minor alteration jobs and 15 per cent are major additions or improvements, such as another bedroom, finishing off the attic or expanding the garage to accommodate two cars.

It is surprising to note that practically none of the improvements or modernization projects includes doing anything about the radiators in the house.

Everyone living in a home which is heated by the old type of heavy, bulky radiators knows that they are the original eyesore. They stand out in rooms to such an extent that they make furniture placement difficult. They always seem to be in the way of any kind of effort to improve the decorating scheme and, worst of all, they take up a great amount of floor space.

In the average case, the home owner has tried to hide them or improve their appearance with radiator covers, but the bulk is still there and greater than ever.

The answer to this particular problem is to change the old type of radiator to the recessed type, which is flush with the walls. The difference this makes in any room, particularly the living room, is almost unbelievable. The area looks larger, smoother and more modern.

The actual mechanics of having such a job done are uncomplicated, as the connections are already there. Any good carpenter can cut out the wall behind a radiator and install the necessary heater and make the recess required.

As a matter of fact, any good home mechanic can do the work himself. The alterations necessary to the piping are done in the basement and simply consist of removing the vertical lines coming up through the floor and moving them over to come up in the recess.

It's Off With The Old Before Finishing New

In refinishing a previously painted or varnished surface, the best results will be obtained by completely removing the old finish.

Sanding can be a chore, however, and until recently, chemical paint and varnish removers were almost more trouble than they were worth.

But in recent years removers have come along that work faster, bite deeper and do not require an after-wash to neutralize or remove any traces. Many are nonflammable and odors are not so pronounced.

IF THE old paint job is an accumulation of too many coats or if the surface is cracked and blistered, consider complete removal. Remember that a new finish will adhere much better to an unfinished surface than to a finished one.

Even if you left the old paint or varnish on, you would still have to do some sanding to provide "tooth" for the new coat. Otherwise the new finish would not adhere well and might even run.

Among the many varieties of removers you will find two basic types, the free - flowing liquid kind and the heavy-bodied types. Use the liquid on horizontal surfaces, the heavier substance on vertical surfaces where it might run.

Follow manufacturer's instructions to the letter. Generally speaking, you should provide plenty of ventilation, since all removers give off fumes, though the newer ones are not as bad as the old.

Wear rubber gloves, since these substances are caustic and even the mildest of them can cause irritation. Avoid splashing and keep the youngsters away.

THE NEW removers do more than just soften the old finish. They loosen it right from the base so that you can peel it off. Some may require anywhere from 10 to 30 minutes before you can start removing the old paint.

Regardless of the time estimate on the label, experiment on a small area first. See just how much time you should leave the remover on before you can start work.

Some will soften the surface quickly. You can actually see the old paint start to bubble up. Try it to see if it comes off right down to the bare wood. If not, you may have to leave it on a little longer.

Some removers evaporate faster than others, making the surface go dry again. If this happens, another application is necessary. With such removers, apply only what you can handle in a short period of time.

USE A putty knife or paint scraper on large, flat surfaces. In grooves and corners, use steel wool or rags. Small spots that are left can be cleaned up with steel wool dipped in remover.

Some removers can be washed off. The label will recommend the proper wash, usually a detergent and water.

When applying the remover, brush in one direction only—not back and forth as you would with paint. The latter method breaks the film that the remover forms. The gases trapped under the film help loosen the old paint.

Unless the label indicates that the remover contains a wax that must be removed (usually with turpentine), you are ready to apply the new finish just as soon as the surface is dry. Stick to the newer removers, read the label and you can save a lot of work.

Step-By-Step Remedy Offered For Squeaks

Squeaks in a stairway are annoying. They also may be an indication that wear and tear are starting to take their toll.

Taking care of the annoying squeaks will take care as well of potentially dangerous situations.

A stairway consists of treads, the horizontal part you step on; stringers, which are the sides and are clearly visible in basement stair construction but which will be masked as part of the woodwork elsewhere, and risers, the vertical boards at right angles to the treads.

SQUEAKS come about from friction between tread and riser. Friction results as construction begins to loosen with wear and age.

Drive pairs of finishing nails at angles through the tread and into the riser. Have someone stand on the tread to force it down while you make the repair.

Sometimes the riser fits into a joint on the underside of the tread. Thin, wood wedges, coated with glue, can be driven into the joint to tighten it. This joint is sometimes covered with molding which will have to be removed and then put back after the repair is made.

When nailing, drive the nails below the surface. Use a nail set to get the nail head down and then fill with plastic wood.

TREADS, if not protected with a cover (rubber, linoleum, carpeting, etc.), will become worn at the edge. In time this may splinter and break off. Chisel out a recess where the wood is worn and replace with a piece of hardwood. Glue it in place and plane it flush with the rest of the tread. Round the edge so that the contour is the same. Then finish it to match.

If a tread is damaged to the extent that it cannot be repaired, remove it and make another. Use the old tread as a pattern for the new. Reassemble with wood screws for greater strength.

Handrails are fastened to the wall with metal brackets. Wall brackets may become loose because screws were not run into the studs. Remove the brackets and replace the screws with anchor bolts, toggle bolts or some combination of anchor and screw so that the screw is not in plaster alone.

AN OUTSIDE handrail (away from the wall) is held in place by a post at its base and supported by balusters (smaller posts) throughout its length.

A loose handrail can be traced to a loose post. Run long wood screws through the base of the post and into the stringer to draw it up tight. Countersink the screws and fill with plastic wood. Loose balusters should be glued and nailed to make them more secure.

'Total Environment' Idea Spreads

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

What is envriornmental design? People hear about it, but they aren't sure how it affects them.

It is a special something you may become aware of when you enter a modern bank, an up-to-date hospital, a planned park, a restaurant, a new church, houses that produce a pleasing effect upon the senses.

It is an effort by professional designers — architects, industrial, interior designers, builders — to organize together a total environment that is right for particular situations.

The professional planners do not always agree. Interior designers object to the cube idea that would stack people in box-like homes one on the other. It gets away from the pattern of individuality in its conformity, they explain.

And the designers may win the argument — an important trend is the growing influence of less than 45,000 interior designers in many areas of the design world.

FOR EXAMPLE, architect Clint Mochon of Milwaukee pointed out in a speech to a student seminar of the National Home Fashions League that architects may dream up new ideas but interior designers may be needed to make them work.

"The underground schoolroom or auditorium would be a grim and hopeless project without the 'Daylight' ideas of interior design. The skilled interior designer brings the outdoors to this land - locked underground schoolroom with warm, bright lighting and vibrant colors. He plans glass 'windows' looking out into corridors or into laboratories, he takes advantage of the lively green of living plants and the rich accent of paintings and sculpture," he said.

In Chicago, Tom Leatherwood, young interior designer, won recognition for his traffic court interior design in a competition initiated by the Young Lawyers Division of the American Bar Association. The lawyers were anxious to update facilities of antiquated courtrooms.

BANKS RUN the gamut of design from traditional — as La Banque in New York decorated in French and other antiques by Ellen McCluskey to stark modern, perhaps with an Alexander Calder mobile.

In Cincinnati, professional interior designers are now included in city planning sessions. More interior designers are becoming involved in community and civic designs for living and working, along with architects, builders, landscapers.

Designers are planning the interiors of boats, trains, planes. Interior designer Leona Kahn designed a suite in a railroad car for the head of a national railway system.

Museum interiors are no longer dreary edifices of stone displaying art. Interior designers work with architects in creating museum interiors that are pleasing to the eye.

Although his museum design created great impact, famed designer Frank Lloyd Wright was criticized by many people for the interior planning of New York's Guggenheim museum.

THE "TOTAL environment" idea must involve a great many specialists comprising a team so that each area of design compliments the other, says Dan Acito, Cincinnati interior designer.

The whole idea of design has grown so tall and so wide, as Alice might have discovered, that last year an Environment Research Council was formed by James Hewlett, president of the National Society of Interior Designers. They plan to investigate all facets.

In a preliminary survey prepared by Walter Kleeman, member of the group, many ideas were considered from human engineering and measurement to something called Proxemics, a term originated by Dr. Edward Twitchell Hall, noted anthropologist. Proxemics attempts to assess man's use of tion of culture.

For example, do we want to control noise? What is the ideal sound factor? Some people want to shut out noise but in some offices it has had to be introduced through air cronditioning systems for "background" effects so that people can work better.

Conversational distances are being studied. Does one relate to people five feet away in comfort? Three and a half feet seems to be the maximum distance, Kleeman says.

ALL SORTS of studies are being made in connection with light reflection and there are some studies being made about percepion and interaction among humans with different cultural heritages.

People who move from one section of the country to another must communicate with people living there who have been living and working at a different pace.

Overcrowding in slums has been known to sicken and prematurely age people, often causing stress and death. Dr. Hall's research and studies have shown that rats, deer and other animals are disoriented and killed off by overcrowding.

All ideas must be studied, evaluated and applied to situations by using specialists in their fields — acoustical engineers, lighting engineers, architects, management consultants, city planners, anthropologists and many others.

Kleeman's contention is that professional interior designers must act as job captains, familiarizing themselves with the behavioral sciences so that they can call upon each specialist as he is needed to fulfill his part in creating a total environment.

Various Steps Are Outlined To Prepare Pool For Winter

AP Newsfeatures

Question: The house we bought last spring had a pool which our family enjoyed all summer. But, aside from draining out the water, how do we prepare the pool for the winter?

ANSWER: Don't drain out the water. Instead, lower the water level below the skimmer and turn inlets and either drain or blow out the lines above the ground frost line; then plug all the lines with a winterizing plug.

Water ballasts the pool against surrounding ground pressure or frost heaving, reduces natural deterioration to a minimum and providse fire protection in cases where the house is beyond the city water supply.

It has the additional advantage of allowing you to use the same water next spring. However, you should vacuum the pool in the fall and chemically prepare the water with about six pounds of a chemical conditioner and five to 10 pounds of chlorine or other agent, depending on the size of the pool.

Then put on a cover and the water will be ready for the spring following the usual filtering, vacuuming and chemical treatment. All pool equipment, of course, should be removed and stored. Frankly, this advice is given after talking to an authority from the Northeast Swimming Pool Association.

Our own feeling is that, because pools and weather conditions vary so much, most pool owners should contact a good pool service company, preferably one that has been recommended, and let it make the decisions as well as do the work. It's cheaper in the long run. And don't sign any contract until you read it thoroughly and understand every bit of it.

QUESTION: I want to install a floor tile on a concrete basement floor. I have read that, as long as I get the right kind of tile and cement, I can put the tiles right on the concrete without plywood or hardboard underlayment. Our concrete floor is not painted, but it's very rough. Must it be smoothed and how is this done?

ANSWER: A power sander, which can be rented and fitted with an open - coated abrasive paper for use on concrete, will smooth most floors.

In cases where it appears that it might be an endless job to smooth an extremely rough concrete surface, you can purchase a mastic underlayment. This accomplishes the same purpose as a plywood or hardboard underlayment on wooden floors.

'Instant Age'

Antiquing Kits Do Trick

The "old" look is the "new" look in furniture! You can achieve this effect without having to scour antique shops or attics.

Just use one of the new antiquing kits now on the market to provide the instant charm of antiquity. Antiqued cabinets, chairs and tables add a certain charm to any home. And these pieces blend well with all types of furniture — from Danish modern or ornate Victorian.

Fortunately for you, antiquing kits come in a wide array of colors. So you never have to worry about finding a kit that's compatible with your color scheme. You'll find antiquing kits available in basic colors—red, blue, yellow — and the secondary colors, too.

THE ULTIMATE results of your antiquing job may depend on whether or not the piece of furniture is sanded properly. The recommended method is to use three different grades of sand paper.

First, use a coarse grade, then a medium grade and finally a fine grade. Deep areas and cuts need not be sanded smoothly. They will absorb more of the toner and will help produce a "distressed" effect.

If a "distressed" finish isn't what you had in mind, then fill scratches and mars with plastic wood filler. When it is dry, sand it smooth. After you have finished sanding, dampen a cloth with mineral spirits and clear all surfaces of dust. When the piece is dry, you may apply the undercoat.

Applying the undercoat is the second phase of antiquing. Follow the manufacturer's directions exactly and keep stirring the coating so that no pigment will settle at the bottom of the can.

A wide, flat brush will serve you well in applying this undercoating. Just use long, smooth strokes and brush with the grain of the wood. This will help assure an even coverage. Let this coat dry at least 12 hours, preferably 24. When it is dry, sand lightly and proceed to the next step.

THE THIRD phase of antiquing is applying the toner. Stir the toner thoroughly with a wooden paddle and read the label instructions carefully. Apply a thin coat of toner the same way you applied the undercoating. Use a wide, flat brush and apply it with long, smooth strokes.

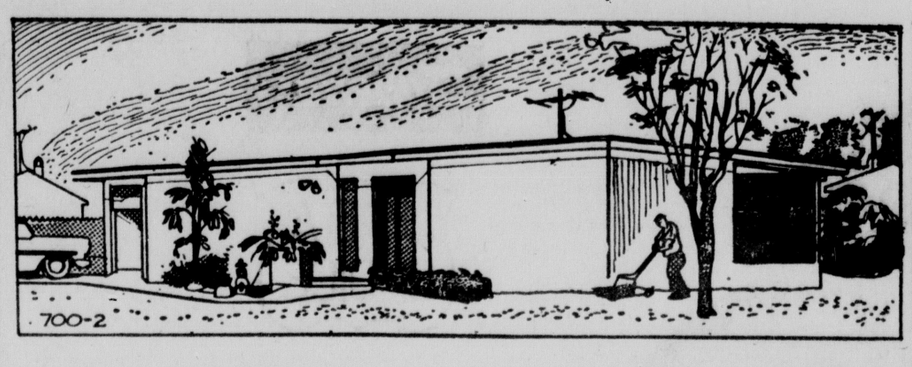
It's wise to paint carved trim and crevices first so that they will absorb more of the toner. This will add highlights to the piece. Let the toner set for 10 to 30 minutes before beginning to rub.

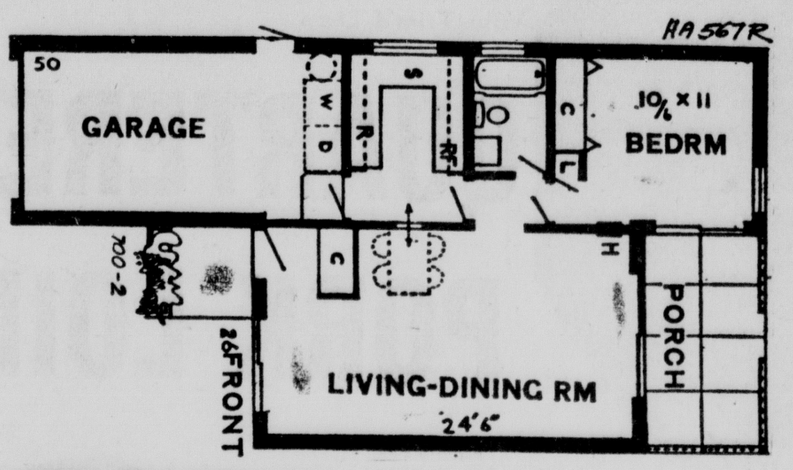
Rubbing is an art. Just use your imagination to find the right medium. It can be cheese cloth, a dry brush or steel wool. For crevices and carving, rub with a cotton tip. Rub large, flat areas in long, even strokes. Begin with a light touch and apply more pressure as you go along.

Experiment a bit. If you find the toner is too dry, dampen your cloth with mineral spirits. If rubbing shows that the toner hasn't set long enough, then simply apply another coat of toner and wait a little longer.

When you've finished rubbing, let the paint dry completely. This will usually take 24 hours. You may then apply a coat of clear varnish if you like. Or wait a week and wax the surface.

With instant age in antiquing kits, you can have an antiqued piece in your home in a matter of hours and soon enjoy the mellowness of beautifully painted wood.





THIS FLORIDA RETIREMENT HOME can be built on a 38-foot lot. Its size is 26 by 50 and it has 700 square feet of living space. There are no major windows facing nearby neighbors: the only windows facing the sides are from the kitchen and the bathroom. The living room window is recessed from the street. For plumbing economy, the U-shape kitchen is centered between the bathroom and the washer, dryer and water heater. There is a pass-through window between the kitchen and the dining alcove. The bedroom has a large closet and the entryway closet forms an alcove there. The screened porch is accessible from both the bedroom and the living room. Windows Can Get Stuck From Paint Or Moisture

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

When a window balks a bit every time it is raised or lowered, applying a lubricant to the edges of the sash and siding areas may keep it in operating condition.

But when the window won't budge at all, the problem is a little more difficult to solve. Unfortunately, too many persons think a screwdriver is the answer.

The blade of the screwdriver is inserted between the window sash and the beading and held there with one hand while the top of the tool is hit with a hammer.

IF THIS is done vigorously, and if the screwdriver blade is moved to several different positions, the procedure brings results.

At which point, the wielder of the screwdriver and hammer congratulates himself (or herself) on achieving his objective: getting the window open. But what always happens is that all kinds of gouges and other conspicuous marks remain as testimony of the method used.

Most of the time, when a window is stuck so that it won't move even an inch, it's because hardened paint is bonding the sash to the beading or channel into which the sash is set. The solution is to break that bond—but not with a screwdriver blade.

Instead, use a putty knife, held as flat as possible against the sash, or a tool made especially for such a purpose. Most hardware stores carry it, but you'll find a putty knife effective.

Sometimes the window will come loose when the paint seal is brokn at one or two points. But usually it is necessary, working very carefully and slowly, to move the knife entirely around the window sash.

IT IS also possible, when the condition is not very severe, to thump the sash with your hands to dislodge the paint. But this is a calculated risk because of the possibility of loosening or cracking the pane.

The lesson for the future is: when painting a window, be a little less careless in applying the paint and be a little more careful in seeing that the paint is not permitted to harden in the sliding channel.

While hardened paint is the chief offender, there are occasional times when an inspection of the sash will disclose that this is not the cause of the stuck window. In that case, it is probably that the sash has absorbed moisture and expanded.

A return to dry conditions may make the window work again, but if it must be opened at once, the sash will have to be taken out of the frame and sanded at the points where it has been sticking.

This is not child's play and should not be attempted unless you have some idea of what you are doing.

Getting back to that lubricant, once the window has been restored to working order, an application of it to the sliding parts a couple of times a year will help to avoid future trouble.

Sound Advice Is Given On A Slippery Matter

AP Newsfeatures

Wetting a cake of soap and then rubbing it on the slides is a common way of getting a drawer to move easily. Funny part is, it often works. But it also puts moisture into the wood. And this is what may have caused the trouble in the first place.

It is rare indeed when the sides and bottoms of bureau drawers are finished properly, if at all. The result is that, after a period of time, an excessive amount of moisture finds its way into the wood and causes it to swell and warp. If the warpage is not severe, the drawer may be made to move again by rubbing its edges and the slides with soap.

It will just be a question of time, however, before the problem presents itself again, and it probably will be a lot more difficult to solve than the first time.

THE PROPER lubricant is paraffin or one of the other products made especially for use on wood. But this won't work if the drawer is severely warped. In that event, sandpaper both the drawer edges and the slides, then use the lubricant.

The proper procedure is to sand a little, test, sand a little, test, etc. The frequent tests are necessary to be sure that too much wood isn't taken off. Sealing the wood with a coat of shellac, especially the parts that have been exposed by the sanding, is a step that will prevent the future entry of moisture.

Putting a space heater or a dehumidifier in the room near the bureau often will shrink the wood within a few hours or, at the most, a day, permitting the drawer to operate properly again. Here, again, sealing is neceseary to prevent later trouble.

THE application of heat, by the way, is sometimes used to loosen a drawer that gets stuck after being opened part of the way. This is done with an electric bulb, which is placed in the opening until it shrinks the wood. But it must be done very carefully so that the bulb doesn't touch anything that might easily ignite.

When a drawer refuses to open because it is being blocked by an object or simply because it is overloaded, remove the drawer above it to see whether the offending item can be dislodged. If not — or if it is a top drawer—it may be necessary to remove the back of the bureau.

This is not as difficult as it might seem, because the back usually is attached only with small nails or screws. In some cases, however, the rear of the bureau is so well attached that taking it off is a major project that should be attempted only by someone with carpentry experience.

Here's How To Get Rid Of That Shovel

Emancipation is available, the Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Information Bureau at Chicago points out. You can have an automatic snow-melting system installed. It's one of the special benefits of hydronic heat.

With hydronic heat, water from a boiler is piped to radiation in the various rooms, most often baseboard. In a snow-melting system, pipe is embedded in the sidewalks and driveway, and a mixture of hot water and anti-freeze is pumped through it.

The system can be operated either manually or automatically. Snow melts as fast as it strikes the heated surface. The chief advantage of an automatic system is, of course, that it goes on even if you're asleep or away from home.

Installing a snow - melting system requires the technical knowledge of a qualified heating contractor. Depending upon the average snowfall in your area, he'll decide whether your existing boiler can handle the extra load (it usually can), how much pipe to lay, how to lay it, what type of anti-freeze to use, what the system will probably cost to operate, etc.

'Instant Age'

Antiquing Kits Do Trick

The "old" look is the "new" look in furniture! You can achieve this effect without having to scour antique shops or attics.

Just use one of the new antiquing kits now on the market to provide the instant charm of antiquity. Antiqued cabinets, chairs and tables add a certain charm to any home. And these pieces blend well with all types of furniture — from Danish modern or ornate Victorian.

Fortunately for you, antiquing kits come in a wide array of colors. So you never have to worry about finding a kit that's compatible with your color scheme. You'll find antiquing kits available in basic colors—red, blue, yellow — and the secondary colors, too.

THE ULTIMATE results of your antiquing job may depend on whether or not the piece of furniture is sanded properly. The recommended method is to use three different grades of sand paper.

First, use a coarse grade, then a medium grade and finally a fine grade. Deep areas and cuts need not be sanded smoothly. They will absorb more of the toner and will help produce a "distressed" effect.

If a "distressed" finish isn't what you had in mind, then fill scratches and mars with plastic wood filler. When it is dry, sand it smooth. After you have finished sanding, dampen a cloth with mineral spirits and clear all surfaces of dust. When the piece is dry, you may apply the undercoat.

Applying the undercoat is the second phase of antiquing. Follow the manufacturer's directions exactly and keep stirring the coating so that no pigment will settle at the bottom of the can.

A wide, flat brush will serve you well in applying this undercoating. Just use long, smooth strokes and brush with the grain of the wood. This will help assure an even coverage. Let this coat dry at least 12 hours, preferably 24. When it is dry, sand lightly and proceed to the next step.

THE THIRD phase of antiquing is applying the toner. Stir the toner thoroughly with a wooden paddle and read the label instructions carefully. Apply a thin coat of toner the same way you applied the undercoating. Use a wide, flat brush and apply it with long, smooth strokes.

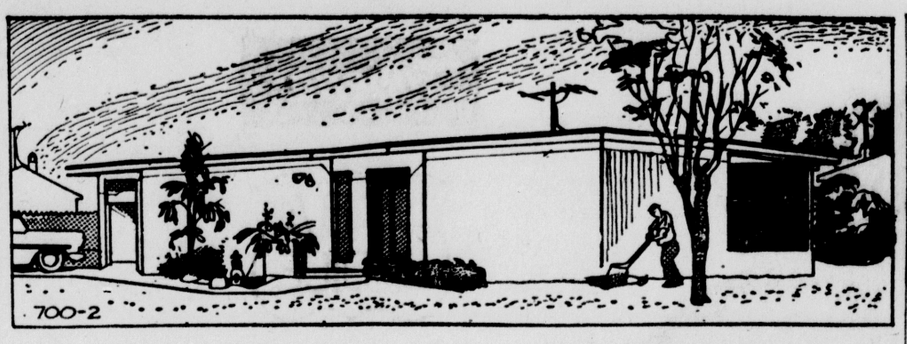
It's wise to paint carved trim and crevices first so that they will absorb more of the toner. This will add highlights to the piece. Let the toner set for 10 to 30 minutes before beginning to rub.

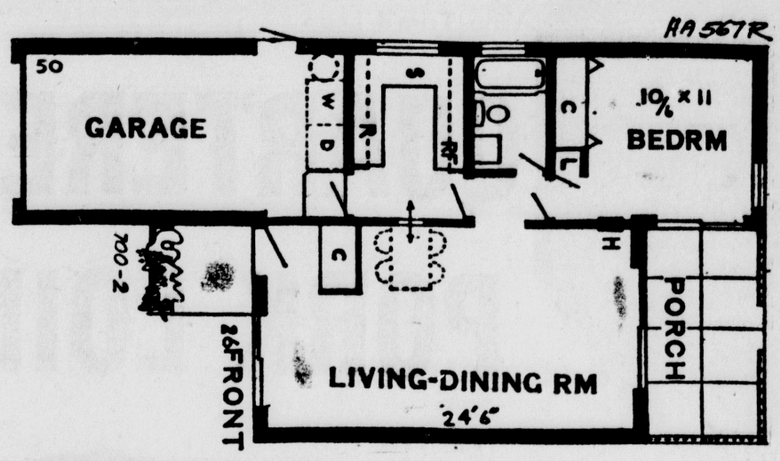
Rubbing is an art. Just use your imagination to find the right medium. It can be cheese cloth, a dry brush or steel wool. For crevices and carving, rub with a cotton tip. Rub large, flat areas in long, even strokes. Begin with a light touch and apply more pressure as you go along.

Experiment a bit. If you find the toner is too dry, dampen your cloth with mineral spirits. If rubbing shows that the toner hasn't set long enough, then simply apply another coat of toner and wait a little longer.

When you've finished rubbing, let the paint dry completely. This will usually take 24 hours. You may then apply a coat of clear varnish if you like. Or wait a week and wax the surface.

With instant age in antiquing kits, you can have an antiqued piece in your home in a matter of hours and soon enjoy the mellowness of beautifully painted wood.





THIS FLORIDA RETIREMENT HOME can be built on a 38-foot lot. Its size is 26 by 50 and it has 700 square feet of living space. There are no major windows facing nearby neighbors: the only windows facing the sides are from the kitchen and the bathroom. The living room window is recessed from the street. For plumbing economy, the U-shape kitchen is centered between the bathroom and the washer, dryer and water heater. There is a pass-through window between the kitchen and the dining alcove. The bedroom has a large closet and the entryway closet forms an alcove there. The screened porch is accessible from both the bedroom and the living room. Architect for Plan HA567R is Jan Reiner, 1000 52nd St. North, St. Petersburg, Fla. 33710.

Windows Can Get Stuck From Paint Or Moisture

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

When a window balks a bit every time it is raised or lowered, applying a lubricant to the edges of the sash and siding areas may keep it in operating condition.

But when the window won't budge at all, the problem is a little more difficult to solve. Unfortunately, too many persons think a screwdriver is the answer.

The blade of the screwdriver is inserted between the window sash and the beading and held there with one hand while the top of the tool is hit with a hammer.

IF THIS is done vigorously, and if the screwdriver blade is moved to several different positions, the procedure brings results.

At which point, the wielder of the screwdriver and hammer congratulates himself (or herself) on achieving his objective: getting the window open. But what always happens is that all kinds of gouges and other conspicuous marks remain as testimony of the method used.

Most of the time, when a window is stuck so that it won't move even an inch, it's because hardened paint is bonding the sash to the beading or channel into which the sash is set. The solution is to break that bond—but not with a screwdriver blade.

Instead, use a putty knife, held as flat as possible against the sash, or a tool made especially for such a purpose. Most hardware stores carry it, but you'll find a putty knife effective.

Sometimes the window will come loose when the paint seal is brokn at one or two points. But usually it is necessary, working very carefully and slowly, to move the knife entirely around the window sash.

IT IS also possible, when the condition is not very severe, to thump the sash with your hands to dislodge the paint. But this is a calculated risk because of the possibility of loosening or cracking the pane.

The lesson for the future is: when painting a window, be a little less careless in applying the paint and be a little more careful in seeing that the paint is not permitted to harden in the sliding channel.

While hardened paint is the chief offender, there are occasional times when an inspection of the sash will disclose that this is not the cause of the stuck window. In that case, it is probably that the sash has absorbed moisture and expanded.

A return to dry conditions may make the window work again, but if it must be opened at once, the sash will have to be taken out of the frame and sanded at the points where it has been sticking.

This is not child's play and should not be attempted unless you have some idea of what you are doing.

Getting back to that lubricant, once the window has been restored to working order, an application of it to the sliding parts a couple of times a year will help to avoid future trouble.

Sound Advice Is Given On A Slippery Matter

AP Newsfeatures

Soap is all right in its place, but its place is not along the sliding parts of a bureau drawer.

Wetting a cake of soap and then rubbing it on the slides is a common way of getting a drawer to move easily. Funny part is, it often works. But it also puts moisture into the wood. And this is what may have caused the trouble in the first place.

It is rare indeed when the sides and bottoms of bureau drawers are finished properly, if at all. The result is that, after a period of time, an excessive amount of moisture finds its way into the wood and causes it to swell and warp. If the warpage is not severe, the drawer may be made to move again by rubbing its edges and the slides with soap.

It will just be a question of time, however, before the problem presents itself again, and it probably will be a lot more difficult to solve than the first time.

THE PROPER lubricant is paraffin or one of the other products made especially for use on wood. But this won't work if the drawer is severely warped. In that event, sandpaper both the drawer edges and the slides, then use the lubricant.

The proper procedure is to sand a little, test, sand a little, test, etc. The frequent tests are necessary to be sure that too much wood isn't taken off. Sealing the wood with a coat of shellac, especially the parts that have been exposed by the sanding, is a step that will prevent the future entry of moisture.

Putting a space heater or a dehumidifier in the room near the bureau often will shrink the wood within a few hours or, at the most, a day, permitting the drawer to operate properly again. Here, again, sealing is neceseary to prevent later trouble.

THE application of heat, by the way, is sometimes used to loosen a drawer that gets stuck after being opened part of the way. This is done with an electric bulb, which is placed in the opening until it shrinks the wood. But it must be done very carefully so that the bulb doesn't touch anything that might easily ignite.

When a drawer refuses to open because it is being blocked by an object or simply because it is overloaded, remove the drawer above it to see whether the offending item can be dislodged. If not — or if it is a top drawer—it may be necessary to remove the back of the bureau.

This is not as difficult as it might seem, because the back usually is attached only with small nails or screws. In some cases, however, the rear of the bureau is so well attached that taking it off is a major project that should be attempted only by someone with carpentry experience.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Husband Hates Perfume

DEAR HELOISE: My husband is a "perfume hater." The only way I could please him was to eliminate it completely from my make-up routine.

Heloise

But I've finally found a solution. . .

I simply use some of his after-shave lotion (which he doesn't find objectionable). It isn't strong, heavy or sweet smelling, but rather fresh and clean.

He hasn't once turned up his sensitive nose and I have the satisfaction of feeling a little more feminine.

MRS. L. M. H.

There's more than one way to SHAVE a cat and it looks to me like you've found a great answer!

Some of the new citrus lotions for men would be especially nice in hot weather.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I have a wooden step at the front door and the back door.

Before entering either door, one MUST step on this landing. Needless to say, these steps always looked dirty and shabby no matter how often they were painted.

Then I covered them with adhesive-back paper in a brick pattern.

Now the mud and dirt from everyone's shoes doesn't even show and all I ever have to do to keep them looking clean is to wipe them with a damp sponge.

MRS. NEIL RAFFEL.

DEAR HELOISE: In making a Boston cream pie, or filling a single cake layer that is very moist and tender, simply run a sharp knife through the cake to split it in layers.

Then, to remove the top half of the layer to fill it and at the same time avoid breaking it, slide a clean cake rack through the split layer and the top will remain on the rack!

MRS. WALTER WALKER.

DEAR HELOISE: At times I don't have as much energy as I should, so I just tell my family that I think the iron in my blood is rusting!

MRS. R. DAVIS.

DEAR HELOISE: Recently when I wanted to use some maple syrup out of a can, I wondered how to pour it out without losing any or messing up the top.

I thought of using my baster and it absolutely worked perfectly.

A READER.

DEAR HELOISE: Something we do that the children enjoy is to let them provide the table centerpiece.

Our girl is in kindergarten and the oldest boy in a preschool group, so we have many interesting objects.

Right now we have an imitation Christmas candle (the four-year-old) on the table surrounded by Easter rabbits (the six-year-old) and hanging over it is a paper star mobile.

We might not make this season's Good Housekeeping, but it's fun and gives the children a feeling of pride to contribute to the dinner hour this way.

Out of season we know, but all Mothers love it.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: If you have an old clothes hamper that you hide because its paint is chipped, why not repaint it with a can of spray paint. Great for the woven hampers!

I used automotive paint because the cans are large and there is a wide range of colors.

Then I just covered the hamper lid with adhesive-backed plastic to make it more attractive. But the lid can be sprayed, too.

LINDA BUETTNER.

This column is written for you . . . the housewife and homemaker. If you have a hint or a problem write to Heloise in care of this newspaper. Because of the tremendous volume of mail, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will, however, answer your questions in her column whenever possible.

ANN LANDERS

'Checkup' Not Necessary

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I'm about 15 pounds overweight and have tried all sorts of diets which didn't work.

A friend of mine told me about some reducing pills which did wonders for her. I got a few pills for myself and took them to my doctor. He said they probably would not help me but they wouldn't hurt me and if I wanted to take them I could.

Well, Ann, the pills are doing the trick and I'm thrilled. My only problem is teh druggist. He refuses to give me more than 10 pills at a time. He insists I come in every four days so he can check my muscle tone. He takes me back in the stock room and feels all over and then says, "Yes, your musculature is fine. No breakdown of tissue."

If my husband knew about this he'd knock the guy's block off. I don't know whether or not to say anything because it may be that he is behaving in a professional manner and means nothing personal.

Please tell me what you know about this. — MINUS TEN.

Dear Minus: I know that a druggist is supposed to fill prescriptions, not massage the customers. Get your physician to recommend some exercises fr you and let HIM check your "musculature" periodically.

Daughters' Edict

Dear Ann: My husband and I have four daughters, 10, 12, 14 and 15. Ted works 25 miles from home. For the last two years he's been wanting to move across the bay. He says the added time and energy would result in better commissions. Also he's dead tired when he gets home and complains more and more about the heavy traffic and the exhausting drive.

Whenever he brings up the subject the girls cry. They don't want to leave their lifelong friends. The oldest one is going steady. We keep reading articles about traumatic changes hurting children. The last thing our 15-year-old said was, "Money isn't everything."

Will you please give us some balanced counsel? Our kids have made us feel like morons. — SAN FRANCISCO.

Dear San: Show me a family run by children and I'll show you a couple of cowards. If in your husband's judgment he'd do better on the other side of the bay, he should tell the girls to start packing. They might love it. There are boys in Oakland, too, you know.

Penny-Wise

Dear Ann: When you pay for an article and the change is under 5 cents, should you stand around and wait? I've asked several friends and they are as bewildered as I.

It's a comfort (but no help) to know that others feel folish, too — waiting for 2 or 3 cents. Yet they are reluctant to leave because they're afraid the clerk will be insulted. Yes or no? — NO PENNY COLLECTOR.

Dear No: By all means wait. Offhand I can think of two good reasons: 1. If you don't wait you'll louse up the bookkeeper's balancing act. 2. If you DO wait you'll have some pennies in your pocket for your next purchase.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

President Of Drake To Speak At Wooster

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP) — The President of Drake University, Dr. Paul Frederick Sharp, will deliver the inaugural address Friday for the College of Wooster's eighth President, Dr. J. Garber Drushal.

Dr. Sharp served as chancellor of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and as President of Hiram College before going to the Des Moines, Iowa, school in 1966.

Man Dies Of Burns

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Douglas Walkenshaw, 77, a patient at Dayton's St. Elizabeth Hospital for some time, died early Sunday of burns received Saturday when his chair caught fire in his hospital room.

Officials said the fire, confined to one room, was caused by Walkenshaw's falling asleep while smoking.

Tribal Vernacular

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Heart transplant surgeon Prof. Christiaan Barnard is known as "wavusa inhlizyo" among Zulu tribesmen. It is tribal vernacular for "he who wakens the heart."

State Patrol Dispatcher's Shot At Xenia

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—Highway patrolmen from Wilmington, Lebanon, Springfield, Xenia and Dayton searched today for the person or persons who shot a 35-year-old woman dispatcher at the Patrol's Xenia post.

An intensive investigation into the early morning shooting is headed by Major A. G. Reiss, south zone commander, and Captain Dwight Carey, district commander.

Maj. Reiss said that Mrs. Janet Thompson was hit in the forehead just after midnight by bullets sprayed from a passing automobile.

Another woman dispatcher, Mrs. Ann Burden, 31, was also struck in the head by either a bullet fragment or flying glass.

Maj. Reiss said also that a patrol cruiser parked in front of the post was hit by two bullets.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Husband Hates Perfume

DEAR HELOISE: My husband is a "perfume hater." The only way I could please him was to eliminate it completely from my make-up routine.

Heloise

But I've finally found a solution. . .

I simply use some of his after-shave lotion (which he doesn't find objectionable). It isn't strong, heavy or sweet smelling, but rather fresh and clean.

He hasn't once turned up his sensitive nose and I have the satisfaction of feeling a little more feminine.

MRS. L. M. H.

There's more than one way to SHAVE a cat and it looks to me like you've found a great answer!

Some of the new citrus lotions for men would be especially nice in hot weather.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I have a wooden step at the front door and the back door.

Before entering either door, one MUST step on this landing. Needless to say, these steps always looked dirty and shabby no matter how often they were painted.

Then I covered them with adhesive-back paper in a brick pattern.

Now the mud and dirt from everyone's shoes doesn't even show and all I ever have to do to keep them looking clean is to wipe them with a damp sponge.

MRS. NEIL RAFFEL.

DEAR HELOISE: In making a Boston cream pie, or filling a single cake layer that is very moist and tender, simply run a sharp knife through the cake to split it in layers.

Then, to remove the top half of the layer to fill it and at the same time avoid breaking it, slide a clean cake rack through the split layer and the top will remain on the rack!

MRS. WALTER WALKER.

DEAR HELOISE: At times I don't have as much energy as I should, so I just tell my family that I think the iron in my blood is rusting!

MRS. R. DAVIS.

DEAR HELOISE: Recently when I wanted to use some maple syrup out of a can, I wondered how to pour it out without losing any or messing up the top.

I thought of using my baster and it absolutely worked perfectly.

A READER.

DEAR HELOISE: Something we do that the children enjoy is to let them provide the table centerpiece.

Our girl is in kindergarten and the oldest boy in a preschool group, so we have many interesting objects.

Right now we have an imitation Christmas candle (the four-year-old) on the table surrounded by Easter rabbits (the six-year-old) and hanging over it is a paper star mobile.

We might not make this season's Good Housekeeping, but it's fun and gives the children a feeling of pride to contribute to the dinner hour this way.

Out of season we know, but all Mothers love it.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: If you have an old clothes hamper that you hide because its paint is chipped, why not repaint it with a can of spray paint. Great for the woven hampers!

I used automotive paint because the cans are large and there is a wide range of colors.

Then I just covered the hamper lid with adhesive-backed plastic to make it more attractive. But the lid can be sprayed, too.

LINDA BUETTNER.

ANN LANDERS

'Checkup' Not Necessary

Dear Ann Landers: I'm about 15 pounds overweight and have tried all sorts of diets which didn't work.

A friend of mine told me about some reducing pills which did wonders for her. I got a few pills for myself and took them to my doctor. He said they probably would not help me but they wouldn't hurt me and if I wanted to take them I could.

Well, Ann, the pills are doing the trick and I'm thrilled. My only problem is teh druggist. He refuses to give me more than 10 pills at a time. He insists I come in every four days so he can check my muscle tone. He takes me back in the stock room and feels all over and then says, "Yes, your musculature is fine. No breakdown of tissue."

If my husband knew about this he'd knock the guy's block off. I don't know whether or not to say anything because it may be that he is behaving in a professional manner and means nothing personal.

Please tell me what you know about this. — MINUS TEN.

Dear Minus: I know that a druggist is supposed to fill prescriptions, not massage the customers. Get your physician to recommend some exercises fr you and let HIM check your "musculature" periodically.

Daughters' Edict

Dear Ann: My husband and I have four daughters, 10, 12, 14 and 15. Ted works 25 miles from home. For the last two years he's been wanting to move across the bay. He says the added time and energy would result in better commissions. Also he's dead tired when he gets home and complains more and more about the heavy traffic and the exhausting drive.

Whenever he brings up the subject the girls cry. They don't want to leave their lifelong friends. The oldest one is going steady. We keep reading articles about traumatic changes hurting children. The last thing our 15-year-old said was, "Money isn't everything."

By Ann Landers

Will you please give us some balanced counsel? Our kids have made us feel like morons. — SAN FRANCISCO.

Dear San: Show me a family run by children and I'll show you a couple of cowards. If in your husband's judgment he'd do better on the other side of the bay, he should tell the girls to start packing. They might love it. There are boys in Oakland, too, you know.

Penny-Wise

Dear Ann: When you pay for an article and the change is under 5 cents, should you stand around and wait? I've asked several friends and they are as bewildered as I.

It's a comfort (but no help) to know that others feel folish, too — waiting for 2 or 3 cents. Yet they are reluctant to leave because they're afraid the clerk will be insulted. Yes or no? — NO PENNY COLLECTOR.

Dear No: By all means wait. Offhand I can think of two good reasons: 1. If you don't wait you'll louse up the bookkeeper's balancing act. 2. If you DO wait you'll have some pennies in your pocket for your next purchase.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, seif-addressed envelope.

State Patrol Dispatcher's Shot At Xenia

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—Highway patrolmen from Wilmington, Lebanon, Springfield, Xenia and Dayton searched today for the person or persons who shot a 35-year-old woman dispatcher at the Patrol's Xenia post.

An intensive investigation into the early morning shooting is headed by Major A. G. Reiss, south zone commander, and Captain Dwight Carey, district commander.

Maj. Reiss said that Mrs. Janet Thompson was hit in the forehead just after midnight by bullets sprayed from a passing automobile.

Mrs. Thompson was taken to Greene Memorial Hospital where the bullet was removed.

Another woman dispatcher, Mrs. Ann Burden, 31, was also struck in the head by either a bullet fragment or flying glass.

Maj. Reiss said also that a patrol cruiser parked in front of the post was hit by two bullets.

He said that Corporal Wheeler, the only officer on duty at the post, had returned the fire.

President Of Drake To Speak At Wooster

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP) — The President of Drake University, Dr. Paul Frederick Sharp, will deliver the inaugural address Friday for the College of Wooster's eighth President, Dr. J. Garber Drushal.

Dr. Sharp served as chancellor of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and as President of Hiram College before going to the Des Moines, Iowa, school in 1966.

Man Dies Of Burns

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Douglas Walkenshaw, 77, a patient at Dayton's St. Elizabeth Hospital for some time, died early Sunday of burns received Saturday when his chair caught fire in his hospital room.

Officials said the fire, confined to one room, was caused by Walkenshaw's falling asleep while smoking.

'All Wrong,' Wallace Says Of Times Poll

WASHINGTON (AP) — George C. Wallace says a poll showing that he could finish second to Richard M. Nixon for president is wrong—he is going to finish first.

Wallace, in Washington for speeches today at a meeting of United Press International editors and the National Press Club, disputed a New York Times survey that said Wallace was running a distant second to Nixon but ahead of Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey.

Election requires 270 electoral votes.

Wallace's campaign managers say the former Alabama governor's popularity has taken a sharp rise partly because of what they call a perfectly timed announcement that former Air Force Chief of Staff Curtis E. LeMay would be his running mate.

The announcement came last Thursday when the news corps accompanying the candidate had suddenly tripled in size. He had to charter two additional prop-jet airliners to accommodate them.

Aides say letters from supporters, many enclosing contributions and praising his choice of LeMay, have increased to about 15,000 daily at this Montgomery, Ala., headquarters.

The announcement of a running mate added a new national tone and legitimacy to Wallace's campaign, his managers say, and LeMay has brought with him a new issue—nuclear weapons.

India's Premier Also Has 'Dead' Telephone

Even the phones in the homes of Prime Minister Indira Gandhi and Home Minister Y. B. Chavan were "dead" for two hours because of a local breakdown one night, an announcement said.

Personalities In The News

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sid Simmons, the makeup man who prepared Richard M. Nixon for his second television debate with John F. Kennedy in 1960, is now working for Hubert H. Humphrey.

Television makes such precautions necessary, as Nixon found out after his first debate with Kennedy. Viewers thought Nixon looked pallid for that one, so he has used makeup ever since.

MONTREAL (AP) — Princess Christina of the Netherlands arrived from Amsterdam Sunday to begin training as a professional singer.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Actress Jill Ireland and actor Charles Bronson begin married life with five children in a 30-room mansion in nearby Bel Air.

The couple was married Saturday in a civil ceremony in Santa Monica. It was the second marriage for each. Miss Ireland, 28, and her first husband, actor David McCallum, have three children. Bronson has two.

LONDON (AP) — Former King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia arrived with 40 relatives and wives on a chartered plane Sunday night.

It took 30 autos to bring the king and his retinue into the city, where he will undergo a knee operation.

STUDIO CITY, Calif. (AP) — In the few hours between a farewell party and Warrene Ott's scheduled departure for the Middle East, the young actress and her family were robbed of $250,000 worth of jewelry and cash.

Miss Ott's father, retired Navy Cmdr. William Ott, said the family discovered the loss early Sunday after the party.

Ohio Traffic Toll Hits 25 On Weekend

By The Associated Press

Several multiple-fatality accidents around the state this week end added to another high traffic death toll.

When the 54-hour weekend period ended at midnight, 25 persons had lost their lives in traffic.

Three Muncie, Ind., men were killed early Saturday in a one-car crash near Greenville. About a dozen persons died in the first 24 hours of the period, which began at 6 p.m. Friday.

Deaths since Saturday afternoon:

Ollie C. Davis, 18, and Roger D. Harris, 23, both of Buckeye Lake, when their car left Ohio 360 in Fairfield County and struck a utility pole.

Clifford Brinegar, 41, Hamilton, in a two-car crash on Ohio 128 in Butler County.

Judy Bell 6, Alliance, when she fell off a tractor on Ohio 225 north of Alliance and was run over by an oncoming car.

Sunday

David Ruble, 17, West Salem, from injuries sustained in a one-car collision with a tree on state route 539, about one mile south of Congress, Friday evening.

John Guthrie, 43, and his wife Mildred, 49, Williamsburg, Clermont County, when their auto was struck by a Norfolk & Western freight train at a rural crossing near Williamsburg.

Michael LePosky, 20, Wickliffe, died in Euclid General Hospital of injuries received Saturday when the car in which he was riding slammed into a pole in Cleveland.

Ruth McBride, 65, Cambridge, died of injuries received Saturday when the car in which she was riding crashed on U.S. 22 5½ miles south of Zanesville.

LBJ Appears Restive About His Self Exile

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, on the inside looking out at the 1968 presidential race, insists he has not the slightest regret about his self-exile from the campaign.

Underneath, however, he's a bit restive. After 30-plus years in public life, much of it on a high level, it isn't easy to retire to relative obscurity.

As Johnson sees it, his historic decision of March 31 not to seek re-election may have been his only means of keeping the nation whole.

Johnson definitely misses active campaigning this year but has no plans to become a stump speaker for vice president Hubert H. Humphrey, who has his endorsement.

The President is reserving the option, however, to do some limited campaigning.

The President, looking back on nearly five years in the White House, expressed his greatest pride in his foreign policy record—precisely the area that has brought him the greatest measure of criticism both at home and abroad.

He likes to point out that, during his tenure, Communist countries did not succeed in altering a single boundary or engulfing any new territory. As he stated the case at one recent private meeting:

"The Communists have not made a gain—and they've got lots of trouble."

By Johnson's standards, the United States already has achieved a military victory in Vietnam. He bases this on the fact that the enemy there seems to have no hope of winning militarily—a sharp change from the situation of 3½ years ago.

The chief executive also expresses pride in his 1965 decision to send the Marines and Army paratroopers into the volt-wracked Dominican Republic—another controversial move. In his own words, an expressed repeatedly to small groups:

"My judgment is that when history is written, you'll see that we prevented another Cuba."

Only British soil occupied by German troops in World War II was the Channel Islands, off the northwest coast of France.

India's Premier Also Has 'Dead' Telephone

Even the phones in the homes of Prime Minister Indira Gandhi and Home Minister Y. B. Chavan were "dead" for two hours because of a local breakdown one night, an announcement said.

Personalities In The News

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sid Simmons, the makeup man who prepared Richard M. Nixon for his second television debate with John F. Kennedy in 1960, is now working for Hubert H. Humphrey.

Television makes such precautions necessary, as Nixon found out after his first debate with Kennedy. Viewers thought Nixon looked pallid for that one, so he has used makeup ever since.

MONTREAL (AP) — Princess Christina of the Netherlands arrived from Amsterdam Sunday to begin training as a professional singer.

The 21-year-old princess has already passed the tough admission examination of the Institute Superieure de la Musique Vincent d-Indy.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Actress Jill Ireland and actor Charles Bronson begin married life with five children in a 30-room mansion in nearby Bel Air.

The couple was married Saturday in a civil ceremony in Santa Monica. It was the second marriage for each. Miss Ireland, 28, and her first husband, actor David McCallum, have three children. Bronson has two.

LONDON (AP) — Former King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia arrived with 40 relatives and wives on a chartered plane Sunday night.

It took 30 autos to bring the king and his retinue into the city, where he will undergo a knee operation.

STUDIO CITY, Calif. (AP) — In the few hours between a farewell party and Warrene Ott's scheduled departure for the Middle East, the young actress and her family were robbed of $250,000 worth of jewelry and cash.

Miss Ott's father, retired Navy Cmdr. William Ott, said the family discovered the loss early Sunday after the party.

Ohio Traffic Toll Hits 25 On Weekend

By The Associated Press

Several multiple-fatality accidents around the state this week end added to another high traffic death toll.

When the 54-hour weekend period ended at midnight, 25 persons had lost their lives in traffic.

Three Muncie, Ind., men were killed early Saturday in a one-car crash near Greenville. About a dozen persons died in the first 24 hours of the period, which began at 6 p.m. Friday.

Deaths since Saturday afternoon:

Ollie C. Davis, 18, and Roger D. Harris, 23, both of Buckeye Lake, when their car left Ohio 360 in Fairfield County and struck a utility pole.

Clifford Brinegar, 41, Hamilton, in a two-car crash on Ohio 128 in Butler County.

Judy Bell 6, Alliance, when she fell off a tractor on Ohio 225 north of Alliance and was run over by an oncoming car.

Sunday

David Ruble, 17, West Salem, from injuries sustained in a one-car collision with a tree on state route 539, about one mile south of Congress, Friday evening.

John Guthrie, 43, and his wife Mildred, 49, Williamsburg, Clermont County, when their auto was struck by a Norfolk & Western freight train at a rural crossing near Williamsburg.

Michael LePosky, 20, Wickliffe, died in Euclid General Hospital of injuries received Saturday when the car in which he was riding slammed into a pole in Cleveland.

Ruth McBride, 65, Cambridge, died of injuries received Saturday when the car in which she was riding crashed on U.S. 22 5½ miles south of Zanesville.

LBJ Appears Restive About His Self Exile

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, on the inside looking out at the 1968 presidential race, insists he has not the slightest regret about his self-exile from the campaign.

Underneath, however, he's a bit restive. After 30-plus years in public life, much of it on a high level, it isn't easy to retire to relative obscurity.

As Johnson sees it, his historic decision of March 31 not to seek re-election may have been his only means of keeping the nation whole.

Johnson definitely misses active campaigning this year but has no plans to become a stump speaker for vice president Hubert H. Humphrey, who has his endorsement.

The President is reserving the option, however, to do some limited campaigning.

The President, looking back on nearly five years in the White House, expressed his greatest pride in his foreign policy record—precisely the area that has brought him the greatest measure of criticism both at home and abroad.

He likes to point out that, during his tenure, Communist countries did not succeed in altering a single boundary or engulfing any new territory. As he stated the case at one recent private meeting:

"The Communists have not made a gain—and they've got lots of trouble."

By Johnson's standards, the United States already has achieved a military victory in Vietnam. He bases this on the fact that the enemy there seems to have no hope of winning militarily—a sharp change from the situation of 3½ years ago.

The chief executive also expresses pride in his 1965 decision to send the Marines and Army paratroopers into the volt-wracked Dominican Republic—another controversial move. In his own words, an expressed repeatedly to small groups:

"My judgment is that when history is written, you'll see that we prevented another Cuba."

Only British soil occupied by German troops in World War II was the Channel Islands, off the northwest coast of France.

in accordance with the Plans and Specifications prepared by Robert F. Beatty, Architect, 403 Potters Savings and Loan Building, East Liverpool, Ohio and on file in the Office of the Clerk of the Board of County Commissioners of Columbiana County, Court House, Lisbon Columbiana County, Ohio.

One set of plans and specifications and proposal blanks, together with any further information desired, may be secured from the Office of the Architect upon deposit of a check in the amount of $15.00 made payable to the Architect.

Upon receipt of a request, accompanied by a deposit as named above, the Architect will forward copies of bidding documents as named in the preceeding paragraph "SHIPPING CHARGES COLLECT".

Deposit will be refunded upon the return of plans and specifications in good condition, and with postage or express charges prepaid, within ten (10) days after the date the bids are opened. Deposit will not be refunded upon return of documents at a later date.

Each bid shall be accompanied by a Bid Bond in an amount equal to the total sum of the Proposal including all Add Alternates, supported by a Power of Attorney for the bonding agent, a certificate from the Department of Insurance authorizing the Surety Company to do Surety Business in the State of Ohio, and a current financial statement of the Surety Company. The Bid Bond will be retained by Architect's office for thirty days after the opening of bids. All Bid Bonds (with the exception of Bid Bonds of the successful Bidders) will be destroyed after thirty days unless Contractor requests Architect to return his Bid Bond prior to expiration of the thirty day period following Bid Opening.

A Proposal shall be invalid and not considered unless a Bond with sufficient sureties, in a sum equal to one hundred percent (100 percent) of the total sum of the Proposal including all Add Alternates, is filed with such Proposal, nor unless such Proposal and Bond are filed in one sealed envelope.

Bids are to be sealed and addressed to the "Clerk of the Board of County Commissioners of Columbiana County, Columbiana County Court House, Lisbon, Ohio", and plainly marked on the outside of the envelope:

"Bids for the Robert Bycroft School for the Retarded"

The Board of County Commissioners of Columbiana County reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Junior Editors Quiz on POLICE

QUESTION: How did police come into being?

ANSWER: In the 800's, in Anglo-Saxon England, authorities began to organize people for military purposes. Each 10 families was called a tithing, and had a tithing man in charge. Ten such tithings were 100; the man in charge a reeve. Several hundreds made up a county, or shire. The county boss was the shire reeve, and this became shortened to sheriff, a word we still use. This whole system later became adopted for police rather than military purposes, with the idea of protecting the citizens and upholding law and order. At first, such police were not paid. In 1829, a group of paid policemen was organized in London by Sir Robert Peel — they were soon called "bobbies" after Peel's first name. The first American police were citizens who served without pay, but with the rise of cities, paid police groups were soon organized. The little policeman toy shows the change. With his beard, necktie and plain hat he looks like a civilian, but his buttons, badge and nightstick show him to be a real cop, a word which is said to have come from the early copper star policemen wore.

Junior Editors Quiz on POLICE

QUESTION: How did police come into being?

ANSWER: In the 800's, in Anglo-Saxon England, authorities began to organize people for military purposes. Each 10 families was called a tithing, and had a tithing man in charge. Ten such tithings were 100; the man in charge a reeve. Several hundreds made up a county, or shire. The county boss was the shire reeve, and this became shortened to sheriff, a word we still use. This whole system later became adopted for police rather than military purposes, with the idea of protecting the citizens and upholding law and order. At first, such police were not paid. In 1829, a group of paid policemen was organized in London by Sir Robert Peel — they were soon called "bobbies" after Peel's first name. The first American police were citizens who served without pay, but with the rise of cities, paid police groups were soon organized. The little policeman toy shows the change. With his beard, necktie and plain hat he looks like a civilian, but his buttons, badge and nightstick show him to be a real cop, a word which is said to have come from the early copper star policemen wore.
